A SPLENDID TRIBUTE

Paid to the Memory of Lieut. David E. Putnam

One of the most impressive services ever held in this city was that on Sunday afternoon at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church in commemoration of the heroic life of Lieut. David Endicott Putnam, who was recently killed in France.

The Church was completely filled with his many friends and his memory was honored by the presence of United States Senator John W. Weeks, the next Governor of Massachusetts, Hon. Calvin Coolidge, Mayor Edwin O. Childs of this city, and four clergymen. On the chancel was a magnificent basket of palms and cypresses, a mute but beautiful tribute sent by his associates in France.

There was a noticeable absence of mourning, the whole tone of the service being one of triumph, immortal life, and which was greatly desired by Lieutenant Putnam's family.

Those taking part in the exercises besides the speakers mentioned were Rev. Dr. George T. Smart, pastor of the Church, Rev. George W. Jones of Cline Memorial Church, Rev. Louis A. Parsons, rector of St. Paul's, and Rev. Dr. Charles H. Cutler of the Union Church at Waban.

Mrs. David Beyer of Boston sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

Rev. Dr. Smart spoke as follows:

"There is a kind of Homeric simplicity about the life of David Endicott Putnam which needs no rhetoric to make evident its personal beauty and its public worth. He was a beautiful youth, formed and proportionate as a Greek statue, with the smile also that we find on the ancient masterpieces. His mind was as alert as any mind could be, or he could not have attained the place he did in a profession calling for the highest pitch of intensity. And his soul—well, we are to look reverently at that for a moment or two.

DEATH OF EDWARD A. WIGHT

Cadet Edward Augustus Wight of Beacon street, Newton Centre, died October 24, at the Army Balloon School at Fort Omaha, Neb., of pneumonia. He was 28 years old, and a native of Roxbury, and had always lived in this neighborhood. He was a draftsman and mining engineer, and was engineer for coal mines in Pennsylvania, and copper mines in Mexico and Chile, and was in Mexico at the time of the Revolution, standing siege for a time on the Company property. After being with the Panama canal administration, he entered the aviation service and was transferred to balloon work. He is survived by three sisters, Misses Ethel P. and Dorothy Wight and Mrs. Marion L. Dunnell of Newton Centre, and a brother, Ralph E. Wight of the 101st Engineers, who was recently gassed in France. Services were held in Newton Cemetery Chapel, Monday.

THE AMENDMENTS

Delegate Guy M. Winslow Urges Voters to Pass on Merits of the Question

The Editor of the Graphic:—My good friend and neighbor, Mr. R. L. Bridgman, advocates that we vote "NO" on all the amendments. This is a thoroughgoing method and if followed by a majority of the voters would certainly dispose to his entire satisfaction of the biennials which he very much dislikes.

This plan reminds one of the theory of the German general in Belgium. He said: "It is better to shoot twenty innocent men than to let one spy escape."

In his address of August 21, delivered before the delegates at the close of the 1918 session of the Convention, a copy of which has been sent to every voter, President John L. Bates has suggested a far better method of procedure. His hint to the voters seems to be "Vote YES" on the fifteen amendments adopted by the Convention by a substantial majority; exercise your judgment upon the four which were decided by a narrow margin of votes after much debate."

One of the first acts of the Convention was to provide that each amendment submitted to the voters should be voted upon by itself so that each might stand on its own merits. It would be very unfortunate if the desire to defeat one or a few amendments were to prevent the adoption of the fifteen amendments approved by a large majority of the delegates after hearing all the arguments.

The third amendment authorizing the regulation and restriction by law of advertising in public places is of particular interest to Newton. Its adoption was asked by the board of aldermen, and it was supported by all the Newton delegates. Mr. Richardson especially contributed to the adoption of this amendment by the Convention. It is one of the fifteen amendments which certainly ought to pass.

The four amendments deserving particular study are No. 1, the Initiative and Referendum; No. 2, Public Interest in Natural Resources; No. 14, Compulsory Voting at Elections; and No. 17, Biennial Elections.

The Convention debates on the Initiative and Referendum make a volume of 1086 pages. It is fundamental in character, and deserves the careful study of every voter. In general it will be favored by those of progressive tendencies and opposed by conservative, but there are abundant reasons for all shades of opinion upon this measure. I was favorably disposed toward the amendment at the beginning of the Convention and, after hearing all of the arguments presented, still believe that even Massachusetts would benefit by the possession of this direct control of legislation on the part of the voters. It appears to me to be a conservative supplement to representative government.

The second amendment grants to the General Court new and broad powers for the conservation, development, utilization and control of important natural resources of the Commonwealth. Here again is a question of fundamental character and great importance upon which widely diver-

DEMOCRAT vs. DEMOCRAT

In reply to the unsubstantiated charges (?) of Walsh and the mouthings of Lawson we print the following statement made in the United States Senate on June 13, 1918 by Senator Martin of Virginia, Democratic leader in the Senate—

"Senator Weeks in his service in this body has established a reputation that cannot be broken down by irresponsible newspaper statements or statements of any kind. His personal and his official integrity are beyond reproach, and I know nothing could be done that I would not do in vindicating him from any attack that might be made upon his personal or official integrity. I do not believe there is a man in this body who is more devoted to his official work or possesses a higher integrity, personally and officially, than Senator Weeks, and I simply desire to express my opinion and bear testimony to that effect now while the matter has been alluded to in the Senate."

PATRIOTIC SERVICE

There will be a patriotic service and singing of patriotic hymns in Grace church next Sunday evening, November 3, at 7.30. The address will be given by the rector, the subject being "Yorktown and Chateau-Thierry."

gent views were held by the delegates. The superior claims of the many as against the few are restated in this amendment. Conservatives will fear it and radicals will hope much from it. Whether in this form or in some other the ends sought will eventually be reached, for the rights of the public are rapidly gaining on those of the private owner.

The Compulsory Voting amendment grants power to the General Court to provide for compulsory voting at elections.

This amendment ought to pass. Present condition are a reproach and yet without some such amendment no cure can be provided.

Voting at elections is a public duty. The General Court should have power to require its performance.

The suggestions of possible abuse of the power on the part of the General Court are highly absurd.

Most voters have definite opinions as to Biennial Elections. As our state is the sole survivor of the annual election company, it would seem that present day view favors a longer interval.

The question, while important, seems to me one of expediency rather than of principle.

In brief, I would say, "Vote YES" on all nineteen amendments, unless you have some very good reason for rejecting the decision of the Convention."

Yours truly,
GUY M. WINSLOW.

DEATH OF MARIE PALMER

Citizens of Newton were shocked to learn of the death on Tuesday at the Massachusetts General Hospital of Miss Marie Palmer, the daughter of Irving O. Palmer, principal of the Technical High School, and Mary Cushing Palmer, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Palmer was born in Marion on September 13, 1892, and came to Newton with her parents when five years old. She graduated from the Classical High School in 1911, and from Wheaton College in 1915. After a year of graduate study at Radcliffe, she taught last year with marked success in Lawrence Academy, Groton, and had begun this season as a teacher of modern languages in Monsen Academy. She enlisted last June in the National Farm and Garden Association, and spent her summer at the Hamilton Land Unit engaged in agricultural work.

Miss Palmer was a young woman of earnest, religious character—a devoted member of the Central Congregational church, Newtonville. As a student she had always shown a clear, eager, scholarly mind. Her particular joy was in the modern languages, though her love of music and the finest things in literature shone radiantly through the days of her young life.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon by Rev. Jay T. Stocking at the home of her parents, 30 Highland avenue, Newtonville.

GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB OF AUBURNDALE

The Good Government Club of Auburndale will hold a meeting in Society hall on Saturday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock.

Hon. Samuel L. Powers, Mr. R. L. Bridgman and Dr. G. M. Winslow will discuss the proposed constitutional amendments which are to be voted upon at the coming state election.

The meeting will be of special interest to voters, and the public, both of Auburndale and of neighboring villages, is invited.

"Music is a tonic, invigorating, inspiring."

THE ELECTION

National and State Officers to be Chosen Next Tuesday

The annual state election next Tuesday will be of great interest to residents of this city because United States Senator John W. Weeks of West Newton will be a candidate for re-election and Mr. Thomas Weston, Jr., also of West Newton will be a candidate for the Massachusetts Senate.

The Republican candidates for the House of Representatives are Representative Leland Powers, President Bernard Early of the Board of Aldermen, and ex-Alderman Abbott B. Rice, and they will be unopposed.

In addition the voters, in common with the entire state will cast their ballots on 19 amendments to the State Constitution.

The polls will open at 6 A. M. and close at 4.30 P. M. at the usual polling places, except that West Newton voters in precinct one will assemble at the old Second Church.

WATERS-THOMPSON MARRIAGE

Miss Mertense S. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Waltham, and Private Thomas Waters, Jr., of Camp Dix, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waters of Court street, Newtonville, took place Monday at St. Charles Church, Waltham. Nuptial mass was solemnized by Rev. T. J. Walsh. The bride wore a gown of blue tulle with georgette, and was attended by her sister, Miss Natalie S. Thompson, who was similarly dressed. Frank T. Waters, U. S. C. A., was best man. Miss Agnes Burke of Waltham played the organ, and Miss Bennett gave vocal selections.

The groom is a graduate of Newton Technical High School and is an accountant at Camp Dix. Mrs. Waters is a graduate of Waltham High School.

CONSTABULARY NIGHT

On Monday evening, December 2nd, at Players Hall, the Newtonville Women's Guild will give their annual play to entertain the soldiers studying at the Newton Technical High School.

Many of the Newton Constabulary will attend that night and help to entertain the men. Mr. Fred E. Mann will be at the piano between acts to lead the singing of war and community songs.

Immediately after the play the ladies of the Hostess House under the leadership of Mrs. W. O. Hunt will hold a reception for the men.

On Tuesday evening, December 3rd, the play will be repeated and the proceeds given to the winter hut for soldiers now being erected on Clafin Field.

SUGAR CARDS

Newton Householders to be Limited in Purchases After Today

A committee appointed by President Porter of the Newton Board of Trade, and comprised of Messrs. M. P. McKinnon, Newtonville, chairman; F. H. Franklin; George Wilson, Newton; William J. Gibson, Nonantum; J. H. Cochrane, West Newton; W. H. Brayton, Waban; B. W. Polley, Newton Highlands; F. Gasbarri, Newton Centre, and with Harold Moore as secretary, met with Mr. Alfred MacDonald, local food administrator, last Friday evening and discussed various forms of sugar cards and the application of some such plan for Newton. It was decided to call a meeting for Monday evening at which there were 163 retail grocers of the city present and who unanimously voted to adopt a sugar coupon card system for the city, effective November 1.

According to the system on or about October 31st every family in Newton must fill out a card in duplicate and sign the following pledge which appears on the card:

"I hereby certify that the number of persons in my household is as stated above, and apply for sugar coupons which will enable me to purchase sugar in accordance with the sugar rations established by the U. S. Food Administration. I understand that if I sign more than one application, or register in any other town I shall have my supply of sugar cut off or receive such other penalty as may be provided for."

The card states the number in family and the allotment to which they are entitled for the succeeding months.

Upon the surrender of this card to the grocer properly filled out he will give coupons for the amount of sugar called for on the card for the succeeding months. It will only be possible to obtain coupons for one month's allotment of sugar and it will not be necessary for persons receiving these tickets to turn them over exclusively to the grocer from whom they receive the card, but these tickets may be given to any grocer.

Out of town householders who wish to purchase sugar in Newton may fill out a card in Newton, but must buy all their sugar in Newton.

At the present time more than two pounds for each consumer of sugar in Newton is being sent to this City and is apportioned among the grocers by the Local Food Administrator. Although this amount was sent to Newton in October, on October 20th hardly a grocer had enough sugar to supply his regular trade. This, of course, means that certain persons are buying more than their allotment and obviously the only fair way of apportioning sugar and insuring that the amount saved by persons that cut down their consumption of sugar for patriotic reasons will go to the people across the water who need it, is a sugar card Alfred MacDonald, stated.

The Collection of "Slow" Telephone Accounts

THE PURPOSE OF THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is to show that it is desirable, particularly at this time, to save the time and labor that is expended in collecting bills that remain unpaid after the lapse of a reasonable period of time.

BILLS ARE DUE when rendered on the first day of each month, and while most telephone accounts are paid promptly, there are a number of "slow" accounts that require labor, time and expense that might better be devoted to other work that is more directly in the interest of the public's telephone service.

WE BELIEVE that this method of bringing the matter to the attention of the public, this frank and open discussion of our aims, is all that is necessary to secure proper understanding and co-operation.

Mr. Adams has requested the students to save tin foil and peach stones, also the short stubs of pencils which soldiers like better than full size pencils, because they can be carried easier.

Wednesday morning Rudolphus Turner and Stockbridge Spence, editor and business manager of the High School Review besought the students to support the magazine during the coming year. At first it was thought that last year's cover would have to be used again because of the expense of a new one. The staff however is up-to-date and has decided to give a dance Friday, November 8, the proceeds of which will be used for a new cover and new cuts.

Tuesday Newton really got going by beating Deans Academy 2nd 58 to 0. For the first time this year Newton's line charged together and opened good holes. Captain Nutting is out of the game with a bad knee and Herbert Garrity ran the team in fine style making one of the nine touchdowns. Dean made only one first down in the game. Before the game Coach Dickinson threatened to keep the squad at practice until seven o'clock if they didn't get at least three touchdowns. They got the touchdowns.

Newton playing Huntington this afternoon at Claffin Field. Johnson, a former Newton player, will be one of Huntington's best men in the back-field.

Clark Macomber and Francis Spaulding, former N. H. S. players, are in the S. A. T. C. at Harvard. "Bill" Doherty after a short stop at Dean Academy is now at Tufts College.

Newton has a good backfield combination in Pinkham, Owen, and R. Garrity. This is Owen's first year of football.

The Soldiers' canteen is being moved and the boys' lunch room will be open in a few days.

TWICE WOUNDED AT ARGONNE

Captain Whitney in Thick of Hard Fighting

Word has been received by Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Whitney of Copley street that their son, Capt. Wilmot Whitney, was wounded a few weeks ago during the drive of the American forces in the Argonne sector. Captain Whitney, though wounded twice, was able to write home from the hospital in Paris, and gives a vivid account of his perilous experience. They dug in on a hill at night in little two-by-four holes, and remained there all day and night. The next morning they went over the top, and had gained considerable ground when he was hit. His first wound was a flesh wound in the left arm. He then jumped for a shell hole, but was hit again, the bullet penetrating his shoulder. He took shelter in a shell hole for some time, but later was able to walk back a mile to the dressing station. After being in a field hospital two days, he was sent on to Paris, where he arrived, his only clothing being a pair of trousers.

CAPT. WILMOT WHITNEY

Captain Whitney said that Guy Emile had not have anything on them, and the French said that the American boys were wonderful and had behaved like veterans. They had gone up against the best soldiers of Germany, the Prussian Guards, and the company had made 100 prisoners. He gave a graphic description of his feelings before the charge and said the old song, "Just before the Battle, Mother" hit it about right. Captain Whitney also described the barbarities of the Huns, how they had bombarded a hospital, killing all of the 40 inmates. The Hun airplanes were over the hospital where he was, and he expected they would get a bomb, but our planes drove them off. Captain Whitney wrote the letter October 13 and hoped at that writing to be out soon.

DEATH OF LIEUT. HERRICK

First Lieutenant William F. Herrick, son of W. B. Herrick of Fern street, Auburndale, was killed September 15 in an aeroplane accident. Lieut. Herrick was graduated from the Newton High School, and attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to secure his preliminary training for the service. He went to France last November and was transferred to Foggia, Italy, where he completed his training and received his commission last May. He returned to France to qualify as a scout, and was just ready to go to the front when he was killed. He was buried in France with full military honors.

SHUBERT-WILBUR THEATRE—The following are some of the comments of the New York press on "Business before Pleasure," the great Eltinge Theatre success, which A. H. Woods will present at the Shubert-Wilbur Theatre, on Monday next, November 4, for a limited engagement: "There were so many laughs that gradually one grew tired even of the laughter. I can recall nothing that has evoked such continuous mirth in a long time."—Alan Dale, N.Y. American. "A play that contained only a small part of the humor 'Business before Pleasure' could be only a blessing to the community."—N.Y. Sun. "Business before Pleasure" is a comically funny."—N.Y. Evening World. "The piece abounds in lines so full of humor that the laughter is never still."—N.Y. Evening Telegram. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given, as well as the regular six week-day evening performances.

COPLEY THEATRE—"Officer 666," the play by Austin McHugh, which has been received with universal favor wherever acted both in this country and in England, will be given next week by the Henry Jewett Players at the Copley Theatre. It is described as a melodramatic farce, for its incidents and dialogue are an ingeniously woven combination of the humorous with the sensational. This will be the first production of "Officer 666" at the Copley, and staged under the personal direction of Henry Jewett and his company and all its sensational will be cleverly brought out in its acting. The cast will include Mr. Clive, Mr. Leslie, Mr. Wingfield, Mr. Pernain, Mr. Craske, Mr. Podmore, Mr. Weston, Miss Newcombe, Miss Viola Roach.

POLICE NOTES

A sentence of four months in the House of Correction was imposed in the local court on Winthrop P. Smith, 24, of Newton Centre, who was convicted of assault on a policeman. He appealed. Officer Joseph Whitcomb entered a store in Newton Centre Friday night to arrest Harry Haigh and Fred Abel who, it was alleged, were creating a disturbance. It was charged that Smith interfered and tried to prevent the arrests.

THE PLAYERS

The Players will present their 47th series in Players' Hall, West Newton, on the evenings of November 4, 5, 7, and 8. The offering will be a three-act comedy entitled "Cousin Kate."

EDITORIAL

One of the most important duties of the voters of this city next Tuesday is to cast an intelligent ballot on the 19 amendments to the Constitution, which have been submitted to the people by the recent Convention. There has been considerable discussion on the more important matters for some time, and it is evident, from a careful study of the matter that it is probably safe to accept the statements of leading members of that convention that 15 of the proposed amendments should receive the approval of the state. We can see but one exception to this program and that relates to the 19th amendment, fixing the number of executive departments to 20. We do not believe it is good policy to place in the constitution, something which is clearly a matter of business administration. No one knows what changes the war will bring about in government functions and we may need in the very near future, possibly 50 departments instead of 20. The Constitution, in our opinion, should contain principles and policies, and not concern itself with details.

Hon. Robert Luce also advises a negative vote on the matter of recess committees, amendment No. 18, and this also appears to be a matter which should be left to the Legislature to settle for itself.

With these exceptions, there remain four amendments on which there is certain to be a great difference of opinion, viz.,

1. The Initiative and Referendum.
2. Control of natural resources.
14. Compulsory voting.
17. Biennial elections.

The I. and R. has been so generally discussed that nearly everyone has some idea on the matter. We believe this fundamental change in the framework of our present representative government is very much for the worse. Laws can be passed under this scheme which will be drawn in the interests of the labor unions or of the great corporations, which cannot be amended by any tribunal, and in which there will be all kinds of cleverly concealed purposes. This amendment should be defeated, altho we have but little hope that it will be.

The proposed control of natural resources is said to be a long step towards socialism, altho we have a firm belief that if it is accepted we can trust our Legislature to act with wisdom and conservatism on such an important matter. Again, in this case, we know not what the settlement of the war will bring in its train, and it may be wise to have this authority even tho it may not be necessary to use it.

Compulsory voting appeals to many persons, who believe that such a course is the only panacea for present indifference in the exercise of the franchise. To our mind the remedy should be in the opposite direction. Persons who fail to vote should have their names stricken from the voting list and be compelled to re-register when they desire to exercise their right of franchise. This can be done under the present constitution and we advise a No vote on this amendment. Biennial elections have been defeated in this state by an overwhelming popular vote a few years ago and we do not believe there has been any change in public sentiment since that time. Annual elections give the people the opportunity to turn out inefficient officials as well as the right to correct any injustice which may have been done thru a passing political whim. Vote No on this measure.

We do not believe in the proposition that the voters of the state should vote No on every one of these matters. It would be very poor business for the state to lose all the good which can be easily accomplished by the adoption of the 15 amendments on which there is but little question, such as the state budget, bill-board regulation, restriction of building limits, to say nothing of practically throwing away all the value which we might receive from the investment of over a million dollars in the constitutional convention.

There should be no question where the people of Newton stand on the reelection of John W. Weeks to the United States Senate. We have followed his career in Congress with the greatest pride in the achievements of our fellow townsman, and know beyond cavil that he is one of the leading statesmen in the country and a worthy associate of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. With the tremendous questions which must be settled by the next Congress—not only the terms of a just and triumphant peace, but the proper solution of the problems of reconstruction which the rank and file of us are just beginning to understand—it is of the utmost importance to the nation as well as to Massachusetts, that we send to Washington the best men obtainable, not "rubber stamps." Senator Weeks deserves and will receive a most flattering vote, not only for what he has accomplished in the past, but for what he is sure to give us in the future.

The appeal for support for Democratic candidates will fall on deaf ears in this city where we have such an excellent candidate for Congress as Hon. Robert Luce. The recent primary contest has left no hard feelings and Mayor Childs will, as a good Republican, cast his ballot for Mr. Luce. There should be no question of his election in the district and there will be no question as to his stand, after election on matters pertaining to the war and the settlement of the problems of peace. Let us give Mr. Luce a rousing vote.

While there is little danger of the defeat of Calvin Coolidge for our next Governor, let us make sure that Newton gives him the support which he ought to receive. Few men in public life, have so impressed themselves on their fellow men as Mr. Coolidge. Lacking some of the so-called graces and arts of the every day politician, he has won the esteem of men in both parties by his ability, integrity, and plain common sense. His administration of the state government will rank with the best the state has ever witnessed.

MYRA SOUTHWORTH GRAVES

Myra Southworth Graves died at her home in Brookline on October 30, after an illness of about a year. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Southworth of Brookline, and step-daughter of Dr. Fredk. W. Webber of Newton and was prominent in the social life of this city for a number of years. Her marriage to Albert S. Graves of Hovey street, Newton, took place about ten years ago. Mrs. Graves is survived by her husband, one son and one daughter. Burial was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery.

FOR WAR WORK FUND

An entertainment will be given at the Hunnewell Club, Tuesday, November 12, for the benefit of the United War Work fund. Madame Hudson Alexander, soloist at First Christian Science Church, Boston, will give Revolutionary and patriotic songs. M. Miquelle, cellist, Boston Symphony orchestra, will give solos. Harry A. Maxwell, Y. M. C. A. secretary for a year at the front, will give an address.

NINE FALSE ALARMS RUNG IN

Halloween Celebration Also Supposed To Have Set Barn Afire

The kid element celebrated Halloween last night not merely by the usual noise and parading with jack-o'-lanterns, but nine false fire alarms were rung in from all over the city. This was a new stunt, the firemen do not remember when the young folks ever took this streak before. As the firemen had to answer every alarm and proceed to the box as if a fire was in progress, the humor of the thing was not apparent to them.

There was one fire last night, supposed to be the work of Halloween celebrators. A hay barn belonging to D. Wilbur Eagles, contractor, who lives on Clark street, Newton Centre, was burned to the ground. The barn contained some 10 tons of hay and the total loss is estimated at $500, believed not to be insured.

No other damage was reported to the police. Setting fires and ringing in false alarms are very serious offenses, and the offenders, if caught, will be sharply dealt with. Another year the authorities, finding the spirit of mischief in the air, will be ready to cope with it.

BIBLE SCHOOL PLATTSBURG

Much interest has been aroused not only locally but among leaders in religious work elsewhere in the plans of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association for its so-called "Bible School Plattsburg," or week of special training at Newtonville November 4-9. It is, so far as the officers know, the first serious attempt to bring to an entire community, and without taking people from their regular work, the benefits and privileges of such a program as would be given for inspiration and methods in a high grade summer school. The departmental conference leaders are of high standing and experience so that this experiment is being made under favorable conditions of organization and leadership.

Attendance is not limited to those now doing Sunday school work, but anyone who wishes to come will be welcome.

The program is further enriched by the addition of an address on Monday evening by Prof. John M. English. Another engagement made it necessary, when the meetings were postponed, for the Rev. Edward T. Sullivan to change the time of his address to Friday evening.

EXPERIENCES IN WAR ZONE

Rev. Brewer Eddy Gives an Account of His Visit to the Front.

Rev. Brewer Eddy was the speaker at the meeting of the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church at Newtonville Friday night. The meeting was also the October social of the church, and joint meeting with the Women's Association. Mr. Eddy gave an account of his recent visit to the battle fronts with other Y. M. C. A. representatives, and he gave some further observations in the sermon that he delivered in the church Sunday morning.

Mr. Eddy was deeply impressed with the heroic spirit manifested by the American soldiers, and he gave instances of feats of valor performed by seriously wounded men, who simply would not lie still while the battle was going, but insisted on fighting on. He found a very fine spirit of comradeship among the soldiers of the various nations. The English and French admired the spirit shown by the American soldiers, while the Americans felt they had a great deal to learn from the experience of the veterans of the allied forces.

He found great appreciation manifested in England of the sacrifices of the American people in sending across such greatly increased supplies of food. When he ate bacon at breakfast in England, the host would gracefully acknowledge that it came only because the American people had given it up in their homes. In the bakeries on the fighting front he found great heaps of Minneapolis flour bags. There were no sweetmeats or meatless or wheatless days at the front, thanks to the co-operation of the people at home.

Mr. Eddy varied his account of the suffering of war, by relating a few of its humors, and spoke particularly of the interest our negro soldiers created abroad, and how their characteristic humor amused the English and French. One negro rising on the parapet called on the Huns to come on and give him a chance to fight them. Just then a shell exploded near him and tore up the scenery generally. When the negro picked himself up all covered with dirt, he gave the enemy credit for a prompt reply to his challenge, by remarking "Dat's what I call quick service."

The speaker dwelt upon the tremendous change that had taken place in the fortunes of the allies since last July, when the powers of evil seemed to rule the world, and it seemed almost impossible to overthrow them. The succession of victories for one righteous cause proved that right and good will still rule the world, and he called upon his hearers for the spirit of sacrifice and persistence that should assure a complete triumph.

It is the rule for owners of pictures to neglect them until their condition is so bad that the expense of their restoration is many times as great as if they had received proper care.

We give especial attention to restoration, framing, and regilding and the quality of our work is unsurpassed.

Our Carrig-Rohane Shop, headed by Mr. Hermann Dudley Murphy, unquestionably America's most original and artistic designer of frames, has been the leading influence in the development of taste in framing for the last dozen years.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

There is, perhaps, no more difficult problem to settle than that of what extent shall the women's clubs keep to their accustomed routine and how far shall they give way to the more pressing work of the war emergency. So far as programs have been received the Newton clubs seem to be solving it by cutting down and simplifying. If one stops to consider, nothing remains the same today as it was before August 1914, and a wholly new set of interests have been built up even since we entered the war. These facts alone would seem to suggest that it is impossible for any organization to continue only along the lines laid down before the war, no matter how far in advance they may have been then. But in the cutting down and simplifying another point must not be lost sight of, namely, that present interests must not so completely absorb the attention that the future is forgotten and the part which the clubs must play in preparing the community for the reconstruction period be overlooked. In other words, the mother must not be so completely absorbed in her "boy over there," that she neglects the needs of the younger children, who will presently take the places of the boys who do not come back.

The best balanced program seems to be one which combines a live interest in the topics of the day, with those which will uplift and refresh minds tired and worried from trying to keep the household "sweet and garnished" from being neighbor to those in need, from doing one's share in war relief work. Those who are continually giving out of their strength of body, mind and spirit, need more than anything else something which will recreate their exhausted resources. May not the woman's club as well as the church be one of those agencies? For such reasons as these, do not fail to have some programs which will be inspirational. The speaker before the woman's club often has a better opportunity to preach a sermon than even the preacher himself.

State Federation

By invitation of the Marlboro Woman's Club the Massachusetts State Federation will meet in Marlboro, November 13. Full details of program and arrangements will be announced next week.

Local Announcements

The Newton Mothers' Club will meet on Monday, November 4, with Mrs. E. H. Rogers, 105 Temple street, West Newton, Treasurer. Tabbot of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will speak of "Chemistry of the War."

An extra meeting of the Christian Era Study Club will be held Monday, November 4, at 2 o'clock at the home of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, 15 Vista avenue, to make up for the one omitted October 7.

The regular business meeting of the Brightelmstone Club will be held on November 4. It will be New Members' Day. Mrs. Wallace Williams will give miscellaneous readings.

On Monday afternoon the Waban Woman's Club will open the season of 1918-1919 at the Waban Neighborhood Club. There will be a business meeting followed by a reception and musicale. The program under the direction of Mrs. Gifford LeClear will be furnished by club members.

Mrs. Charles Peter Clark of Newton Centre will be hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon.

On Tuesday afternoon the Newtonville Woman's Guild holds its first regular meeting of the season at the Central Congregational Church. The club is availing itself of the privilege of hearing Earl Barnes lecture on "Germany," in the course of Historical Background of the Great War, which Dr. Barnes has been giving in Newtonville.

The Auburndale Woman's Club will hold an "Open Night," on Tuesday, November 5, at 8 P. M., in the auditorium of the Congregational church. Owing to the necessity of a change in the speaker for the evening, Lieut. Lewis and Mlle. Lucie Pierard will take the place of Mary Boyle O'Reilly. Lieut. Lewis has recently come from France, where he fought in the British army for 20 months, having been wounded and having gone "over the top" a number of times. Mlle. Pierard, a French Red Cross nurse, has recently come to America as a delegate from that organization. She is well qualified for her subject, "Relief Work in France," as she has served from the beginning of the war both in hospitals at the front, and along the Mediterranean in the interests of the children of French refugees. Both speakers will tell their own experiences and point out our opportunities or "helping to win the war." Community singing, led by a Liberty Chorus under Mrs. W. J. Spaulding's direction, will be a special feature of the evening. No admission will be charged. Everyone is cordially invited.

The Social Science Club opens its season with a business meeting on Wednesday morning.

Now that the epidemic has subsided and the ban on meetings is off, the Newton Ladies' Home Circle will resume its regular meetings on Thursday, November 7, at 2 P. M. in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville. A large attendance is desired.

Presidents' Day will be observed by the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, November 8. Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon will give a musical program.

Local Happenings

The Christian Era Study Club of Auburndale held its first meeting of the season at the home of Miss Susie Johnson, 84 Grove street, Monday afternoon, October 28. Mrs. Kautle read an interesting paper on the Regency of Edward VI of England; Mrs. Carl W. Somers, a new member, an equally interesting one on the Course of the Protestant Revolution in the 16th Century, and Mrs. J. F. Dunton gave a few chapters from the History of Ireland.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club met at the home of Mrs. Emma Dimond on October 28. Interesting papers were given about "Old Inns of England," by Mrs. H. S. Wells; "Liverpool and Stonehenge," by Mrs. Bernard Early, and "London and Westminster Bridge," by Mrs. William Keefe.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. began the study of "Much Ado about Nothing" under the direction of Mrs. Whitaker. Three acts were read, the parts being assigned to various members. Miss Marion Dorr, the president, was hostess for the afternoon.

An informal getting together of the members of the Newtonville Woman's Guild took place at the home of Mrs. C. W. Ryder on Tuesday afternoon. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Henry V. Jones, the president, Mrs. Ryder, the hostess, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Gurney made an address in which she dwelt upon woman's part in the present crisis. The program committee was in charge of the arrangements.

The Auburndale Review Club held its meeting on Monday morning at the home of Miss Lucy Burr. After the regular business session, when $10 was voted toward the furnishing of the new Y. M. C. A. Hut, Mrs. G. E. Martin took charge of the meeting. A Crusader's Song was sung by Mesdames Martin McLean, Surbeck and Herrick, and Miss Davidson. This was a fitting introduction to "The Tailor's Tale," which Mrs. Martin gave a very interesting resume of the first half, and Mrs. Lehard of the last half of the book. This meeting was a very pleasant beginning of the year's work, and as almost every member was either knitting or sewing on Red Cross work time and strength were not diverted from the urgent need of the present.

DANCE FOR RED CROSS

A very successful dance was given at the Hunnewell Club Friday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross. About 250 were present. There were many officers and private soldiers from the aviation service, Radio school, Commonwealth pier, and other branches of the United States service. The sum of $120 was netted for the work. The room was decorated with flags, and the Star Spangled Banner was sung after the intermission. Ice cream and cake were served.

Exhibition dances were given by Roger Nesbitt, a Boston professional, and Miss Beatrice Noyes, also Mrs. Brenda Briggs Adams of Brookline, dressed in a hoola hoola costume, gave a Hawaiian solo dance. All these features were enthusiastically enjoyed. The Karnich orchestra of Boston furnished music.

The matrons were Mrs. Everett T. Ryder, Mrs. Freelan O. Stanley, Mrs. Harry L. Dexter, Jr., and Mrs. Everett Hayward. Howard S. Hayward and T. Oliver Sylvester were in charge, and the ushers were Mylert Bruner, Clarence Chapin, E. Everett Hayward, Jr., J. Warren O'Malley, and John B. Starkweather.

TRINITY CHURCH MEMORIAL

A very impressive memorial service was held at Trinity church, Sunday, to do honor to the following soldiers of the parish who have fallen at the front: Private George Thomas Maxwell, Company C, 101st Infantry, killed in action, July 21; Corporal Edward Asa Hooper, Battery A, 101st Field Artillery, killed in action July 29; Lieutenant Leonard Jackson, Company M, 11th Infantry, killed in battle, August 24; Lieutenant Alfred T. Crane, Headquarters Company, 392d Infantry, died in France, September 12; Lieutenant George S. Huggard, Company M, 13th Marines, died in France September 27.

The church was packed. A printed order of service was used, and the regular choir led the music. The "Dead March in Saul" was played, the congregation standing at attention, and taps were sounded by buglers. The hymns were of a memorial and patriotic character. The relatives and friends of the young men who have given their lives were present. The rector, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, delivered an address on "Going West, or turning the bend in the road."

GIVEN D. S. C. CROSS

Lieut. Robert Fulton Raymond, Jr., son of Judge Raymond of the Suffolk County Superior Court, has received the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary valor and heroism in battle in France. He previously had been cited for bringing down a plane. He is a member of the 27th aero squadron.

The action for which he received the cross occurred near Chateau Thierry, June 24. Lieut. Raymond piloted one machine in a formation of three which was escorting three reconnaissance planes over enemy territory. On account of motor trouble he was unable to keep up with his companions and while thus detached was attacked by an enemy plane. In spite of the condition of his engine and his presence far within the German line, Lieut. Raymond vigorously attacked the enemy plane and destroyed it, and then rejoined his patrol.

CHARITY BRIDGE

The charity bridge for the benefit of the West Newton Day Nursery will be held at the home of Mrs. Dowse on Temple street, West Newton, Thursday evening, November 14, at 8.30 o'clock. The committee earnestly urges all who purchase tables to have them occupied as far as possible that we may show our appreciation of Mrs. Dowse's courtesy in offering the use of her home. The hostess for each table is asked to provide the prize for that table of from 1 to 4 whiff stamps. Further information may be obtained of Mrs. Carl E. Pickhardt, chairman of the committee in charge, telephone N.W. 661-W, or of Mrs. Ernest Gile, secretary, N.W. 857-M. All are urged to take a table, attend if possible, and help to make the evening a social as well as a financial success.

"WAR WORK CAMPAIGN" MASS MEETING

A Mass Meeting of the men and women of the Parish of Our Lady, Newton, will be held in the School Hall, Wednesday evening, November 6, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to stimulate enthusiasm for the great United Drive in the coming War Work Campaign. The Pastor, Rev. L. W. Slattery, will preside, and short addresses will be made by the Rev. A. F. Hickey of Boston, and members of the parish committee on publicity. The evening will be enlivened by the singing of patriotic songs, and thrilling references to the every day experiences of our boys "over there."

APPOINTED CAPTAIN

Lieut. Warren Dyar, of Cypress street, Newton Centre, now on duty at Camp Lee, Va., has been appointed a captain and is serving in the adjutant-general's department, and will continue at Camp Lee. He was formerly a reporter for the Boston Globe, and was graduated from the Plattsburgh officers' training camp. He subsequently continued at Plattsburgh as one of the instructing forces of the second camp, and was commissioned a lieutenant in recognition of his valuable work.

RED CROSS

The knitting department of the Newton branch of Red Cross at the Y. M. C. A. is now giving out grey wool for heavy navy sweaters. As a large number of these are needed by November 15, the Red Cross knitters ought to begin work at once in order to finish the quota. Wool may be obtained any morning or afternoon except Sunday. Please call as soon as possible.

VOTE FOR

JOHN W.
WEEKS

Because As Mayor of Northampton
As President of the Senate
As Lieut.-Governor of Massachusetts

He has ALWAYS been the loyal and impartial representative of ALL the people.

BECAUSE—Everyone trusts Calvin Coolidge. Ask old men and young men—ask any Republican, ask any Democrat. Their trust is built on experience.

BECAUSE—Calvin Coolidge is independent and open minded, influenced only by evidence so that both radicals and conservatives accept him as their leader, they know he has his feet on the ground. He is a man of vision—not a visionary.

BECAUSE—No man in the whole history of Massachusetts has better understood the vast business of the Commonwealth. Ask anyone who has in his care some institution, or some business of the state, to whom he looks for advice and intelligent help, ten to one he will say CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Calvin Coolidge will be elected Governor of the Commonwealth, and you can rely on him to represent your best interests whether you vote for him or not. BUT it will be a great source of satisfaction to you in the future as you watch his conduct of the duties of the Governorship to be able to say to yourself—I helped to make CALVIN COOLIDGE Governor.

SENATOR WEEKS' LOYALTY

Ex-Governor Walsh's frequently reiterated statements questioning the loyalty of Senator John W. Weeks have brought to the Senator's office in Boston hundreds of letters from men of all political faiths throughout the state protesting against Mr. Walsh's attitude in this matter. Most of the letters predict an overwhelming defeat for Mr. Walsh, and all the writers strongly resent that there should be even an intimation in this campaign that Senator Weeks has been other than absolutely loyal to the President and to the United States. The following letter is a sample of the hundreds that have been received by Senator Weeks:

October 26, 1918.

Dear Senator Weeks:
I read with amazement the charge of Mr. Walsh that you were not the friend of the soldier. As the father of two boys in the service, one in the 30th Division fighting with the British 4th army, I desire to voice my resentment to the charge that you, as a father of a boy at the front, cannot be trusted with the welfare of the soldiers, and believe that every red blooded father, with boys in the service, should vote for your re-election as United States Senator, as a fitting rebuke to the charge.

Yours truly,
Geo. A. Hinchelliffe.

TELL THE TRUTH

Chairman George A. Bacon, of the Republican State Committee, issued the following open letter on Wednesday to Secretary of the Navy Daniels:

The newspapers announce that you are to speak in Faneuil Hall today, on behalf of Walsh's candidacy for the Senate. May I not be permitted to call your attention to a few things before you take the platform.

In 1898, when Dewey sailed into Manila Bay and Sampson and Schley wiped the Spanish Navy off the face of the waters at Santiago, the Hon. John D. Long of Massachusetts was Secretary of the Navy. Did he go to your native state of North Carolina to tell the citizens to vote the Republican ticket—or did he let the people think for themselves?

Faneuil Hall is the Cradle of American Liberty—so named by Daniel Webster, who said of his state, in his reply to Hayne:—“I need give you no encomium on Massachusetts. There she stands and there she will remain forever.” Under his platform picture in the hall are these words, “Liberty and Union—Now and Forever.”

As a Southern gentleman, I ask you to tell the whole truth about John W. Weeks when talking in the hall where Garrison, Phillips, and Sumner pleaded for the freedom of the slave. Tell the people of Massachusetts that John W. Weeks opposed the administration's ship-purchase bill because it was designed to give over $50,000,000 to the German government for use in spy-plots and Hun propaganda in the United States. This is the truth.

Tell the people that John W. Weeks offered you his services as a trained Annapolis graduate anywhere in the American Navy the day war was declared and that you urged him to stay in the Senate. This is the truth.

Tell the people that John W. Weeks is the safest, sanest, ablest man on the great Military Affairs Committee and that you, personally, have taken his views more often than those of any man in Congress. This is the truth.

Tell the people that David I. Walsh has never worn a soldier's uniform, never tried to get into the service, hasn't spoken for the Democratic state ticket for two years, is not married, and has done nothing to win the war. This is the truth.

Tell the people what would happen to the Army and Navy if every man in Massachusetts was a bachelor at 25, had never worn a soldier's or sailor's uniform, never been on the Public Safety Committee, the Red Cross Committee, the Liberty Loan Committee or the Y. M. C. A. Committee.

Then tell them—as a patriotic American—whether you should be speaking in old Faneuil Hall, today, for Weeks the Republican worker or Walsh the Democratic slacker to represent the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the United States Senate in a time of great National Crisis.

With best wishes for your safe return to your official duties in Washington, I am,

Yours very truly,
GEORGE A. BACON.

BOARD ON THE CURTAILMENT OF NON-WAR CONSTRUCTION

The Newton Board on the Curtailment of Non-War Construction as appointed by the Newton Committee on Public Safety consists of the following members: Mr. Alonzo R. Weed, Chairman; Mr. Walter H. Barker, Secretary; Mr. Alfred MacDonald, Ex-officio; Mr. Horace W. Orr; Mr. A. Stuart Pratt; Mr. A. Dudley Dowd.

The function of this Board is to recommend to the War Industries Board their approval or disapproval of all new construction in Newton. The needs of enterprises essential to the prosecution of the war are pressing. Labor, steel, materials, fuel, power, transportation, and capital must be husbanded for essential uses. Every citizen, therefore, is called upon not to compete with the government for these elements by engaging in promiscuous building. Such repairs, alterations, additions, or new construction, as are necessary for immediate public welfare, must be undertaken as a measure of secondary defense, and so long as we have material, the reasonable upkeep of property is sound economy.

Individuals wishing to put up new buildings in the City or to alter existing buildings must file with the Board an application in triplicate and witnessed by a notary. These blank applications may be obtained from the Newton Committee on Public Safety at 893 Washington St., Newtonville, or from the office of the Building Commissioner at City Hall, West Newton.

The Board on the Curtailment of Non-War Construction will probably meet weekly, the first of each week. Applications should be in the hands of Mr. Alfred MacDonald, Secretary of the Newton Committee on Public Safety on or before Monday at 5.00 P. M. to be acted upon at the meeting of the Board of that week.

Applicants will not be required to appear personally before the Board.

TREMONT THEATRE—Boston theatre-goers will have the opportunity of seeing David Belasco's wonderfully successful production, “Tiger Rose” at the Tremont Theatre where it opens Monday, Nov. 4th for a limited engagement. This absorbing tale of love and adventure which fascinated the New York public for one whole year comes to Boston with the original cast and identical production intact. A Belasco production is always a theatrical event of the utmost importance. Confident expectation always asserts itself when Mr. Belasco presents. The stage is sure to be revealed in beautiful pictures. It is not a matter of garish embellishment, but the assertion of a sense of precise sufficiency. The presentation of “Tiger Rose” has aroused even more than the usual interest marking as it does the latest success from the prolific pen of Willard Mack, one of America's newer leading playwrights. The author is said to have written a play of thrills and romances in which the central figures are a French-Canadian girl and a young American engineer, who are surrounded by typical and well-drawn characters.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

WHAT THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT OF THE NEWTON HOSPITAL IS DOING

The Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service met Tuesday afternoon, October 22nd, at the New Church Parlor, Newtonville. The purpose of the league is to support the Social Service Department of the Hospital and the function of the Social Service Department is to supplement the work of doctors and surgeons when needed so that all social obstacles preventing a patient's recovery may be removed as far as possible.

The department was first organized in 1913. Our new Social Service director, Miss Grace E. Miller of Waban is a graduate of the Boston School of Social Work and has done advanced work in Medical Social Service at the Massachusetts General Hospital and Boston Dispensary.

She gave a report of a brief statistical study of the work of the Department from the first of May 1918 to the first of September. During these four months, 64 patients have been referred to her for some sort of social supervision. These families required a total of 221 outside visits. Because of the great distances in Newton and the limited public transportation the work could never have been done without the use of a borrowed automobile. The immediate need of supplying the department with a machine is apparent.

She closed her report with a few illustrative cases. The most interesting perhaps at the present time is the story of an Italian family which was brought to her attention during the recent epidemic. Both parents and the oldest child of seven were ill with influenza. There was no one in the home to feed or clothe the three younger children or to wait upon the sick patients.

Neighbors and relatives were either afraid of the disease or had their own responsibilities and could not help. Their family physician recommended hospital admission but the parents would not consider it because of the children. At this point the doctor appealed to Social Service. Miss Miller called immediately. She found the man and child in bed, the woman crawling about trying to wait upon the whole family. It was quite apparent that this little mother, who spoke no English and depended so completely upon her husband for interpretation was the one who most opposed hospital care. When she realized that there was some one who would look out for her children she no longer resisted and within two hours the sick patients were admitted by the Red Cross Emergency Hospital and the West Newton Neighborhood House had opened its doors to the three remaining well children.

These latter were watched carefully for any suspicious symptoms and in this particular instance all eventually developed the disease and were transferred to the hospital. At this writing the family is reunited with the exception of one child who was seriously ill but has now passed the danger point. It is a question whether the spread of the disease could have been checked by immediate removal of the first sick patient.

This family is only one of many who were helped by Newton Hospital Social Service during the crisis and today it is most satisfying to receive expressions of gratitude from those people who were then so helpless.

PREPARING DRAFTED MEN

Newly Appointed Board of Instruction Meets Class A Registrants

A meeting was held at Players' Hall, West Newton, last night, for about 100 men of Class A in the draft who will soon be called out, and who were addressed by representatives of the Board of Instruction of Newton. Gen. James G. White presided. He spoke of the duty of the soldier and purpose of this board of instruction.

Hon. Charles E. Hatfield spoke of the interest felt by the community in every man who goes away. They can feel that they have the country backing them up.

Joseph B. Jamieson spoke of the matter of allotments and payments to families, and the help the Red Cross gives to families of men in the service. Capt. Charles M. Ford talked about the value of the military drill the men will receive, and of the help the State Guard can give them. School Superintendent U. G. Wheeler spoke of the facilities the Newton schools afford to men about to enter the service.

All the men present were registered, and a questionnaire was filled out in regard to the educational qualifications of the men wishing to enter the night school.

The instruction board will emphasize particularly the matters of allowances, allotment of pay, hygiene, military drill. It is very possible that before any of the men leave for camp they will be required to appear at least before the time the branches of this board giving instruction in American aims, etc. Provision will be made for instruction of men who can not read and write, and those who wish instruction in the mechanical trades and shop work will be encouraged to attend evening school.

The purpose of this board of instruction is to help all the selectives to go to camp well prepared for the work they have to do. Most of them have had no military training at all, and have no good idea why they go and what they are to do after they get there. Many go unwillingly. A man's mental attitude affects his work in camp, and sundry small ailments become serious when nurtured by a wrong attitude. Thus the efficiency of the army is affected. Experience has shown that these elements of inefficiency can be mostly removed by personal instruction. This is now being organized all over the country in a large scale by order of the provost marshal general.

At the time of their medical examination, the selectives are assembled in small groups for personal interview. This work being in charge of Hon. Charles E. Hatfield. Perplexities cleared up, and the men are encouraged to think of the value of the experience they are going to have, and the chances for promotion. The selected men will be ordered to meet from time to time in groups for instruction as follows:—

To consider the provision the government makes for the protection and welfare of disabled soldiers and in event of death of their families. Information on these points neutralizes family opposition. Also in regard to the government provision for allowances and allotments to dependents. This relieves feeling in the soldier's home and inspires loyalty to the government. This group is in charge of Mr. Jamieson.

Instruction in the American war aims, and character of camp life, and the necessary character of the American soldier, in charge of Mr. Kidger. Sexual restraint and the avoidance of liquor as a patriotic obligation, in charge of Dr. Lowe.

Preliminary military drill, in charge of Capt. Ford. Americanization, removal of illiteracy, teaching of English to those who do not understand it well, in charge of Mr. Wheeler. Ten minute talks by selected speakers will review and sum up the courses.

The Newton board of instruction consists of the following:—Everett E. Kant, Newton, chairman; Alfred MacDonald, Newton, secretary; Fred A. Gay, Newton, registrar, meetings with selectives; Francesco Argento, Newtonville; Capt. Charles M. Ford, Newton, military drill; Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, West Newton, initial relations; Joseph B. Jamieson, Newton, care of men and dependents; Horace Kidger, Newtonville, war aims, methods, and ideals; Dr. Fred M. Lowe, West Newton, hygiene; William D. Nugent, Newtonville; Ulysses G. Wheeler, Newtonville, Americanization; Gen. James G. White, Newton Centre.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS FOR SAILORS

The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross has nothing to do with the sending of Christmas presents to sailors in the service of the United States navy. It does have a great deal to do with the sending of Christmas presents to soldiers and the rules the government has made for it to carry out and enforce were printed in The Graphic last week. Though it has no part in the sending of presents to sailors it gives here the government rules in regard to such presents and advises those who intend to send presents to men in the Navy cut these rules out and keep them.

Packages forwarded by parcels post for men in the navy must comply with the Postal regulations and should be enclosed in substantial boxes with hinged or screw top cover to facilitate opening and inspecting.

All boxes shipped by express are limited to twenty pounds in weight, should measure not more than two cubic feet in volume, be of wood, well strapped and have a hinged or screw top to facilitate opening and inspecting.

All mail matter should be addressed as now prescribed by the Postal regulations. All express packages should be forwarded in care of Supply Officer, Fleet Supply Base, 29th Street and Third Avenue, South Brooklyn, N. Y. No perishable food product other than those enclosed in cans or glass jars should be packed in parcels post or express shipments.

All packages must be plainly marked with the name and address of the sender together with a notation indicating the nature of the contents, such as "Christmas box," or "Christmas present."

The Supply Officer at New York will cause each express package to be opened and carefully examined to see that nothing of an explosive or other dangerous character is forwarded.

The shipment of Christmas packages for U. S. Naval vessels abroad should be made so as to reach New York, as early as possible and not later than November 15th.

The War Department regulations for Christmas parcels for soldiers overseas will be observed in the case of every Marine whose address is "American Expeditionary Forces." For all other Marines, whether in training or serving actively in this country, at Naval posts and stations at home and abroad, or on ship duty, Navy regulations will govern.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Kurt G. Buseck, who enlisted in the light artillery some weeks ago, was called October 24 to train at Camp Zachary Taylor in Virginia. He has made many friends and the Newton schools regret his leaving.

Mrs. Ralph Peters is substituting in the science department.

The first number of the Dynamo will be published Monday, November 4. The Newton Technical High School has had the honor of being one of the two schools in the country to publish a four-page weekly. This year the increased cost of publication has made it necessary to reduce the issues by almost half, but several double, and extra, numbers are promised. The subscribers include a good many graduates, especially from the class of 1918, who continue their interest in the school and its spicy little paper.

In order that the responsibility of being editor-in-chief may not be too heavy upon any one student, the position will be held by different members of the editorial staff for about five weeks apiece. Miss Dorothy Hill was selected to serve first, with Herbert Kestle as business manager. The staff follows: Eleanor Barry, Marjorie Burnham, Josephine Colarullo, Elba Carlson, Irene Cowley, Marion McKee, Anna Murphy, Florence Orrill, Amy Shrieber, Nellie Sullivan, Dorothy Tins, Doris Forte, Thomas Donnelly, Edward Harrington, John Hogan, Elmer Priest, Arthur Ryall, Gardner Wiley. Under their leadership the continued success of the Dynamo is assured.

Miss Herrick is conducting a home nursing class during the seventh and eighth periods for the junior and senior girls.

Miss Louise Jellison has been substituting for the past two weeks for Miss Louise Wetherbee, who has been ill. Miss Wetherbee hopes to be back in school again Monday.

Mrs. Edith Kenshalo has been elected to fill the position in the mathematics department caused by the resignation of Miss Houston, who left October 12 to be principal of the Brookfield High School.

LOAN TOTAL $8,346.50

Liberty loan subscriptions keep coming in, and the additions since our last report amount to $126,600. This brings the total to date up to $8,346,550. The final figures will be slightly increased over the above.

ed that he believes that when this system is placed in operation from ten to fifteen thousand pounds of sugar per month will be saved in this City.

It was announced by the local food administrator today that the allotment of three pounds per month is official, and customers can get the entire month's allotment at one time.

Anyone interested in methods of using economical substitutes for sugar in preserving should consult Miss Weeks.

The Newton board of food administration expects every grocer in the city to come at once to their headquarters at the office of the Newton committee on public safety, Newtonville, and obtain supply of cards and coupons. Grocers will pay for these in cash at the time of receiving them, at the rate of $1.00 a thousand coupons.

Children, even if very young, are considered consumers of sugar under these rules. If any member of the household is obtaining less than half his meals at home, he must not be included among the number for whom the allotment of sugar is asked. Sick or elderly people requiring an additional allotment should have some representative consult the food administrator on their case. Grocers will be held responsible for the legibility of the cards. If any coupons are lost they cannot be replaced. Grocers are requested to distribute all their November allotment on this system. Cards must be returned by the grocer on or before November 10.

It was announced in the daily papers this morning, that the ration had been increased by Mr. Hoover to three pounds per person per month.

THE DRAFT BOARD

Orders have been received to send the following number of men, in the period beginning November 11.

68 to Camp Lee and 70 to Camp Sevier from the registration of September 12, and 69 to Camp Lee from the previous registrations. As this list contains only about 30 names, it will be manifestly impossible to comply with the entire order.

Volunteer workers will be welcomed by the board, as the government has requested an immediate report of all registrations previous to September 12.

RICE—METCALF

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Rice, Wiswall street, on October 27 at 5 o'clock, when their daughter, Lois Tolman, was married to Capt. Lester G. Metcalf, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Metcalf of Claremont, Cal. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Edgar Park, pastor of the Second Congregational Church. The bride, who was unattended, was gown in taupe crepe-de-chine with chiffon overdress, and carried a bouquet of Jacqueminot roses. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to New Hampshire.

BODY HOME FROM FRANCE

The body of Lieut. George S. Huggard, of the 13th Marines, who died in France September 27, has been brought home, and a military funeral is to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Trinity church, Newton Centre. While it is understood that all the bodies of the dead soldiers will eventually be brought home, so far as possible, it has been practically yet to bring back by very few of them, so this occasion will be an unusual one. Thirty-two men from the navy yard will be in attendance and do military honors. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity church, will officiate, and the burial will be at Newton cemetery.

THE EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Interesting Report of the Good Work Done by the Red Cross Chapter

The Newton Red Cross Hospital, conducted at the Woodland Park for the care of victims of the grip, during the twenty-nine days of its existence, from September 27 to October 25, inclusive, cared for one hundred and seventy patients, of whom twenty-six died. The largest number of patients under its care on any one day was sixty-five on October 17.

The hospital was made ready and opened in less than forty-eight hours after its establishment was decided upon, and it ran smoothly and efficiently from the time of the admission of its first patient to the time of its discharge of its last one.

The big, outstanding, encouraging fact in connection with the Red Cross Hospital is that it was an object lesson to Newton in what Newton can do for itself. The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, which was the moving agency in the establishment of the Red Cross Hospital, is an organization of Newton people, with Newton men and women as its officials, and supported by funds made up of part of the membership dues from Newton members and contributions from generous citizens. The Red Cross Hospital was therefore a Newton institution established by Newtonians and made possible because in the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross Newton had an efficient organization ready to meet immediately the emergency created by the grip epidemic.

The establishment and work of the Red Cross Hospital is a part of Newton's story of the war and is best told by the official reports as made to the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. The special meeting at which it was decided to establish the hospital was held at Talbot House, Newtonville, on Wednesday evening, September 25. Dr. Irving J. Fisher was made clerk of the meeting. Of that meeting Dr. Fisher made the following report:

Dr. Fisher's Report.
A meeting was held at the Newton Red Cross headquarters, September 25, 1918, at 8 P.M. for the consideration of establishing an emergency hospital to care for the overwhelming number of cases of epidemic influenza in the city of Newton.

Those present were: Mr. Charles E. Kelsey, chairman; Mrs. Albert P. Carter, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Mrs. Vernon B. Swett, Mrs. George H. Talbot, Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson, Mr. William C. v. Mr. George A. Frost, Mr. Henry H. Kendall, Mr. William R. King, Mr. James H. Marsh, Mr. Frank W. Remick, Mr. Samuel H. Southall, Gen. James G. White, Dr. Francis G. Curdiss, Dr. Irving J. Fisher, and Dr. George E. May.

It was the unanimous opinion of those present that the need of such an institution was urgent and the question of a suitable place was open for discussion.

Mr. Frank W. Remick kindly offered the use of the neighborhood Club of West Newton, but feeling that it was wiser to begin in a place where more space was available, the Woodland Park Hotel was suggested by Mr. George A. Frost.

Upon being asked, Dr. Winslow immediately gave his consent to this plan, promising all possible co-operation.

Committees for the establishment of this hospital were appointed by Mr. Kelsey as follows:

Committee for Consideration of Compensation: Mr. George R. Pulsifer, Dr. George E. May and Mr. Henry H. Kendall.

Committee for Equipment: Mrs. Irving J. Fisher.

Committee on General Arrangements: Mr. James H. Marsh and Mr. Samuel H. Southall.

Committee in Charge of Nurses: Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson.

Committee in Charge of Medical Supervision: Dr. Irving J. Fisher.

It was decided at this meeting to pay nurses wages equivalent to those they were getting in private work; charity cases were to be taken care of as per arrangements in vogue at the Newton Hospital, and members of the Newton Hospital staff were to be asked to act as visiting physicians to the Emergency Hospital.

Mr. William C. Bray kindly offered from the Newton Hospital the loan of available equipment and supplies.

Through General White the Constabulary volunteered its services for general assistance.

Mrs. Morton Cobb offered to help by securing volunteers from members of home nursing classes.

Dr. Curtis offered the services of the school nurses as long as the schools remained closed, and when the schools opened, if further necessity required, two of the nurses would still be available.

Services were offered by the Newton Hospital Aid Association, and the Newton Red Cross Motor Corps was placed at our disposal.

The meeting adjourned with the understanding that the work of establishing and equipping the Newton Red Cross Emergency Hospital was to begin on the following morning, September 26, with the hope of opening it for patients September 27, 1918.

IRVING J. FISHER, M.D., Clerk.

The Hospital had been running a few days only when it was realized that for the direction of its work a committee must be named. Of that committee Mr. H. H. Kendall was the chairman. In a report to the Executive Committee of the Newton Chapter Mr. Kendall, a few days before the Hospital closed its doors, told of the work it had done.

Chairman Kendall's Report.
On Tuesday evening, September 24, our chairman, Mr. Kelsey, was advised that there was urgent need of more hospital accommodation for influenza patients than could be afforded by the utmost efforts of the Newton Hospital.

A conference with Mr. Bray, the Newton Hospital, on Wednesday noon, made clear the pressing need of help, and a group of interested workers met at the headquarters at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, to decide on ways and means.

The Neighborhood Club offered its clubhouse and had already started fires therein. Mr. Frost suggested the Woodland Park Hotel building and, for Dr. Winslow, offered its free use. The Brae Burn Club offered to release Mr. Southall to organize the domestic department, kitchen, etc.

NEWTON'S QUOTA IS $300,000

A Live Committee Organized in Behalf of the United War Work Campaign

Under the energetic leadership of Mr. Henry J. Nichols, chairman, and Messrs. James A. Stafford and William D. Nugent, vice chairmen, a live committee is in charge of the work of raising Newton's quota of $300,000 for the United War Work Campaign, to begin next Monday.

It will be remembered that this campaign was requested by President Wilson, who urged that the following organizations—

Young Men's Christian Association
Young Women's Christian Association
National Catholic War Council
Jewish Welfare Bureau
War Camp Community Service
American Library Association
Salvation Army

make a united campaign for the funds necessary to carry on their necessary and important work in connection with our army and navy.

The request of the President has resulted in an agreement that at least $70,000,000 should be raised in one drive, and apportioned among these organizations.

The work in Newton will be directed by village chairmen who have appointed captains and teams and assigned them to various districts.

The village chairmen are as follows:

Newton, Mr. O. M. Fisher.
Newtonville, Mr. W. Lloyd Allen.
West Newton, Alderman Herbert M. Cole.

Abundant, Alderman W. J. Spaulding.

Lower Falls, Mr. George M. Heathcote.

Waban, Mr. Lawrence Allen.

Upper Falls, Mr. Herbert E. Locke.

Newton Highlands, Mr. C. H. Lingham.

Newton Centre, Mr. E. Clifford Potter.

Chestnut Hill, Mr. George S. West.

Oak Hill, Mr. James W. Spring.

In addition to the direct canvasses, meetings and speakers will be arranged under the chairmanship of Mr. Harry D. Cabot, and the best of talent in this direction is promised the Newton committee.

The financial arrangements for the fund are in the capable hands of Mr. William H. Zoller, the Comptroller. One of the interesting and unusual features of the drive will be the Victory Boys and Girls, under the respective leadership of Mayor Edwin O. Childs for the boys, and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart for the girls. This work consists in organizing groups of boys and girls through the churches and schools, each child pledging himself or herself to earn and give $5 to the fund before March 1, 1919. This money must be earned and not solicited from parents or friends.

It is expected that at least 1500 children will be enrolled in this movement. The Church of the Sacred Heart at Newton Centre has set a splendid example along this line by pledging itself to have a child behind every yerservice flag on its banner, approximately 150. Let every other church in Newton follow this example.

The chairman of the various women's committees of the Victory Girls' war fund campaign, are as follows, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart being chairman for the city:

Mrs. Edwin S. Webster, Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. C. B. Wilbar, Newton Centre.

Mrs. L. H. Marshall, Newton Highlands.

Mrs. E. E. Conway, Waban.

Mrs. Russell Baker, Lower Falls.

Miss Ethel W. Sabine, Upper Falls.

Mrs. S. J. Surbeck, Abundant.

Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr., West Newton.

Mrs. J. M. Allen, Newtonville.

Mrs. John T. Alden, Newton.

Miss Dorothy Stockin, Nonantum.

Residents of this city who subscribe to the fund from their business address in Boston or other places, should take care that their subscription is credited to Newton, and thereby show their loyalty to the city. This is an important matter, as our quota has been set at a high figure and we shall need every possible credit.

Notwithstanding the prevalent talk of an early peace, we should not forget that it will take at least two years to demobilize our army now in Europe and that this War Work fund is needed to provide our boys with all possible comforts during that time. Weather conditions in Europe during the winter are unusually severe and anything we can do to help alleviate their hardships can be best done through this fund.

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting last night of the team captains and workers in Temple Hall, Newtonville, about 400 being present. The work was explained and outlined by the chairman, Mr. Henry J. Nichols, and the vice chairman, Mr. James A. Stafford, and a most inspiring address was given by Rev. Dr. Brewer Eddy. Remarks were also made by Alderman Herbert M. Cole of West Newton and Mr. O. M. Fisher of Newton.

AT THE

UNION MEETING

At Eliot church, Sunday morning, November 10, at 10.30, the Eliot, Channing, Baptist, and Methodist churches will unite in a joint service. Rev. Brewer Eddy, who has just returned from another trip to the war zones, will give his thrilling address, "With the Red Triangle on Four Battle Fronts." The public is cordially invited to attend.

DEATH OF MRS. LOUISA MITCHELL

Mrs. Louisa S. Mitchell, widow of Austin R. Mitchell, died at her home on Walnut street, Newtonville, Tuesday, after an illness of many months, at the age of 87. She was a native of Cummingtown, Mass., and had lived here some 30 years, previous to which she was for some time a resident of Boston. Her husband, who died some 15 years ago, was interested in the tobacco business. Mrs. Mitchell was the last of her family leaving no near relatives, and was a quiet and home-loving woman. Funeral services were held this morning at 10.30, Rev. Rufus H. Dix officiating, and burial was at Newton Cemetery.

POLICE NOTES

John J. Sullivan, Walter L. Gildea, and Francis Hickey, all of Worcester, were each fined $10 in the local court for evading railroad fares. Sullivan paid all the fines. The men were arrested Monday night after being ejected from a train at Newtonville. It developed that Sullivan had fallen into the hands of Federal authorities earlier in the day for offering liquor to a sailor. In the Federal Court, he was released on condition that he would at once enter military service.

MASS MEETING IN ELIOT CHURCH

Sunday evening, November 10, at 7.30 Mr. Lewis A. Crossett, International Treasurer, Y. M. C. A. War Work, will address the meeting on "The Last Word from Our Boys." Mayor Childs will preside. Patriotic singing. Come and bring your friends.

COOLIDGE LEADS WEEKS

Senator in his Home City Runs Behind Governor Normal Republican Plurality

The big feature in the election on Tuesday for Newton people was the candidacy for re-election of United States Senator John W. Weeks of West Newton, and it is needless to say that his defeat is felt more keenly here than in any other part of the state. That Newton, to some extent, reflected the general sentiment of the state towards the Senator is shown by the fact that Mr. Coolidge for governor received 59 more votes than Mr. Weeks and indeed, received 12 more votes in Mr. Weeks' home precinct than the Senator himself.

Newton had but little interest in the remainder of the ticket, as Representative Thomas Weston, Jr., of West Newton was unsupported for state senator. Hon. Robert Luce for member of Congress also received a larger vote than Senator Weeks, but his opponent ran behind his ticket about 200 votes, thus giving Mr. Luce a larger majority than either Mr. Coolidge or Senator Weeks.

Apparently little stock was taken in the admonition of Mr. R. L. Bridgman of Abundant and others to vote NO on the various amendments to the state constitution, all of the questions save that relating to the initiative and referendum and compulsory voting receiving an affirmative vote, most of them being decided by about three to one. The initiative was defeated here by 1881 to 2239, while compulsory voting was negated 2152 to 2166.

On account of the number of questions on the ballot the returns were very late in reaching City Hall, the last one being received at 12.30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The election was marked by unusually heavy voting during the morning hours, although the total votes cast, 5553, is only 76 per cent. of the registration.

The vote for the principal officers by precincts is shown in a table printed elsewhere, while the total vote for the other candidates and the amendments follows:

VOLUNTEERS BADLY NEEDED

In spite of the call for volunteers to do clerical work in the office of the Draft Board at West Newton, scarcely any have appeared. The office has far more work than it can do. The completing of the records of the large number of men who are being sent off requires a great deal of clerical work. The office is besieged by a constant stream of inquiries, both in person and over the telephone. The young women in charge find their work subject to incessant interruptions. The prompt making of these records is essential to the progress of the war work, and volunteers can be used even for brief periods of time. The office should be given better support by the people of Newton. Anyone who can do copying accurately can help.

CELEBRATED LOAN SUCCESS

Newtonville Workers Get Together For Social Evening

There was a rousing meeting at the Newton Club Friday night to celebrate the success of the village in going so far above its quota on the Liberty Loan drive. About 90 of the workers on that drive were present. The purpose of the meeting was to get the men closer together and promote the community spirit in the war work campaigns. Fred M. Blanchard, chairman of the Newtonville committee, presided, and much enthusiasm was manifested. It was announced that the figures at that time for Newtonville were $1,570,450, with more coming in. There were brief remarks by James F. Stafford, campaign manager, and by Lloyd Allen, in behalf of the war work drive. Frank L. Richardson, representing the executive committee for Newton on the drive, gave a report of the general campaign in Newton.

There was very spirited singing of war songs under the leadership of Fred E. Mann. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Revere Knight provided violin and piano music.

The speaker of the evening was Joe Mitchell Chappell, editor of the National Magazine, who in his own individual way gave a very interesting account of his experiences in visiting the war front, where he met many of the generals and political leaders. He said one thing that was news to many, that Premier Clemenceau of France told Lloyd George of England after the March drive that if a unified command was not provided for the allied armies under Gen. Foch, France would have to sue for peace. Mr. Chappell spoke briefly in opposition to the initiative and referendum, and Representative Rowley of Brookline made a speech at the close of the meeting in opposition to that project. Ice cream, cake and cigars were served.

Thrill in Clothing Materials

The first of a series of 5 lessons on thrift in clothing materials was given by Mrs. Mary Schenck Woolman at the Home Demonstration Office on Thursday, October 31. "Wools and Worsted" was the topic of the lecture and discussion on November 7. The other lessons will follow on consecutive Thursdays at half past two. Women with children and those interested in making over materials on hand will find the course very successful and helpful.

Mrs. Woolman is sent here by the government, and has first-hand information which will guide us in our selection of materials for the winter. Credit will be given to those who complete the course successfully.

Mrs. Woolman says "800,000,000 pounds of wool are required for the United States soldiers in one year. Only 255,000,000 pounds are produced in our country and a part of this is Merino wool, which is too soft for the soldiers' use."

"If all the wool in the world were equally divided each person would have 14 ounces. If we were not reclaimed many times, the scarcity of it would be even greater than at present."

All persons having clothing problems and materials on hand which they wish to put to good use should benefit by the instruction which is available for all interested.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE

Mr. G. W. Talbot has been employed as Scout Executive of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, and in co-operation with the volunteer Scout Commissioner and deputies will have jurisdiction over the Scout work in this district, which includes the city of Newton and the towns of Needham and Wellesley, which is the territory covered by the old Eighth District Council of Greater Boston. The Scout work has grown to such proportions that it is necessary for one man to give all his time to the work in order to develop the various lines of activities.

One of the most important features of Mr. Talbot's work at present will be the organization and direction of a Scout Leader's Training Corps, in order to assist the Scoutmasters and assistant Scoutmasters in the conduct of their work; and also to attract new men to the work by offering them helpful instruction.

A training corps for Patrol Leaders will also be organized. Mr. Talbot will work under the direction of Mr. J. C. Irwin, Scout Commissioner, and for the present his office will be at Mr. Irwin's house, 43 Highland avenue, Newtonville, telephone Newton North 2713-W.

OFFICERS' TRAINING SCHOOL

Applications are open to civilians of draft age for entrance to the Officers' Training School, Camp Fremont, Cal. Information regarding these applications may be obtained by applying at the office of The Commanding Officer, S. A. T. C., Newton Technical High School, Newtonville, Mass.

There is also wanted, at this time, a supply of men of draft age for meteorological service, and multiplex telegraphers for the signal corps.

Those desiring such service will make application to the above-mentioned address.

BRAC BURN CLUB

Among the house guests registered at Brac Burn are Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McGuire, Miss Harriet McGuire and Miss Julia McGuire of West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Breck of Newton Centre; Mrs. William H. Lucas of Newtonville; Mrs. E. H. Mason and daughter of Boston and Mr. Fred H. Ward of Portsmouth, N. H.

NEWTON FUEL COMMITTEE

To all Newton Coal Dealers:—Our committee has recommended, and the Fuel Administration has approved the following schedule of prices for coal for all dealers in Newton, these prices to be effective November 4, 1918, for all dealers in Newton, to continue until further notice to the contrary.

Anthracite, per net ton delivered—White Ash: egg $11; Pea, $10; Highland, Jeddo and Franklin: egg, $11.50 Pea, $10.50.

Price of above coal $1.00 per ton less when consumer secures the same at the dealer's yard.

Additional charge for basketing, 40c per net ton. Additional charge for delivery by rail, 25c per 1/2 ton. Coal in bags: at yard, 25 lbs. 15c; 50 lbs. 25c; 100 lbs. 50c; delivered: 100 lbs. 75c.

Coal in bags sold by grocer or other small distributor at his store: 25 lbs. 20c; 50 lbs. 35c; 100 lbs. 65c; delivered: 25 lbs. 25c; 50 lbs. 40c; 100 lbs. 75c.

Bituminous, per net ton delivered.—Our committee find it difficult to establish a uniform price for soft coal by reason of its varying cost. A uniform price of $1.00 per net ton delivered is recommended and should generally prevail, excepting on special lots that show excessive cost—when a slight increase may be charged, based on cost per net ton at dealer's yard plus reasonable profit for delivering.

In conjunction with a special wood committee, our committee recommended the following prices for wood delivered to consumer at point accessible to truck or team: 4 foot length, $16 per cord; sawed $18 per cord.

The shortage of egg and stove sizes leads us to urge the using of furnace or broken coal when large heaters will allow its use.

NEWTON FUEL COMMITTEE,
O. M. Fisher, Chairman,
Frank J. Hale,
Andrew C. Hughes.

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

Tomorrow afternoon at 3.00 Newton will play Brookline at Tech field, Brookline. The Newton lineup will be as follows: Rane r.e., Shea l.e., Crosby l.g., Leete r.g., Gullian l.t., Moor r.t., Seavey c., Owen l.b., Pinkham r.h.b., R. Garrity l.h.b., Nutting g.b. Mr. Reginald Bankhart who takes great interest in all Newton's teams has been giving the boys a little extra coaching and they are in fine shape.

Last Friday Newton beat Huntington School 28 to 2. Huntington's only points resulting from a poor pass by Seavey. The teams were fairly even in weight but Newton was the faster. Johnson, a former Newton man played for Huntington but failed to show much.

Newton has only two games after the Brookline game, one with the Allen School and the other the triangular league game with Cambridge Latin.

The girls debating club has elected the following officers: Frances Rimbach, President; Helen Hardy, Vice President; Susan Dunlevy, Secretary-Treasurer. Miss Flora Smith is the girls' advisor. The boys debating club will elect officers on Monday. Half a point will be given toward a diploma to debating club members who take part in one or more debates.

A call is being made for 400 more of the same kind of scrapbooks that were made last year by the juniors and seniors. The books contain about fifteen pages of stories and jokes and are bound in attractive paper covers, made by the art department, and are sent to the various army camps to be read by wounded soldiers.

"Bill" Doherty who played left end for Newton last year is playing on the S. A. T. C. team at Tufts College.

Wednesday the English Club organized and elected the following officers: Marshall Bolster, President; Dorothy Lockett, Vice President; Katherine Holmes, Secretary; Phillip Ulder, Treasurer. Mr. Underwood will advise the club.

COMMUNITY FUND RAISED

Newton Highlands has had a chance to show its community spirit, and has not been found wanting. For over a year the Women Associates have carried on war work, raising money by various methods, from pledges to three open-air shows in the relief work, and the Women Associates feel most grateful to the men and the community. The generous sum of $10,187.37 was raised. The following committee was in charge: Albert H. Mellen, chairman, Irving M. Atwood, Henry W. Ball, Fred R. Hayward, James Kingman, John E. Mason, Jr., Frank L. Richardson.

THE THIRTEENTH STAR

"The Thirteenth Star," a comedy in three acts will be given at Players' Hall, West Newton, December 2 and 3, by the Newtonville Women's Guild. There will be three performances given for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. Hut at Newtonville. It is hoped that quite a sum may be realized to make the boys comfortable for the winter.

Monday night, December 2, a special performance is to be given for the officers and boys in training. A few tickets may be purchased for that performance from Mrs. G. W. Talbot.

Mrs. Warner Marshall, and Mrs. Augustus Wakefield are the stage managers for the play. Mrs. Albert M. Lyon is in charge of costumes, and Mrs. H. J. Nichols is in charge of the tickets.

Mr. Marsh volunteered to assume the organization and direction of the business end of the Hospital, and Mrs. Wilson, who had been, as Miss Harvey, head nurse and acting superintendent at the Newton Hospital, accepted the organization and supervision of the nursing force. General White offered the services of the constabulary to assist, and Dr. Fisher agreed that the medical staff would not be found wanting. Mr. Bray offered any and all supplies, equipment, and help which the Newton Hospital could give, and Dr. Curtis, for the board of health, offered the school nurses, the ambulance, and hearty co-operation.

All felt that immediate action was necessary, and after accepting, in the spirit in which they were made, the several offers of service, and asking Mrs. Swift, Mrs. Fisher, and Mrs. Carter to appeal for beds and bedding to the several branches in Newton, the meeting adjourned at about 9.30.

Thursday morning a detail from the Constabulary reported at the building, cleaned the lower floor, unscrewed the windows, were washed, a temporary kitchen improvised (the old kitchen has been torn down), gas stoves set up, supplies of beds, bedding, blankets, mattresses, linen and everything necessary, began to arrive from the collectors in the several wards. Cooks and maids appeared. The Motor Corps was in attendance, and carried and delivered. Telephones were installed. Gowns, masks, and medical supplies, food, utensils, and helpers in abundance appeared as if by magic. Order developed from seeming chaos, and at 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon the report went out: "The Newton Red Cross Emergency Hospital is ready for patients."

By Friday night, we had 31 beds occupied, on Saturday 50, and on Sunday 52, and more calls than could be responded to.

On Saturday, it was evident that the work called for responsible direction, and the chairman appointed a committee of five to be responsible for the work, and to manage the hospital. The committee, subsequently confirmed by directors, was composed of: H. H. Kendall, chairman, Mr. Frank Remick, Gen. Jas. G. White, Mrs. Morton Cobb, and Mrs. George M. Angier.

Sunday noon the committee met at the Hospital and decided that more room was needed, and an appeal for the use of the second story, reserved by Dr. Winslow for pupils of Lasell Seminary, was made. Dr. Winslow said, "Gentlemen, I have been expecting you. Take all you need." This made it possible to provide for such patients as could bring nurses and thus be cared for in private rooms, but it was impossible to provide extra nurses from the Hospital.

At first we were greatly handicapped by a shortage of trained nurses and the committee wishes to record its deep appreciation of the splendid devotion of women who, having been trained as nurses, had retired from active service, and in homes of their own were devoting their lives to their families and children, but at our call closed their homes, sent children to stay with friends, turned (with consent, it is true) husbands loose to forage for themselves, and gave themselves to the public service in our hospital for days and weeks. We have no fit words to voice our admiration and gratitude. The medical staff has given the care and attention necessary. Dr. Fisher has been in charge at the building, but all who sent patients have given unremitting care.

In 25 days, we have treated 168 patients, have discharged 114, and have now, October 23, 28 in the hospital. Many patients came to us well advanced with the disease, and we regret to report 26 deaths. We have had as high as 65 patients, and until within a few days had not less than 60. Serum was administered to all who came in contact with the sick, and while there have been some cases of the disease among our workers, they have been few and light.

No one not conversant with the working of an institution of this kind can imagine the multiplicity of details which require attention, or the varied calls upon those in executive positions. Mr. J. S. Marsh, who has been the managing director, has been invaluable. He has been the man to whom all have turned, and to his patient skill and business ability we are, and shall be, indebted for an accurate and careful statement, financial and statistical, of the work of the Hospital.

Mr. Southall built a kitchen in a sewing room, cleaned house, found a chef, acted as purchasing agent and caterer, and not only promised everything needed in his line, but did it, and did it well.

Mrs. Angier and Mrs. Cobb spent most of their time at the Hospital for the first two weeks, and were ready on call at all times. One, or more, of the committee has been at the Hospital every day.

Volunteer helpers came forward to assist in nursing and at the desk in ample numbers, and we were enabled to use all who offered to help. We are greatly indebted to them all. The serious character of the sickness made it important that we should have experienced and trained nurses so far as we could get them. Most of these it has been necessary to pay, but their service was none the less a worthy one, and we are glad to recognize it.

Of the devotion of those who left their homes and children to the care of others to give themselves to this service, whether paid or unpaid, we cannot speak too highly, and we would be glad to report them all by name, were it possible to do so.

The Newton Constabulary is a body of business men, organized under military discipline, to fill a gap in our line of defence occasioned by the entry of the State Guard into active service. They are all busy men, and have their own interests to care for, but there has been no day or night since our Hospital was conceived that a detail from the Constabulary has not been on duty there. They cleaned the building, they collected the offerings of supplies, they acted as orderlies in the ward, with masks and safeguards they have borne the sick and the dead, and with military promptness and efficiency they have been and done all that men should do and be in such an emergency. I do not think the Hospital could have done its work without them. General White has been with them daily in an unflinching devotion and interest.

As soon as the word went forth of our needs, contributions began to pour in. Faster than we could collect them, our friends offered all that was needed, and had we had time, it is probable that everything needed could have been had from our citizens. As it was, much had to be purchased and will remain the property of the Chapter, ready for another emergency, here or elsewhere. The care and distribution of ward and hospital linen, laundry, etc., has been completely administered by Mrs. Peabody, who took this service from Mrs. Fisher soon after the Hospital was in working order.

A very valuable assistance has been the Motor Corps. On duty early and late bringing in workers, carrying patients, at times driving a truck, even an ambulance at need, there has always been someone at our door to go or come. Mrs. Talbot and her capable, business-like assistants, with their admirable system and willing helpers, have been of great service.

The Hospital will complete its work in a few days now. Woodland Park will be a memory—a grateful memory to those who have seen its Red Cross guests. Few who have been there but will think, as they pass its gates, of the white flag with its Geneva cross which hung at its door, a symbol of that worldwide organization for which we have worked and planned, always heretofore for a distant and out-reaching service, a giving to the needy in other lands, other cities, other places.

Today Newton has seen and realized in her own borders what the Red Cross means, what it is, what it can do. Surely, the Newton Red Cross Emergency Hospital could not have been equipped, manned, organized in so prompt and efficient a way, as it has been, if there had not existed an organized body of workers, commanding the confidence of the community and its material support. Everyone has responded to our appeals, everyone was willing to do his utmost. To praise one is to make an invidious distinction when all have been ready. This experiment has cost something, but your committee believe it worth all it has cost.

H. H. KENDALL,
For the Committee.

The Graphic will print in its issue of November 15 a list of all those who took part in the work at the hospital.

LODGES

Mt. Ida Council, Royal Arcanum, of Newtonville, Mass., will hold its regular meeting at Dennison Hall, Newtonville on Monday evening, Nov. 11th when they will initiate Mayor Childs of Newton and several other prominent men of Newton, to which they have invited as guests twelve neighboring councils and to bring candidates to be initiated with theirs at this meeting.

The entertainment committee are making extensive preparation for an excellent entertainment expecting over two hundred members to attend. Forty-four new members will present a silk flag to the Council, the presentation will be made by Lieut. Henry W. Crowell and accepted by Dr. Michael Chirburg on behalf of Mt. Ida Council.

Court Genoa, Daughters of Isabella, held initiation exercises in Dennison Hall, Newtonville, for a large class of candidates, under the direction of Miss Julia Enegess, grand regent and suite, Tuesday night. An address was delivered by District Deputy Miss Alice Mitchell. Arrangements are now being made for a charity whist, to be held Monday evening, Nov. 18.

CHARITY BRIDGE

The charity bridge for the benefit of the West Newton Day Nursery will be held at the home of Mrs. Dowse on Temple street, West Newton, Thursday evening, November 14, at 8.30 o'clock. The committee earnestly urges all who purchase tables to have them occupied as far as possible that we may show our appreciation of Mrs. Dowse's courtesy in offering the use of her home. The hostess for each table is asked to provide the prize for that table of from 1 to 4 thrift stamps. Further information may be obtained of Mrs. Carl E. Pickhardt, chairman of the committee, in charge, telephone N.W. 661-W, or of Mrs. Ernest Gile, secretary, N.W. 857-M. All are urged to take a table, attend if possible, and help to make the evening a social as well as a financial success.

LIEUT. RANLETT LOSES EYE

Lieut. Louis F. Ranlett of Auburn, Mass., was wounded in the hard fighting near the Argonne, and is now at the base hospital at Neuilly. He writes home "Apparently Roosevelt, Marconi, D'Annunzio and other famous men now have more in common with me than before, as the doctor tells me I have lost the sight of my left eye." Lieut. Ranlett left the editorial staff of the Youth's Companion and joined the Iron Battalion at Harvard and later left the freshman class to enlist in the Third Officers' Training School at Camp Upton. He went over in April with the 308th infantry, was commissioned in July, and was then transferred to the 23d infantry, which has been active in the heavy fighting on the Argonne sector.

NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The Newton Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Thursday, November 21, at the home of the president, Mrs. Alvin Henry Clifford. It will be a "birthday party" and all money received by it will be given to the Red Cross as a Thanksgiving offering.

HONEY AS A SUBSTITUTE

The price of honey prevents its being used freely as a substitute. If it is obtainable, it may be used, weight for weight, to replace a part or all the sugar in a given recipe. Three-fourths of a cup of honey weighs about as much as a cup of sugar.

If it is substituted in a recipe the amount of liquid called for should be reduced one-fourth cup for every cup of honey.

Soft Honey Cake
1 egg
1 C oleo
1 C honey
1 egg
1 C sour milk
1 tsp soda
1 tsp cinnamon
1 tsp ginger
2 C flour
Rub the oleo and honey together. Add the egg well beaten, then the sour milk and the flour sifted with the soda and spices. Bake in a shallow pan.

Honey Bran Cookies
2 tsp oleo
1 C honey
1 egg
1 C flour
1 C bran
1 tsp powdered aniseed
1/4 to 1/2 tsp soda

Rub together the oleo and honey. Add the egg unbeaten and beat the mixture thoroughly. Sift together the flour, soda, and aniseed. Combine all the ingredients. Drop from a teaspoon onto a buttered tin and bake in a moderate oven.

EDITORIAL

There were many phases and angles to the contest last Tuesday which entered into the defeat of Senator John W. Weeks for re-election.

Besides the keen disappointment which we, his neighbors and friends, feel in the fact that the Commonwealth did not appreciate his constructive ability, his unusual common-sense and judgment and his extraordinary capacity for work; besides the deliberate misrepresentation of his actions and votes, and the stupid misunderstanding of his position on public matters, and besides the lowering of the dignity which should surround the Presidential office to a partisan level, we believe that the big, overwhelming fact which the election produced, is that in the tremendous problems which must come with the close of the war, and the subsequent reconstruction period, the nation will not have the services of one of the best, if indeed he is not actually the best qualified man in the country to guide and advise in their solution.

These problems include the slowing down of the present rapid tendency towards socialism, overmental control of public utilities, and the unscrabbling of the railroad situation, complicated to the highest degree by the present administration, the rights of labor, the return of our boys from France, and many others of equal moment, and to the solution of which the great Commonwealth of Massachusetts sends only a man who will be a rubber stamp.

We venture to predict that before many years have passed, the Republican voters of Massachusetts will regret the injustice they have done the Commonwealth and the nation in the defeat of Senator John W. Weeks.

There should be no misunderstanding as to the necessity of large contributions to the United War Work Fund, whether or not, the war ends this week or next. The government only supplies our boys with necessities, the War Work Fund will give them a few of the comforts they would not otherwise obtain. They will be in Europe for at least a year and a half longer and will appreciate to the utmost the supplies and entertainment which your contribution will give them. Just double the contribution you made to the Red Cross and you will hit it about right.

While there is much sympathy with the residents of Waban who are unwillingly allied politically with the Lower Falls, it should be remembered that residents on Washington street opposite the Woodland Park Hotel, nominally Auburndale people, are compelled to vote in Waban. Whoever drew the ward line between Ward 4 and 5 must have had a weird conception of its ultimate development.

The great work done by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross thru its Emergency Hospital during the recent epidemic is shown in the report which we print in full this week. It is said on high authority that this Hospital was the best work done in New England by the Red Cross.

There is cause for rejoicing that, outside of Massachusetts, the country has resented in no uncertain tones, the dictation of the President to give him a Democratic Congress.

Newton's representatives in both the State Senate and House were elected without opposition. Politics were evidently adjourned to that extent in this city.

The Crystal Lake bathing question has been settled at last—possibly.

SOMEbody's DOLLARS WILL DO IT
—I WONDER IF THEY'LL BE YOURS?

By Bruce Barton

I will tell you what will happen some night this winter in France. Some night when it's cold and dark. There will be a rustling through the front line trench, where our boys stand guard. And a heaven laden Secretary will make his way along.

In his hands will be great steaming pots: in his pocket chocolate and cigarettes.

From one man to another he will go, passing a cup full of hot coffee to hands that tremble with the cold; bringing the comfort of a bit of sweet and a smoke.

Men will hail him cheerily, slapping him on the back; and when he has gone things will be a little easier in that trench because he has passed that way.

How much will it cost to make that trip—do you suppose? Counting the pittance that the Secretary is paid, and the cost of the chocolate and the cigarettes and all?

Five dollars? Twenty-five dollars? I do not know.

But whether it is five dollars or twenty-five, I'd like to think that it is my five or twenty-five—wouldn't you? That some night when it's cold and lonesome, my money and yours might send a Secretary out along that front line trench. Let's make up our minds that we are going to pay for a score of those trips. A score of the nights this winter shall be our nights. —nights when the boys greet joyously the chocolate and cigarettes that our money provided; and are happier because our representative has passed.

NEWTON CENTRE WOMAN'S CLUB

On Saturday evening, November 9, in Bray Hall, under the auspices of the War Service Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club "Giving Pictures of the War Posters" will be presented. Dancing from 10.00 to 12.00. Light refreshments.

Mrs. W. C. Crawford will give the first in a series of six Current Events lectures on Thursday, November 14. Residents of Newton Centre may not be admitted to club meetings until further notice.

TO THE BOYS OVER THERE

I'll grant that you are scrappers And handy with the guns, From the bombers down to sappers But still you're only children Compared to us in night. Wait till they draft us married guys, We'll show you how to fight!

You've done some fancy killing And shown a nimble bean, In spirit you are willing But you are raw and green And juvenile and caw. And puerile, weak and light; Wait till you see us married guys, We'll show you how to fight!

For we are scarred by seasons Of long, intensive strife, And, too, for various reasons We do not value life. Ah, Ludendorf and Hindy And Kaiser Bill, Good Night! They're going to draft us married guys— You've just begun to fight!

LETTER FROM DR. FISHER

The following letter explains itself:

Chairman Newton Chapter of Red Cross:

A note of thanks was received by Mrs. Fisher and myself from Mr. Kendall for the work done at the Newton Red Cross Emergency Hospital. Whatever help we may have given we gave most willingly and we feel that, on the contrary, we should thank you for the privilege of being associated with such an inspiring and satisfactory piece of work.

I, especially wish to thank you for the prompt response to my appeal for the Hospital, and I only wish that you and your Board of Directors might have been in the wards and seen and felt the keen appreciation of the patients, and the tremendous satisfaction of the nurses and physicians who were enabled through the Red Cross to minister to their most urgent needs. It was an inspiration for all who worked at the Hospital and I wish to thank the Newton Red Cross for making possible such an opportunity for Public Service.

Very respectfully yours,
Irving J. Fisher.

CLASSES IN FIRST AID AND HOME NURSING

The Education Committee of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross urges registration for classes in First Aid and Home Nursing. The recent epidemic has shown the value of this training, and all should prepare for the next call. Apply to Talbot House (Newton North 2717) or to local representative: Mrs. Harry Stebbins, Newton; Mrs. A. D. Salinger, Newtonville; Miss Emma Newhall, Mrs. Jas. A. Hutchinson, West Newton; Miss Emily Jordan, Lower Falls; Miss Margaret Sullivan, Upper Falls; Mrs. C. C. Blaney, Waban; Mrs. Frank H. Williams, Newton Centre; Dr. Caroline Y. Wentworth, Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee (chairman), Newton Highlands.

AMBULANCE FUND

Will any Julia or Juliette contribute to the upkeep of the ambulance named "Juliette" belonging to the American Fund for the French Wounded in Paris? This ambulance was the first to go into St. Mihiel with help for the people after its evacuation by the Germans. Mrs. Mortimer Forest writes of their hurried call and says: "We set our Juliette's heart to throbbing with one turn of the crank." Will not the Julias and Juliettes here help to keep Juliette's heart throbbing?

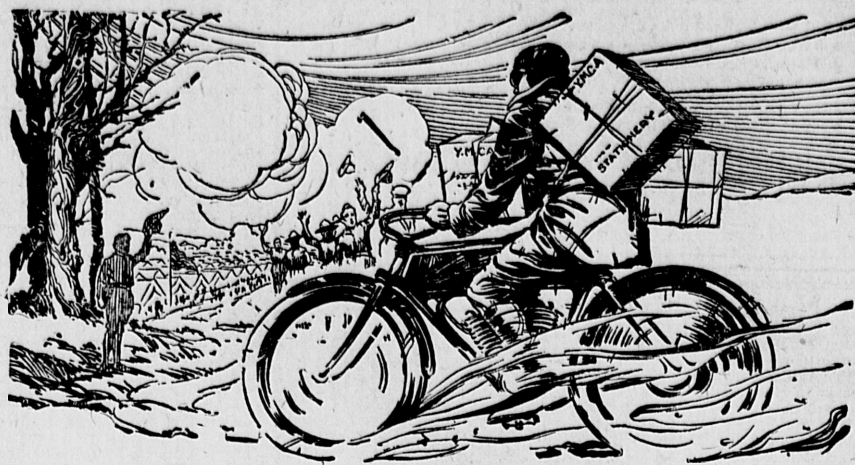

Contributions will be received and acknowledged by Mrs. Sydney Harwood, 263 Waverley avenue, treasurer of the Newton French Relief Society.

THE PLAYERS

Cousin Kate, the clever play presented by The Players for four evenings this week has been given by the following cast at Players' Hall, West Newton: Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Miss Hope Parks, Miss Katherine Wakefield, Mrs. Clarence M. Glazier, H. N. Pratt, Charles E. Hatfield, and Waldo Glidden. Those in charge of the performance are: A. L. Wakefield, acting manager, Frederic T. Parks, stage manager, and Mrs. A. L. Wakefield and Mrs. Warner Marshall, assistants. The Players' Orchestra under the direction of A. H. Handley, provide a splendid program at each performance.

Misses Leslie Bancroft, Marion Burrage, Ruth Homer, Margaret King, Elizabeth Newhall, Mabel Pratt, Dorothy Puffer, and Ada Whitmore served as ushers.

Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 151 Franklin street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass., are showing the latest and up-to-date Electric, Gas and Oil Lighting Fixtures for homes and public buildings to be found in this country. All lighted to show the desired effects.

Did one of these 200 letters come to you?

A DUSTY courier slid off his motor-cycle at the big double hut in a French town and tramped up to the canteen.

"Got a note for the secretary from my commanding officer," he said. He handed a piece of paper across the counter to a smiling middle-aged man.

This is the note the Secretary read:

We landed here three days ago—miles from anywhere. Can you send us some supplies, especially writing paper? This is the first chance the boys have had to write home and we have no paper to give them.

The older man looked up and grinned.

"Got you away off in the woods, have they?"

"I'll say they have!"

"Can you carry anything?"

"All you'll give me!"

From the shelves the secretary took big packages of paper and envelopes.

"Too much?" He asked.

"It will be gone ten minutes after I get back!" said the boy.

"Tonight," the secretary went on, "I'll drive out a truck with more supplies and a man to stay with you. And tell the boys that if their letters are finished, I'll bring them back with me tonight, and get them into the mails."

An hour later that motor-cyclist whizzed into camp, loaded down with writing paper, and in ten minutes letters were being written to 200 American homes.

The United War Work organizations know what letters mean to American soldiers. They know that fighters want to get letters and want to write letters.

So in every hut and on every ship your boys find writing paper, envelopes, ink, pens and pencils, and tables where they can get off by themselves and tell the folks back home how things are going.

Millions of sheets are given away free every week to American boys overseas. That is why the letters you get from your boy are written on the stationery of one of these organizations. It is one of the plans to bridge the Atlantic. Help keep the letters coming! Your dollars will supply a whole Company for several days. Dig deep today; help to bind together France and here.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

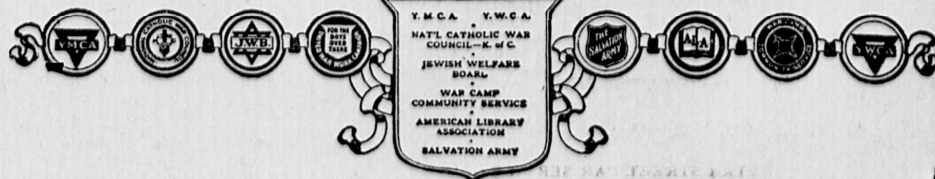

The need is for a sum of 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000. By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved. Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3,600 Recreation Buildings	2,500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1,000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "Secretaries"
2,000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul!

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs. Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!

Are Your PICTURES Suffering?

How many years since an expert has examined them?

It is the rule for owners of pictures to neglect them until their condition is so bad that the expense of their restoration is many times as great as if they had received proper care.

We give especial attention to restoration, framing and regilding and the quality of our work is unsurpassed.

Our Carrig-Rohane Shop, headed by Mr. Hermann Dudley Murphy, unquestionably America's most original and artistic designer of frames, has been the leading influence in the development of taste in framing for the last dozen years.

DARE SPEAK THE TRUTH

By Winifred Virginia Jordan

Don't say you dare not speak the truth.

You know to be the truth; Not that I mean the speech that hurts, And is the part of youth:

But dare to say the thing you know With all your heart is right, Though it bring down upon your head The crushing weight of Might!

Dare speak what you know is the truth, And face your haunting fears; For good comes oft upon the wings Of Sorrow's blinding tears;

Dare stand for right though thunders roar, Though storms upon you break; There's one who went upon the Cross And died—for Truth's dear sake!

When lies strike out with truth-like mein, To shine in this world's mart, They'll soon return on stealthy feet, And stab you to the heart;

For lies are acts, and like all acts, They bring you back their kind, To rob you of life's choicest gifts And steal your peace of mind.

Dare speak the truth in spite of what You think the people think; For if you don't, behind your back Will flash the sneering wink;

Don't chase the crowd you know are wrong; Stand up and fight your fight: For you'll have satisfaction then Triumphant in the right!

Don't speak the truth with worried face; Make speaking worth the while! Say what you say with pleasing grace And sunshine of a smile!

And you will find that if through life You do the best you can, You'll stand for what you ought to be—

The highest type of Man!

The Goat's Foot.

Did you ever notice the shape and the build of a goat's foot? Its fitness for rock climbing is only one sign of God's marvelous care in fitting his creatures for the kind of work they must do.

Convincing "Argufiers."

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

One seldom uses the term "together" without associating it with Dr. Hale of revered memory, for he, perhaps earlier than anyone else emphasized the great value of doing things together. Since the war began it seems as if his preaching was beginning to bear fruit, for never before have differing forces so sunk their individuality and come together to accomplish the one important end, the winning of the war. We may have called it by more high sounding terms of co-operation, co-ordination and the like, but it has been in reality the good old Anglo-Saxon work, "together," which has characterized the action of the American people once they set their minds and hearts upon accomplishing the making of the world safe for democracy. It was not until the Allies united their forces under the command of Marshal Foch that real progress has been made and so it has been in other matters pertaining to the war.

Next week in the United War Work Drive comes another example of the wonderful togetherness of the forces working for the social, mental, and spiritual well-being of the boys both here and overseas. Truly the lion and the lamb are lying down together. Stories of how the Catholic, the Protestant, and the Jew have worked interchangeably among the boys are too familiar to need any repetition. The fact remains they are doing it, all the time. Under these conditions nothing could be more appropriate than that the securing of funds for all these activities should be done simultaneously, together. Each organization is doing its work effectively and it must be continued many months even were peace to come tomorrow.

The educational side of the library work is an important and far-reaching one, the full significance of which may not have been fully appreciated. It is not merely books of fiction simply for the entertainment of the boys that are demanded, but much more largely the expensive scientific and technical works from which they can get information which will help them to advance themselves, now while they are still in the army, and later on when they come back once more to civilian life.

In the last drive it was merely an opportunity for a good investment for ourselves. In this one it is a good investment for our boys. Let us remember, that and give just as much and even more than at first it seems possible.

State Federation

Wednesday, Nov. 13, Fall Meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, in the First Congregational Church, Marlboro. Morning session at 10.30, afternoon session at 1.30. General subject: "The Industrial Situation." Mrs. George T. Rice will present the Problem of Women in War Work and other speakers will present different phases at the morning session. In the afternoon Dr. George N. Nasmyth will speak of "Labor after the War." Box luncheon. Coffee may be procured. Train leaves North Station, Boston, at 8.30 A. M. A local train from Waltham at 8.22 connects at South Acton with the train for Marlboro.

Thursday, Nov. 21, is the date of the postponed Civics Conference. Mrs. Williams Ward Whitcher, chairman of the department, desires to receive all topics to be discussed at this conference by Saturday, Nov. 16. Address Mrs. Williams at 179 College Ave., Somerville.

Newton Federation

On account of several considerations, among them being the probable impossibility of carrying out the Baby Clinic demonstration, owing to influenza conditions, the Fall Meeting of the Newton Federation has been postponed from November 13 to December 11, when the same program will be carried out in the same place.

Local Announcements

Nov. 11 the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Sanford Thompson of Walnut street.

A. for war work.

Attention is called to the special meeting of the Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service to be held on Tuesday evening, November 12, at the New Church, Newtonville.
Miss Marjorie Crocker, one of the authors of "Over Persimmon Pond," will give an account of her work with the refugees of France.

Local Happenings

"Macbeth" is the tragedy which the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club has selected for its study this season.
At the meeting of the club on Saturday, November 2nd, held at the home of the president, Miss Mary L.
Sweeney, on Columbus street, the third act of the play was read and discussed under the leadership of Mrs.
F. H. Stratton. The sum of $2 was voted to the West Newton Music School and $5 for the Y. M. C. A. Hut in Newtonville.

"New England Poets" was the subject of the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands at this week's meeting, held at the home of Mrs. E.
C. Winslow. Mrs. D. W. Eagles gave an account of Whittier and his poems;
Mrs. O'Connor spoke of Longfellow and Mrs. Ogden of Lowell, including some personal reminiscences, which were of unusual interest.

At the meeting of the Newton
Mothers' Club on November 4, Prof.
H. P. Talbot of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, gave an illuminating account of Chemistry and its part in the War. A number of gas masks were shown and explained. The relation of chemistry to the food problem was also touched upon. This was the first meeting with the new president, Mrs. E. Ray Spear, in the chair, and was held with Mrs. Edwin Rogers of Temple street, West Newton.

A study of "Much Ado About Nothing" has occupied the attention of the members of the Newton Highlands C.
L. S. C. for the past two meetings. On Monday of this week the club met with Mrs. C. Peter Clark of Newton Centre and under her direction finished the reading of the play and discussed various points through an interchange of questions.

The Christian Era Study Club met with its president, Miss Ella B. Smith, at her home, 15 Vista avenue, Monday afternoon, November 4. Three very interesting papers were read on Mary Tudor, queen of England from 1553-1558, the "Course of the Parliament" in England at that time, and the "Protestant Martyrs of England." All told the sad story of the cruel persecutions inflicted upon the Protestants by the Catholics, and the horrors which gave the queen the title of "Bloody Mary."

The first meeting of the Waban Woman's Club for the season was held on Monday at the Waban Neighborhood Club. Several interesting reports by the chairman of various committees and reports of the Newton and State Federation meetings were submitted.

Mrs. Marcus Morton spoke of the cavass to be made in the interests of the Newton Red Cross Volunteer Service Bureau. Miss Joslin of the State House spoke of the four University Extension Courses which are being offered by the club to clubs in a sufficient number of women are interested. These courses are on "Foods and Nutrition," "Textiles or Fabrics," "Household Management," and
"French."

The new principal of the Roger Wolcott School, Miss Lawton, was the guest of the club for the afternoon.
Club members furnished a very pleasing musical program under the direction of Mrs. Gifford LeClear which included violin and cello selections by Mrs. T. H. Piser and Miss Emily Piser, accompanied by Mrs.
Robert Ingram, and groups of songs by Mrs. Herbert R. Stearns and Mrs.
F. W. Jones with accompaniments by Mrs. LeClear.

Following the reception to the new officers, tea was served under the direction of Miss Jessie Gould. Mrs.
Pietro Isola and Mrs. William H.
Gould poured, and several of the younger club members served.

The next meeting will be an all-day service meeting on November 18.

A delightful program and a business meeting of more than usual interest marked new members' day of the Brighthelmstone Club on November 4. Mrs. H. Henry Alline, presided and the usual reports were read.
Mrs. W. J. McDonald spoke of the Nurses' Survey now being conducted by the Red Cross, calling attention to the questionnaires being sent out to secure nurses. She also made a plea for support of the Community House on Harvard Avenue. Mrs. I. E.
Prager, chairman of the War Service Committee asked for the fullest cooperation of members in this important work, and said that plans were now under way for the winter's work, details of which will be announced later.

Mrs. Wallace Williams gave a group of readings from the works of T. B.
Aldrich, Mary Wilkins, and Robert Browning, concluding with a collection of war poems. Vocal numbers were given by Miss Arline Grace, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Sadler. A reception to the new members was tendered by officers of the club and afterward refreshments were served in the tea room.

The open meeting of the Auburndale
Woman's Club on November 5 crowded the Congregational Church with a most appreciative audience. Delightful music was furnished by the Liberty Chorus of twenty-one young women led by Mrs. W. J. Spaulding. The organ was finely played by Mr. Benjamin Whelpley, the organist of the Arlington Street Church.

The address by Lieut. Ralph Lewis, who fought in France for twenty months with the Canadian troops, was a series of graphic descriptions of army life—the friendly cooties, the hap-hazard chow, the deadly mud, the varied forms of barrage, the horrors of ghastly wounds, the frenzy of the charge over the top, the smiles on the faces of the brave boys, the mingled pathos, jollity, sorrows, and heroism of the great war. Lieutenant Lewis told many witty stories, all pointed, and gave his hearers an excellent idea of many phases of the grim, glorious work our boys are doing.

The second speaker of the evening, Mlle. Lucile Pierrard, delegate from the French Red Cross, spoke with all the eloquence, grace, and sympathetic charm of her nation. She gave a
work, especially of the American hospitals that she had seen. She told of the great satisfaction which wealthy women, accustomed to luxury, are finding in the hard work and heavy demands of Red Cross service; and she painted many sad pictures of the terrible tragedies which center in the Red Cross hospitals, most of all the children who "never, never laugh."

Both speakers had high praise for the splendid work of the Y. M. C. A., and the meeting was a good preparation for the coming drive.

For its meeting on Tuesday afternoon the Newtonville Woman's Guild shared with the Newton Teachers' Association, the closing lecture of the course by Earl Barnes. Germany was his subject. Maps exhibited showed Germany of the past, of the days before the last drive and of what is now left of her. He closed with the exceedingly dramatic question, "How long shall she keep it? Please God, only a few days." The lecture was given in the Congregational Church and was preceded by the singing of America. The annual exhibition of the Needlework Guild will be held at the next meeting.

On Wednesday morning the members of the Social Science Club met for the first time this season at the Hunnewell Club with the new president, Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, in the chair.
The death of two club members since the annual meeting was noted, Mrs.
A. S. Twombly and Mrs. Clarence C.
Smith.

Particular satisfaction was taken in the report submitted by Mrs. Edmund
I. Leeds of the Education committee of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.
The report of the improved lunch room facilities at the Classical high school and her own attestation to the nourishing and wholesome lunches now provided there. The sum of $10 was voted toward the furnishings of the Y. M. C. A. Hut at Newtonville.

A full discussion of the policy of the club for the ensuing year occupied a large portion of the session and it was finally voted that the club continue to hold weekly meetings, those on the first, second and fourth Wednesdays to be held at the Y. M. C. A. and to be devoted to war work, those of the third and fifth Wednesdays at the Hunne-well Club for the accustomed work of the club.

An exceedingly interesting account of the Biennial at Hot Springs prepared by Mrs. F. E. Stanley was read by Mrs. George E. Merrill.

ALDERMEN MEET

What started out to be an ordinary routine meeting of the aldermen last Monday night, soon proved quite interesting and some important matters were finally settled, after months of consideration.

At a hearing held on a proposed change of ward lines between Precinct 2 of ward 4 and precinct 3 of ward 5 residents of both precincts appeared in favor and in opposition. Messrs. E. R. Allen, W. A. Loud, O. C. Lombard, A. W. Holland and Dr. O. A. Lothrop spoke in favor saying in brief that this part of the city was socially as well as physically allied to Waban. They attended its churches, schools and clubs and thought they ought to be voters in that village.

The voting place at Lower Falls was out of the way for them and one man had part of his mail sent to Lower Falls, while part came thru Waban. They said that all the residents of the disputed territory but one had signed the petition. Later the City Clerk read a letter from Messrs. Enholm and Dennis requesting their names withdrawn from that petition.

Mr. G. M. Heathcote led the opposition and partly told the board it could do as it pleased, inasmuch as the law allowed precinct lines to be changed only in years of the state census (1925) and it would be necessary, therefore to go to the Legislature if this petition was granted. And if it did go to the Legislature Mr. Heathcote said the real fight would be put up there.

Mr. Alfred Murray also spoke in opposition. Another matter which caused debate was the refusal of the Finance Committee to recommend the retirement of Police Officer Henry L. Bates, after 20 years of service. Alderman Angier said the committee believed this pension should be considered a reward for faithful and efficient service and that this man was not worthy to receive it.

Alderman Hollis said only vague charges had been made but he had never seen any reason why this pension ought not to be granted.

President Early took the floor to say that there was no question as to the physical disability but the law was not mandatory—and in his opinion the Finance Committee deserved the thanks of the tax payers for standing out on this request.

He claimed that the officer did not have a good record, that he had run up bills at the various stores and that he ought not to be rewarded with a pension. Alderman Angier read a not over enthusiastic letter from Chief Mitchell and the position of the committee was sustained. Alderman Hollis alone voting No.

There was also a long and tedious discussion over the matter of bathing facilities at Crystal Lake and other parts of the city, the matter coming up in the form of a majority report favoring no action in regard to a bathhouse at Crystal Lake and a minority report favoring an inexpensive bathhouse for local use only.

A motion to refer the whole matter to the Planning Board, or to the 1919 board, was defeated and the majority report was adopted by a vote of 11 to 6.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for various small appropriations including $100 for care of, insecure building on Pleasant street, and the sale of the old Ash street school house at Auburndale or $200 to shutter its windows. $1000 was also requested for police trees by the Forestry Dept. and granted.

F. Gasbarri was granted leave to withdraw on his claim for abatement of drainage betterment, John F. Maguire, Prince street was granted a gasoline permit and C. A. Ferson, Winchester street a permit for a 3-car garage.

E. S. McPhee asked for a license as second hand dealer and various appointments were made of street betterments. Residents of Brewster and Carver roads asked for abatement of betterments levied on account of street constructions.

The West End Street Railway Co. was granted until Nov. 1, 1919, in which to complete work on the loop at Lake Street.

The following appreciation was offered by Alderman Angier and adopted by unanimous rising vote.

The heavy burdens which war conditions have imposed on the people of this city have been greatly augmented the past few weeks by the severe epidemic of influenza. With hundreds of cases of illness and with nearly 200 deaths, a situation was created which taxed all the resources and reserve power of our citizenship.

Two organizations rendered especially valuable work in this contest with disease and death. The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross deserves the gratitude of all our people for its splendid work in establishing, equipping and maintaining the Emergency Hospital at the former site of Parlo Hotel and over 100 patients received the best of care. It has commanded our admiration, both for its unequalled readiness for service and its efficiency of organization.

The thanks of the city are also due the members of the Newton Constabulary for the valuable work done by them in connection with the operation of the Emergency Hospital. The spirit which leads men in all conditions of life to the cheerful performance of unusual and oft-times menial tasks is not merely the perfume of fulfillment of official duty but is a noteworthy expression of American character of which we may all be proud.

It is hereby ORDERED, that this appreciation be spread in the records of this board and a copy transmitted by the City Clerk to the appropriate officers of these two organizations.

COPLEY THEATRE—Bernard Shaw's comedy, "You Never Know," will be the play of the Copley Theatre the coming week. This play by the brilliant Irishman who is unquestionably the leader among modern playwrights was successful when it was acted at the Copley Theatre two seasons ago, and its revival comes in response to many requests for its repetition.

Its plot centres about the personality of a butler, and it is filled with the characteristic Shavian wit that has been no small factor in the making of Shaw's reputation. It tells a coherent story, its characters are diversified in the extreme, and there is scarcely a moment either in its action or in its dialogue when the audience is not kept in roars of laughter.

THREE MEN AND THE VISION THEY SAW

By Bruce Barton

In a certain city dwell three men. And by accident of birth one of them is a Catholic and one is a Protestant and one is a Jew.

For thirty years they have engaged in business side by side, and the Catholic has not dealt with the Protestant; and the Catholic and the Protestant have had no dealings with the Jew.

"What is he to me?" each man has said. "He is not of my faith: I will avoid him."

So for thirty years they have dwelt together, strangers in a friendly world. Then came the shadow of a fearful war. And out of those three homes three boys went forth alone. Three fathers waited heart-worn for the letters from over there.

"There are Soldiers of Friendliness over here," the boys wrote home. "They bring us chocolate, and motion pictures, and baseball, and good lectures; and the memory of mother and of God."

"Help those friendly agencies when you have the chance," each boy wrote home.

So it happened that the three fathers found themselves working shoulder to shoulder in a great campaign for funds.

Not as a Catholic and a Protestant and a Jew—but as good citizens united in a common cause.

And as they worked they came to know each other, and they were ashamed that for so many years they had been strangers side by side.

"Surely this is one of the compensations of war," they said, "that in our deeper love for our boys we have learned a new respect for one another."

So a new spirit was born into that city. As though in its heart it had discovered something of the greater religion, whose God is Father and whose faith and creed are love.

WOMEN'S CONFERENCE ON WAR-TIME FEEDING

Thursday, November 14, at 3 P.M.

The Newton District Food Conservation Committee has arranged a conference for women in the hall of Bigelow school, Newton, on Thursday, November 14, at 3 o'clock, to consider the subject of proper nutrition in war times.

Mrs. Harriet W. Dresser, of the National Civic Federation, will speak on "Health and High Prices."

There will be stereoscopic pictures, and following the talk, an opportunity will be given for discussion and questions.

This is a subject which should be of interest to every woman in the community. The conservation measures made necessary by the demands of the army, and our allies, together with the scarcity of all commodities dependent upon transportation, and the general prevailing high prices of all food stuffs, have made the problem of providing her family with adequate nourishment a very serious one for the average housekeeper.

The Newton Committee's campaign for the winter will be planned largely to meet their need, and it will start its work with this meeting, which it hopes will interest a large audience.

The Newton Girl Scout Troop will enliven the meeting with Liberty Songs.

Some very interesting war posters made by French children and loaned by the French government to the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain, will be on exhibition.

The committee extends an earnest invitation to women, girls, and all who are interested, to be present. No tickets required.

NEWTON TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The largest post graduate class since the course was established, which registers now thirty-one members, is doing regular full day work in shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping and other business subjects. At the present rate of progress they will complete the course and be ready for secretarial positions before the close of the school year.

Corporal Ernest Siebert, 1914, 103d Ambulance Section, who was reported some weeks ago as on the casualty list, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous bravery. Despite the fact that he was severely wounded, he remained on duty, bringing wounded men from the field during the Chateau Thierry offensive.

From the class of 1919 of members, sixty-eight worked last summer. The highest salary made by anyone was $24.12 a week. The total amount earned by the class was $4,888.55, of which $2,168.95 was saved.

Miss Caroline Doonan, since 1911 one of the English faculty, has been given a leave of absence, and is this year taking in the South. High School, Cleveland, Ohio, where she is head of the English department.

A great majority of the girls of the class of 1919 are engaged in active war work for the government. Quite a large group are employed at the Watertown Arsenal, taking the places of men, doing stenographic and cost accounting work. They are as follows: Henrietta Lynch, Martha Newton, Elizabeth O'Brien, Agnes Meehan, Helen Purcell, Alice Purcell, Mary Considine, Louise Delaney, Irene McCarthy, Ella Smith, May De Courcy, Katherine Le Verte, Jennie Bowen, Mildred Dalbier, and Edna Brown.

Another group doing bank work, are the following: Kathleen Desmond, Marian Duff, Anna Haffner, Evelyn Jefford, Lily Nielson, Ruth Perkins and Helen Whalen.

Francis White and James Garvey have joined the S. A. T. C. at Boston College, where they are training for the army.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION
The annual meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association will be held Monday, November 11, at 10:30 A.M., at the Newton Club, Newtonville.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES

Sunday night will be Canadian night at Trinity Church, Newton Centre. Many requests have been made to repeat at Newton Centre, the services held at St. Paul's Cathedral in September, when a great number were unable to get in.

Owing to the epidemic, a repetition was not possible until now. Next Sunday night the Rector, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, will repeat at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, at 7.30, the address "Brave Canada." The great work of the Canadians in the war will be celebrated.

"The maple leaf" the popular Canadian song, will be sung, also "Rule Britannia" and "God save the king." There will be singing of familiar hymns at 7.15. Sunday morning at 10.45 there will be a service celebrating the American victory at Sedan, also the prospect that the end of the war is in sight. Subject "Babylon is fallen, and the great dragon is cast out, or God's hand in the war."

Monday night Brigadier Mary Shepard of the Salvation Army will speak at Parish Hall, on the occasion of the Men's Club ladies' night, on her experiences at the front where the American troops were fighting.

DISTRICT NURSES' MINISTRY

Helped Allay Epidemic Fear and Relieve Distress Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held Monday at the Newton Clubhouse, with the president, Mrs. H. P. Converse, in charge. The old officers were continued in office for another year.

The people of Newton will be interested to hear what Miss Givan, the District Nurse, has to say of her work during the past year.

In presenting the annual report of the district nursing for the year 1917-1918, it will be noted that the work has not differed materially from that of preceding years. The activities undertaken in the earlier years have become fairly well crystallized and with which you are all familiar. Briefly the work may be considered as:

Nursing care of the sick. Instruction of the patient and members of his family in matters of health, co-operation with health authorities and social agencies in improving health conditions.

The persons reached by district nursing care are very largely members of the wage-earning group. About 75 per cent of our patients are female.

The maternity service has perhaps always been the most important part of our work. During the past year, we supplemented the regular maternity service, whenever possible, by the addition of a prenatal service. This consists of giving the mothers two visits of instruction prior to maternity. The instruction and education which the nurse can give at such times results in many more of our mothers taking proper care of themselves, insuring proper attention through pregnancy, and helps materially to make suitable arrangements for adequate care at the time of confinement.

Innumerable forms of chronic diseases which have been unsuitable for hospitals, but which could be attended to in their own homes, have been cared for. These cases include cancer in many phases, paralysis, chronic rheumatism, ulcers, etc.

Again, cases frequently occur where medical aid has been called in so late that any attempt to move the patient to more favorable surroundings would probably cause a fatal ending to the illness. Here the nurse, in spite of disadvantages, is often able to make the patient more comfortable and improve conditions generally.

Many homes are kept together and untold misery prevented by the head of the house being able to remain as a moral support to the rest. Some instances might be quoted where the presence of the father or mother, even though very ill, has been the means of keeping order and regularity in the home, while without this the whole establishment would have been broken up. The moral advantages, especially where there are young children, can hardly be overestimated.

During the past few months we have had many interesting patients under our care:

We were called one morning to visit a mother and new baby in a very dismal house in one of the poorer districts. Sounds of quarreling children came from every room as we entered.

The halls and stairs were very dark and dusty. The mother's room was up two flights, and contained only a stove, a broken chair, a table, and a most uncomfortable bed. Children of all ages were running noisily in and out of the room. The new baby had arrived shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning, and it was now after 11 o'clock. Nothing had been done for either the mother or baby since the visit of the doctor in the early morning. The mother was bathed, her hair combed and her bed made as comfortable as a very scant supply of bed linen would permit. The baby was then oiled and bathed beside the kitchen stove, and dressed with what few articles of clothing the nurse was able to collect, belonging mostly to the older children. The following morning the nurse brought with her clothes for the baby and a nightgown for the mother, who expressed her appreciation by bestowing many blessings upon her.

Several weeks ago we visited a pathetic case—An old lady 75 years of age, suffering from cancer of the breast. The only other member of the family was her 90-year-old husband, who was so deaf that he was unable to hear even a knock at the door, and so feeble he could do little in the way of caring for his sick wife. They told us in the course of our visit that their only child had died in the "old country." We were able on our visits to make our patient more comfortable by bathing and rubbing her aching limbs, and by fresh dressings over the wound. She seemed to look forward to the visits of the nurse, for seldom did anyone call except the doctor. Each visit, however, found her in a weaker condition, and finally after attending her for about three weeks, one morning we were told that she had passed away during the night.

A quaint old Irish lady, who claims to be 103 years old, had the misfortune to fall downstairs while walking in her sleep, breaking her leg near the hip. Not having sand bags with which to hold the leg in correct position, we improvised by padding bricks with pieces of flannel and placing these on either side of the leg.

As she was obliged to lie absolutely flat on her back for eight weeks, we supplied her with a rubber ring, and this, together with daily alcohol rubs, prevented the forming of bed sores so likely to occur from constant pressure. The bone gradually knit, and after about the ninth week, she was allowed to sit up out of bed, and now gets around slowly by means of a cane.

A short but gratifying case was that of a little three-year-old Italian boy whose foot and leg were badly burned by pulling a boiling coffee pot off the stove. The first few dressings were extremely painful, but the little fellow was very patient, and in about ten days the burn had almost entirely disappeared, leaving little or no scar.

During the early part of the summer, visits were made daily on a five months old Polish baby. This child had never been healthy, and appeared to be mentally deficient. Its hands and legs were deformed at birth, and

MANY VOLUNTEERS

Emergency Hospital Splendidly Supported in this City

The list of those who served at the Newton Red Cross Hospital during the grip epidemic is a list of men and women who, at a time of emergency, by their work and their efforts made possible hospital care for many stricken with the disease.

The women volunteers, the Red Cross Motor Corps and the members of the Newton Constabulary all helped to transform the Woodland Park in a few hours into a hospital and then helped to carry it on successfully for weeks.

Of the volunteer nurses Miss Malda and Miss Marguerite Flanders had the honor of being the first. They served on both day and night duty for several days. Against the names of some of the records remarks like these:—"in moderate circumstances, gave the greater part of her time at exceptional sacrifice," "served for several days leaving her home to come," "excellent worker," "left home, giving entire time, placing her child with friends," "faithful worker." Four of the nurses had to give up because of contracting cases of influenza, three because of colds and one because of tonsillitis.

The list follows:

Volunteer Nurses

Mrs. F. H. Keever, Auburndale.
Mrs. C. E. Valentine, Auburndale.
Mrs. W. G. Richardson, Newton Centre.

Miss Jeanette Hamington, Newton.

WAR FUND LAGGING

Only $75,000 of a $300,000 Quota Pledged to Date

Newton is lagging far behind on the work of raising $300,000 for the United War Work Campaign, the figures announced this morning by Comptroller William H. Zoller show that only $75,000 has thus far been pledged and the end of the campaign will take place Monday night.

There are various reasons why the fund has gone so slowly, the principal one being the diversion caused Monday and Tuesday by the celebration of Victory day. In addition the people do not seem to realize that this splendid work of caring for our boys "over there" must go on regardless of the cessation of hostilities. The men will be in camp for at least another year and will need the comforts possible with this money far more than if they were actually on the firing line.

The villages of Newton, West Newton, Newton Highlands and Upper Falls are showing the best returns thus far, but every village for the fund must show, even in those villages. Among the large individual subscriptions obtained for the War Work drive are the following: Charles E. Riley, $5000; Mrs. Frank A. Day, $5000; M. L. Madden, $2500; James E. Clark, $2000; Joseph B. Jamieson, $1500; Frank M. Sheldon, $1250; pupils of the Allen military school gave $225 in cash and several hundred dollars in pledges within a quarter of an hour.

There was a fine meeting Sunday night at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, in aid of the War Work Drive. The Constabulary band marched to the church, accompanied by the Newtonville Company of the Constabulary, and the Boy Scouts, and the band played the war songs.

The leading speaker was George R. Chapman, financial secretary of the British Y. M. C. A., who gave a vivid account of the condition in the trenches and the war work. He told how the English and French watched very closely the work of the American boys when they first came into the trenches, and how pleased they were when our boys not merely did what they were told to do, but always went on and did more. He described the great achievement of the conquest of the Argonne forest by the American troops. Military experts had always said it would be impossible to take this strong position and had felt it would be necessary to go around it. The American boys went through it, in spite of its horrible difficulties. Mr. Chapman has been decorated by King George with the Order of the British Empire.

Charles D. Kepner, Jr., who has been with the American Y. M. C. A. for the French soldiers, gave an interesting account of this work and of how greatly it is appreciated by the French. Rev. Mr. Ross, pastor of the Methodist Church, offered prayer, Lloyd W. Allen, chairman of the Newtonville Committee, presided, and urged support of the War Work drive.

MORE GOOD WORK

Newton Constabulary Shows Its Mettle at Emergency Hospital

The performance of duty by the Newton Constabulary during the influenza epidemic is beyond praise. The Emergency Hospital at the Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale, conducted by the Newton branch of the Red Cross through a sub-committee, could never have been as successful had it not been for the aid rendered by members of the Constabulary. Over 80 per cent of the members performed duty.

The honor of opening the hospital and doing the necessary work of cleaning the building and preparing for the patients belongs to Company F, Auburndale, the first company to respond for service on September 26. The duties of the Constabulary officially ceased at noon Friday, October 25, but members of Co. E, West Newton, volunteered to remain on duty until the hospital had been thoroughly cleaned up, and all beds, bedding, supplies of every description, medicines, surgical appliances and stores had been disposed of, so that the last member of the Constabulary ceased work on Sunday, October 27.

The members served as ambulance drivers, stretcher bearers, orderlies and nurses. Many of the men served two, three, and in some cases, four times. Guards and fire patrols were carefully instructed in the use of fire apparatus and every precaution was taken to avoid the danger of fire or any serious casualty. The performance of this work in conjunction with the somewhat trying tour of police duty which had just been completed lasting from July 4 until September 25, when the men had been on duty from midnight to seven o'clock in the morning, must abundantly prove to the City of Newton that the Constabulary is composed of public-spirited men who are ready for duty at any and all times.

The members of the staff of the Constabulary were constantly on duty. It would be impossible to specify any individual who was more worthy of praise than any other.

The companies served as follows:

Co. A, Newtonville, 6 officers, 92 men.
Co. B, Waban, 9 officers, 120 men.
Co. C, Newton Centre, 9 officers, 57 men.
Co. D, Newton Highlands, 7 officers, 84 men.
Co. E, West Newton, 7 officers, 145 men.
Co. F, Auburndale, 13 officers, 108 men.
Co. G, Newton, 3 officers, 37 men.
Co. H, Chestnut Hill, 3 officers, 15 men.
Co. I, No. of officers on duty, October 25, 1, No. of men on duty, 16.
Co. J, No. of officers on duty, October 26, 1, No. of men on duty, 16.
The totals, as will be seen, make 57 officers and 658 men, but, as has been explained, many men performed duty several times, and the officers were constantly on duty. The actual number of officers and men performing duty was practically 80 per cent of the total enrollment.

NEWTON REJOICES FOR VICTORY

Parades, Victory Meetings, School Exercises, Noise and Jollifications. Lid Thoroughly Taken off.

Newton celebrated the great news of victory with unparalleled enthusiasm. The ringing of bells, tooting of whistles, and joyous chimes began telling the people at 6 o'clock that the longed for news had come, and everyone knew what it meant. The city immediately began to celebrate. Very little work was done on Monday and Tuesday, and the city gave itself over to a spontaneous outburst of joy.

Nineteen locomotives at Riverside roundhouse blew off their whistles at one time when the news first came in. The employees of the Aetna and the Saxony Worsted Mills were among the first to start the parading. They traversed the streets at Nonantum and Bemis, and made Mayor Childs an early call at 7 o'clock.

About 100 of the Saco-Lowell shop employees at Upper Falls got out shortly after 6 o'clock and marched through the streets. The biggest celebration in the city took place at Auburndale Monday evening. Foreseeing that good news was soon coming, committees were appointed last week, and arrangements made for a fine demonstration. It was called the biggest parade Auburndale has had for 20 years. W. J. Spaulding was chief marshal. The Constabulary band furnished music, and the Auburndale Constabulary turned out. Teachers and students of Lasell seminary took part, and the school children and teachers of the village. The surgical dressings workers, the workers for the French wounded, the Boy Scouts also joined the line. It was estimated that there were 1500 in the march. The Lasell girls used the torches that they have for class day exercises, which made a brilliant appearance. Red fire was freely burned. The line marched through Auburn and Maple streets, Woodland road, Hancock, Fern, Central, Lexington, Bourne, Wolcott, and other streets and Commonwealth avenue.

There was a float carrying flags of our allies, on which Mrs. Royal posed for "Victory", and two seminary girls were dressed to represent France and America. Arrived at Nye Park at the roll of honor, the patriotic songs were sung and Rev. Dr. George S. Butters made a few remarks. The address of the evening was by Congressman-Elect Robert Luce, in which he lauded

GO GET 'EM

The following sentences from the opening chapter of Billy Wellman's book with the above title indicate the spirit of one of the boys whom Newton is proud to honor, and who has shown the world what an American lad can do.

"I write this in no spirit of blood-thirstiness or bravado. I have more reason than most for wanting to see the war end, and my hope that it may not, until I am able to get back into the fight among the clouds, is based upon the firm belief that an early peace would mean but one thing—victory for the Hun.

And 'peace without victory,' or any peace short of a complete and crushing victory for America and her allies, would spell a world catastrophe. The story of my year in the French service is not to be in any sense a treatise on what a Prussian victory would mean to civilization, but, before I have finished my narrative, I hope I shall have shown you in some measure why I feel as I do.

This is my primary object in writing it, the secondary one, is in order that those who chance to read it may have a fuller conception of what air fighting means and is, for it has already become a great factor in warfare, and will, I firmly believe, become the greatest factor in achieving the ultimate decision.

Finally, I hope that the story of my experiences and battles may—in some measure—stiffen the sinews and summon the blood of the youth of America, so that all who are able may go and do likewise, and in fuller measure than has yet been able in my case."

The book, which contains the narrative of a year's experience in France, has an introduction by Mr. Eliot H. Robinson of this city, and is published by the L. C. Page Co. of Boston.

It certainly should be on the library table of every Newton home.

NO MORE SURGICAL DRESSINGS

The Red Cross To Turn Its Activities to the Making of Articles for the Sick and for the Civilian Relief.

The Newton Chapter of Red Cross, like Red Cross Chapters all over the country, has been ordered from National Headquarters to stop the making of surgical dressings.

The calling off of Surgical Dressings making is due to the fact that there are in Red Cross warehouses in France and in the United States an ample reserve for every contingency which may arise.

The conditions in the countries of our Allies are such that Red Cross commissions abroad send work of the unlimited need for garments for civilian relief. Refugee work at this time is the emergency. On account of the coming winter, a rapid production of refugee garments will mean infinitely greater service in saving life than any other type of work, one garment now will be of more value than many garments in three or four months.

The Newton Chapter believes that as soon as the Surgical Dressings workers realize the need for refugee garments they will enlist their services in the work.

In connection with the order to stop the making of surgical dressings and the call for work on garments came this message from the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"On February 10 last year, nearly six weeks before the United States declared war, National Red Cross Headquarters advised its Chapters to prepare for war. That which has followed in the record of the Red Cross is helping to win this war and to relieve the suffering growing out of it, constitutes something of which every American citizen has a right to be proud. Every American Red Cross worker must feel a sense of gratitude in having had a share in it all.

The moment is now come to prepare for peace. Actual peace may come at any moment. It may be deferred for some time. Until real peace is here there can be no relaxation in any Red Cross effort incident to active hostilities.

But even with peace, let no one suppose that the work of the Red Cross is finished. Millions of American boys are still under arms. Thousands of them are sick or wounded. Owing to the shortage in shipping, it may take a year or more to bring our boys home from France. But whatever the time, our protecting arms must be about them and their families over the whole period which must elapse before the normal life of peace can be resumed.

Our soldiers and sailors are enlisted until the Commander in Chief tells them there is no more work for them to do in the war. Let every Red Cross member and worker show our returning soldiers and sailors that to care for their health, welfare and happiness, we are enlisted for no less a period than they are.

The cessation of war will reveal a picture of misery such as the world has never seen before, especially in the many countries which cannot help themselves. The American people will expect the Red Cross to continue to act as their agent in repairing broken spirits and broken bodies. Peace terms and peace conditions will determine how we may best administer to the vast stricken areas which have been harrowed by war, and in this great act of mercy, the heart and spirit of the American people must continue to be mobilized through the American Red Cross.

On behalf of the War Council, we accordingly ask each member of our splendid body of workers throughout the land to bear in mind the solemn obligation which rests upon each one to "carry on." We cannot abate our instant in our efforts or in our spirit. There will be an abundance of work to do, and specific advice will be given, but even at the moment peace let no Red Cross worker falter.

Our spirits must now call us to show that it is not the roar of cannon or the blood of our own alone that directs our activities, but that a great people will continue to respond greatly and freely to its obligation and opportunity to serve mankind."

Wanted: Men for Camp Work
An Opportunity for Active Red Cross Work in This Country

The American Red Cross needs men for service in the army and naval camps located in this country.

The work to be done by the men wanted includes:

1. Rendering Emergency Relief of every kind upon request and with the co-operation of Military Authorities.
2. Helping soldiers who are worried about their families and affairs, by communication with their homes through local Red Cross Organizations in every part of the United States.

3. Sympathetic contact with men in Base Hospitals, communication with families of patients if necessary, and the furnishing of emergency supplies when called upon.

4. Supervising distribution of all Red Cross supplies, such as sweaters, socks, comfort kits, etc.

The qualifications demand high-grade men, acquainted with business methods, and with ability to deal successfully with other responsible men; they should be possessed of tact, forbearance, discretion, energy and good personal appearance. Red Cross representatives in the camps have the status of officers.

While volunteers are desired, all expenses incurred by reason of Red Cross service will be paid, and, where necessary, a small salary in addition may be allowed. Acceptance of these positions will involve a pecuniary sacrifice to any man who is qualified.

This call is urgent, and offers a peculiarly desirable field for constructive patriotic service, as the volume of business transacted is very large, and is rapidly growing. If you are interested, write the Bureau of Personnel, American Red Cross, 755 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

—Miss Ama C. Royce has some time available for a few more pupils of pianoforte playing at 19 Putnam street, West Newton. Miss Royce is successful in combining instruction in ear training, transposition, theory and history of music, sight-reading and interpretation, with the technique of pianoforte playing, and in stimulating in children the love of music.—adv.

—Huntington School defeated Allen School 7 to 0, at the Allen School campus Saturday afternoon. The teams were quite evenly matched. The touchdown came in the first period after a bad pass which Gray of Huntington school recovered on the one yard line. The touchdown was made on the next play. Kenyon, Hickman, and Cavanaugh did the best work for Allen.

—The chemists had their share in winning the war. Dr. Henry H. Taubert will tell of some of it in his illustrated lecture "Peach Stones, Chemistry, and the War" to be given at the Newton Classical High School Wednesday evening, Nov. 20, for the benefit of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. Tickets, one dollar each, may be had in advance by sending checks to "The Taubert Lecture," Taubert House, Newton, Mass.

—Mr. Franklin S. Hoyt of 106 Berkeley street has sailed for France, where he is to act as director of publications in connection with the Army Educational Commission of the Young Men's Christian Association. This commission is to direct the teaching of our soldiers in European countries. During the period of demobilization a large proportion of the men will undertake studies that will better prepare them for their return to civilian life. Previous to his departure for France, Mr. Hoyt visited a number of the camps in this country to observe their educational work.

Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock, the W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. J. Cheever Carley, 27 Elliot avenue. The topics considered will be War Welfare Work and Our Departments. The comfort bags prepared Monday of this week at Mrs. Clark's will be filled to send to the Christmas entertainment for sailors at Bethel. The Flower Mission requests the usual delicacies for the Thanksgiving baskets sent out to the shut-ins of Boston and vicinity every year under the management of Mrs. Samuel Wright Simpson, formerly of Newton. She expects to receive soon the nightgowns which the union voted to make for Belgian children.

AUBURNDALE MAN PROMOTED
Lieut. Stuart Williams Rider of Auburndale has been promoted to be captain, according to information from France, and is to be adjutant of the second battalion of his regiment. Before enlisting Captain Rider was employed by the City National bank of New York. He is an Amherst graduate, class of '16, was president of his class two years, captain of the football team two years, and president of the student council. In May, 1917, he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling, Minn., where he was commissioned lieutenant. At Camp Dodge, Ia., he was acting commander of his battery, and he sailed for France in August.

N. H. S.

Saturday, Brookline met a snag in Newton and lost 39 to 7. The Newton team has greatly improved since the game with Everett. The line opened up holes almost at will, and the backs tore through for long gains. Newton got the jump in the first play when Rane went out to the sidelines, during a Brookline nap, caught a forward pass from Owen and gained about forty yards. Three touchdowns were made in the first quarter. Herbert Garrity played the first half in great style. Captain Nutting played the second half, but failed to show much because of a bad knee. Brookline's only touchdown came in the third quarter, when Faulkner intercepted a forward and ran fifty yards for a touchdown.

Newton needs a few snappy cheer leaders to wake the students the way Bub Eaton used to.

Monday morning the students, a small part, at least, went to the assembly hall where appropriate speeches and cheers were given and songs sung in celebration of the signing of the treaty. Most of the boys, however, made their presence felt in Boston during the morning by a snake parade which wound in and out of the stores and over nearly every street in the city. No sessions were held Tuesday, and no lessons assigned for Wednesday. So much time has been lost that it has been decided to keep the schools open on Friday, despite the teachers' convention which comes on that date.

Last Friday a very successful dance was held in the gym for the benefit of the Review. About $35 were realized, which will be used for a new cover and interesting cuts. The first issue of the paper will appear next Thursday.

Saturday Newton will play the Allen School at Newtonville. This team will present a strong line-up with "Bill" Kenyon, a former Manchester, N. H. player, at fullback. Thursday Newton plays Cambridge Latin, and Thanksgiving day meets B. C. High. Both games are at Newtonville.

Friday morning a meeting was held in the assembly hall in the interest of securing the students to join the Victory Boys and Girls. Mayor Childs spoke first and in his usual forceful way forced home the importance of this work. Mrs. Stewart of Newton Centre, who has charge of the work in the Newtons, told some of the ways money might be earned. Five dollars is the usual amount, and may be paid at once or in three payments ending March 1. Mrs. Bragg recited a poem and said that no limit should be placed on the number of subscribers. A boy and girl are being appointed in each room and the school will be thoroughly canvassed.

NEWTON TECHNICAL NOTES

Margaret Mutch, 1915, now a junior in Radcliffe, as a result of her good work, has been awarded a second scholarship for $200. Miss Mutch has also been elected secretary of her class.

Arthur T. Connolly, who was president of 1911, has recently been commissioned paymaster with the rank of ensign. This is an honor greater than the title implies, as the paymaster on board a battleship is the business executive. He is responsible for all property of every description, from ammunition, clothing and food to smokes. Ensign Connolly has, for the past eight months, been stationed on the scout ship Chester, which has been on duty in the Mediterranean. Before enlisting in the navy he was treasurer and manager of one of the subsidiary companies of the United Drug Co.

Miss Fiske's vocal expression work for the coming year will be of interest and profit to the whole school. Her aim is not to produce elocutionists, but to enable a student to read or speak easily, clearly, and so as to be heard and understood by every one in his audience. In addition to three classes of senior, junior and sophomore boys and girls that meet twice a week for intensive study, Miss Fiske will, at the end of the year, have trained most of the other English classes for one period a week during one semester. The increasing enthusiasm of the students for this course promises Miss Fiske even greater success than ever.

Following a plan of last year, reporters for the Dynamo have been chosen from each room. This insures representation of every division.

The first meeting of the New England Association of School Librarians is to be held in the Technical High School Library on Saturday, November 16, 1918, from 10.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

The meeting will open with a word of welcome by Mr. Irving O. Palmer. This will be followed by a talk on "A Typical Day in Our School Library," by Miss Gladys M. Sanborn, Librarian, Public Library, Bridgeport, Conn., will speak on "Co-operation between School Libraries and Existing Library Agencies," and Miss Alice M. Jordan of the Boston Public Library will give a talk on "Recent Good Books for Children."

POLICE NOTES

Ora D. Bennett of Waltham was fined $75 in the local court Monday for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Fred Badger of Newton Highlands was summoned into the local court Wednesday for the theft of railroad ties from the Boston & Albany railroad. He denied his guilt, stating that he had paid the company for the ties, but was found guilty and the case filed.

TO MUSIC LOVERS

"DO YOU SING?" Here's the accompanist! Do you dance? Here's the orchestra! Do you sing? Here's the entertainer. The Guhransen. We would like to demonstrate free Guhransen player-piano to any one considering the purchase of an ordinary piano, either grand or upright; to buy such a limited instrument when the Guhransen costs so little is to cheat yourself of much musical enjoyment; the latest thing about the Guhransen is its capacity for giving pleasure to the whole family; every one in your household immediately becomes a member of the "joy club"; the Guhransen has many exclusive features found in no other player; it plays any selection in eight different keys; it is the easiest to play, easiest to control and inexpensive; call and play one yourself; free music; very reasonable terms. PLAYER SPECIALISTS, 194 Boylston St., Boston.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The final breakdown of the Central Powers came so quickly at the end that we have been fairly swept off our feet. As Mr. Endicott said at the Victory celebration on Tuesday evening, "If there's anyone here who is not excited, that one hasn't true American blood in his veins." Those who chanced to be in Newspaper Row on Thursday afternoon when the false rumor of the signing of the armistice was announced could but feel the electric thrill in the air, and then when the real news came on Monday morning, what wonder the whole populace was fairly intoxicated with joy?

And now we have come to the "day after." The time which every sobered thinking person realizes is the most critical of all. Every speaker voices the feeling that the peace which is to come must be one which will make sure that this hideous thing can never happen again. While the conference is going on public opinion must be working for that object. We must see to it that it is a peace of peace, and yet at the same time that justice is done our enemies. To some it may seem a time for relaxing of our efforts, but in reality it is a time for greater stringency, for think of the hosts of starving people who must be fed, if the spirit with which we went into the war is to be maintained. It must be done in the spirit of Him who said, "If thine enemy hunger, feed him."

There yet remain many things to be done in this country in order to be ready for peace when it really comes. Our own industrial conditions must be purged and set in order, capital and labor be brought to a better understanding of one another, foreign-born inhabitants must be made American citizens, not in the artificial sense merely of becoming naturalized, but made true Americans. And along with these is another question dove-tailing with them, is the placing of women in their rightful status. These are the problems awaiting us. Let them be settled in no uncertain manner.

Instead of the program announced in the Year Book, Professor Orvis will give the first of the current events lectures before the Newtonville Woman's Guild, November 19. The executive board of the Guild appropriated $100 for the United War Work Drive at its meeting this week.

The next meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, to be held Tuesday, November 19, in the Methodist Parish house, will be in charge of the Conservation and Home Economics committees. Miss Annie L. Weeks, Home Demonstration Leader for Newton, will speak. Mrs. Charles E. Mongan will speak on "Women's Patriotic Duty in the Question of Food and Clothes." A glee club trio, accompanied by Mrs. L. D. MacNutt, will furnish the music.

On Tuesday, November 19, the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold a sale and supper, one-half of the proceeds to be devoted to war relief work. Opening at 1 o'clock, there will be domestic and fancy articles, baskets, etc., on sale, grubs and other attractions for the children. A cafeteria supper will be served at 6.30.

The Social Science Club will meet at the Hunnewell Club next Wednesday morning. Owing to illness Dr. Emerson will be unable to speak.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Home Circle will be held at G. A. Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, November 1, at 2 P.M. Tea will be served.

Local Happenings

The West Newton Women's Educational Club held its opening meeting on Friday and, as it was President's Day, and a musical, it was a most enjoyable occasion. Selections by Mr. Claire Lemard of Newtonville, pianist, and a program of Indian melodies by Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon, accompanied by Mr. J. Angus Winter, made up a delightful and highly appreciated afternoon's entertainment, arranged by Mrs. Harry S. Wells, chairman of music. An equally delightful social hour followed, when tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Percival Waters, chairman of hospitality. Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton and former president, Mrs. Walter A. Beale, presided at the charmingly decorated tea table, and there was ample opportunity to meet in a very social way the visiting presidents from sister clubs of Newton and neighboring towns.

At the meeting of the Auburndale review Club on Tuesday, Mrs. William I. Lawrence read an exceedingly interesting paper on "Austria." She took her audience first to the little country of Austria with its barren hills, thence to Vienna and its beautiful Ringstrasse and its museums filled with wonderful treasures, many of which she described in detail. From there to Salzburg on a thrilling trip into a salt mine, thence to Innsbruck, and finally to the Dolomite region, where she left her hearers on the shores of a wonderful lake of indigo blue bordered with bright yellow sand.

In the course of the paper Mrs. Lawrence told much of interest concerning the lives and homes of the Austrian musicians, and Mrs. Nelson Freeman, assisted by Mrs. Leland, played selections from the compositions of Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert and others. This was one of the most enjoyable programs the club has ever had.

Acting upon the suggestion of Dr. Frothingham, who had been engaged to speak before the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands on Tuesday evening, the meeting was turned into a community Victory Celebration not restricted to members of the club. The hall was crowded and the platform were seated prominent men and women of the town as well as the speakers. All business was waived except the appropriation of $50 for the United War Work Drive. A feature of the evening was the singing of patriotic and other war songs, led by members of the glee club, and the singing of "The Long Trail" by Mr. Maurice Quinlan. Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham, the chief speaker of the evening, in his address mentioned three distinct things which have marked the struggle and have resulted in the fall of Germany: the struggle of conscious wrong over right, of autocracy over democracy, of the forces that make for war over those that make for peace. The present duty is to establish a just and righteous peace. The most critical years of the world's history are those which are to follow the declaration of peace. The speaker paid high tribute to the work of Mr. Hoover. He quoted a French soldier as saying that the United States of America came to assist the United States of Europe in helping establish the United States of the World.

Rev. George W. Jones and Dr. George T. Smart both spoke. Lieut. Wilson, U.S.N., after sixteen months' experience, voiced his greater appreciation of Americanism. J. B. Sturdy of the Village Improvement Association told of the medals which his organization has decided to present each Newton Highlands boy who served in the war, and of the tablet containing the names of all Newton boys which will be erected jointly by the Improvement Association.

Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, president of the Women's Association, closed the program with an account of the women's share in doing for the boys.

State Federation Fall Meeting

A rich program fraught with problems pressing for solution characterized the meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs held at Marlboro on Wednesday of this week. Following as it did the two days' celebration of the victory of the Allied forces, some of the ardor was still in the minds and hearts of both speakers and audience, as well as voiced in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The word of welcome was filled with cordiality, the president of the Women's Club, Mrs. Arthur C. Lamson, adding to it the regret that they had not been allowed to do more.

In her response Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney struck her customary high note of service expected from the club women in this glorious time, reminding them that amidst this storm of enthusiasm we must come down to the sane things and "carry on." That it is to require the honest, heartfelt, unselfish sacrifice of all, if righteous honor, peace and happiness are to reign throughout the world. "Today I'll carry on, carry on!"

Mrs. Thomas Allen of the New England Division of the Red Cross, made an earnest plea for workers at their headquarters, 1000 Washington street, Boston, in fitting out comfort kits and in assembling parts of garments sent out to chapters to be made, rather tedious, but imperative, work. She stated that the work on surgical dressings will cease immediately, as so large a store is already on hand, but the sewing must continue for a long time to come.

Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby, who has been a canteen worker at the French Forces des Soldats, made an earnest plea for the United War Work Drive. She told of her own experiences with the boys as she met them, of the need for continuing this work until the boys come home. They get very homesick when they are not busy and now that the fighting has ceased and they have more time, it is going to be of even greater importance.

Mrs. George T. Rice then gave a stirring address on the problems of "Women in Industry." She is vice-chairman of the department of Women in Industry of the Council of National Defense and through her investigations of 750 factories of the country speaks out of a full heart not evading unpleasant conditions which she herself has seen. The problems before us are ones that take brain and not emotions, she said. She paid high tribute to the work which Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Gurney have accomplished in the Council of National Defense. Her own committee is putting a bill in the legislature providing for the registration and licensing of day nurseries, which she appealed to the clubs to support. She expressed her self as terror stricken at the thought of the problems this country is up against in the demobilizing of the army and in the demobilizing of the women, and straightening out the attending industrial problems.

The afternoon session opened with organ music and violin selections with organ accompaniment, as well as one or two selections in which the audience spontaneously joined in the singing.

In speaking of the Endowment Fund Mrs. Whitton stated that there are still 135 clubs who have not responded in any way. The total amount so far raised is a little more than $6000.

The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. George Nasmyth, who under the topic, "Labor after the War," discussed the program of the new British Labor Party. Commenting upon the subject upon everybody's mind he said that the victory could never have been won without two forces, that of labor and that of the women. Amid our rejoicing we must have a sense of responsibility. He advocated celebrating it well, for we shall never have another such a one to celebrate. Tremendous problems lie immediately before us. If we are to get through without a class war, we ought to study what labor desires. The British Labor Party has voiced the longings of labor all over the world.

The first point is the enforcement of a national minimum of food of the necessities of life, of education, of health, of leisure, a more comprehensive insurance for labor, for more favorable conditions by labor itself, or more democratic methods. Not labor working by itself nor capital by itself, but both sharing the responsibility. Labor says it has been possible for an army to be fed and equipped, each man sharing equally with the other. What can be done for an army, can be done for the whole country. The third point is the use of surplus wealth for social purposes. A great housing campaign is proposed to give English people decent places in which to live, and other projects which will benefit the masses and not the few.

In closing Dr. Nasmyth touched upon the present problems before the world and hinted at their solution in the establishment of a great federation of the world, with International Court, Congress, Commissions, with justice for the small as well as for the great nations.

The convention adopted resolutions of courtesy for the hostess club and rose for a moment with bowed heads in memory of the brave boys who have "gone West," after which the meeting closed with singing "Praise God from whom all Blessings Flow."

GUARD LIFE AT BORDEAUX

F. S. Wheeler, Jr., of Naval Reserve Gives His Experiences

E. S. Wheeler, Jr., of the United States Naval Reserve, has written to his father, E. S. Wheeler of Centre street, a letter descriptive of his life at Bordeaux, France, where he is a member of the pre-war guard. Mr. Wheeler went over on the Covington, which was torpedoed and sunk on July 1st. Twenty-eight of the tallest men of the crew were taken, including Mr. Wheeler, to serve on this guard. Mr. Wheeler gives an account of the new barracks enjoyed by the boys, which the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, and Young Men's Christian Association cooperated in furnishing. Mr. Wheeler writes as follows:

Oct. 22, 1918

Dear Father:

Well at last our Police Barracks are in commission. The chateau, as we call it, was officially and formally opened yesterday and yesterday noon we had the first real navychow that we had tasted for many months, and believe me it was good. The ceremonies began in the morning and we all stood at attention, the bugler blew the first call for colors. We had belts and leggings, rifles and fixed bayonets and by the size of the crowd of Frenches standing outside the gates watching us I guess we looked pretty nifty. When the bugler blew colors the band new flag started up the pole and we all came to "Present Arms." At the same time Miss Ruth Waterbury, an American Red Cross nurse christened the front steps with a bottle of Champagne. It's a wonder that when the bottle broke there wasn't a wild rush to lap up all the good champagne that was going to waste. Why some of the boys were watching it drip down the front steps with their mouths watering. After the ceremony was over we bolted for the mess hall and dived into the chow. I won't bother to tell you what we had to eat for I have mailed to you the printed program of the day's events and you can read for yourself what a good meal we had. You will notice on the menu that my name is missing, but I am in on it just the same. The dizzy yeoman that printed it, did it with such a hurry that he left out six names. I hope the program reaches you all right. Say father, I think that you would be interested in a newspaper that is given out over here. It is an official American newspaper named the Stars and Stripes. I am going to get one every week if it is possible and send the copies to you. You may expect the first one to arrive shortly after this letter. It has all the news first hand and is interesting all through.

In our barracks, we have among other things, a recreation room. It relieves the monotony for us when we don't feel like going to the city and it is always the scene of some activity. By degrees we have got it furnished and now that it is finished we certainly enjoy it. We came by the furnishings in different ways. The Red Cross was the first contributor. They gave us three hundred francs' worth of furniture in the way of two wicker lounging chairs, a dozen sofa pillows, six wooden chairs, and two pine writing tables. They also started us out with twenty-five magazines. The Knights of Columbus also chipped in. They presented us with checkers, chess, dominoes, and four decks of cards. The Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross both gave us writing paper and I am writing on some of the R. C. paper now. We also have a fairly good piano which was rented at twenty-five francs a month. We each gave a franc and paid for two months rental. That completes the list of what we have in our recreation room at present, but I suspect that in a short time we will have more. That's pretty good for a starter though, don't you think so?

I have found that Frank McCarthy has left for the front; he left four days ago. His company is going to a supply station somewhere back of the lines. This is of course, what I heard, so I naturally can't verify the statement.

SCOUTS VICTORY MEETING

The Boy Scouts of Newton, Needham, and Wellesley are to hold a celebration in honor of the victory of the Allies and the United States on Sunday at the Central Congregational Church, Walnut street, Newtonville.

This will be a double celebration, as the awards to the Scouts of the medals given by the U. S. Government will be given to the scouts that did exceptionally well in the Third Liberty Loan. These will be presented to the fortunate scouts by His Honor the Mayor. Besides the presentation of these honor medals, several speakers will address the audience and it is expected that there will be a fine turnout of the scouts, their parents and friends, and all others who wish to attend. A cordial invitation is issued by the scout organization to the public in general. The meeting will commence at 3:30 in the afternoon.

CRYPTIC COUNCIL

Cryptic Council, R. & S. M., had its annual meeting and installation of officers Tuesday night. The following were chosen: Thrice Illustrious Master, Dr. Charles E. A. Ross; deputy master, Rupert C. Thompson; P. C. W. Herbert E. Smith; treasurer, Illustrious George L. Sleeper; recorder, Hollis H. Sawyer. The installation of officers was then conducted by Right Illustrious Fred L. Moses, grand lecturer of the Grand Council, assisted by Illustrious Alvah F. Dole, deputy grand master of ceremonies.

BOARD OF TRADE

The next meeting of the Newton Board of Trade will be held Tuesday, November 26, at Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville, preceded by supper. Hon. Robert Luce of Waltham, Congressman-elect from this district, will be the principal speaker, on "Problems of Peace." Thomas Weston, Jr., of Newton, senator-elect, will also speak.

It Helps Some.

Remorse is like a wooden leg. It helps a man on his way, but he can see where he would have been happier without it.—Idaho Statesman.

ANNUAL DINNER

The annual dinner of the Claffin Guard Veteran Association was held Tuesday evening at the Hotel Oxford, Boston, and was as usual a most enjoyable affair. At the annual meeting which preceded the festivities, these officers were elected: President, Robert C. Brigham; vice presidents, Col. Isaac F. Kingsbury and Clarence Wiswall; secretary, Major Fred P. Barnes; treasurer, Capt. Arthur C. Waltham.

Mr. Harry S. Storms, the president, was in the chair, and Mr. Francis G. L. Henderson was a most eloquent toastmaster. Seated at the head table besides the president were Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Rev. Dr. William Huntington, and Rev. C. A. Stenhouse of Bridgewater.

A feature of the evening was the presence of Governor-elect Calvin Coolidge, who came late, on account of other engagements, and who spoke briefly on the problems of the day. Mayor Childs, as usual, was in eloquent vein and gave an inspiring address on the sacrifice of those here and the wonderful spirit of the boys "over there." Rev. Dr. Huntington contrasted the close of the Civil war with the events of this week, and Rev. Mr. Stenhouse also spoke.

An interesting feature of the evening was the reading of the following letter from Capt. H. D. Comerai, a former commander of the old Company C, 5th Regiment, the successor of the Claffin Guards.

Base Hospital, No. 6, September 26, 1918.

Dear Major Barnes:

Your letter came to me here after travelling all over France visiting the various hospitals, and I was sure glad and proud to hear from you all. Have recovered entirely from my hurts and today will go before the examining board for classification, then back to duty somewhere, although I doubt that I shall return to the regiment as I have been told that I am unfit for combat duty, the injuries to my arm and hand being such that I have little control over my fingers. Comes to holding anything of weight.

However, I can have few regrets as the men of old C are all doing their best, which means the best in France, and I am sure those that come back will be a credit to the city as well as those who fall. We have not had a lot of casualties up to this time, and we have had more than our share of the promotions earned from strange officers, as I have never really been in command of the old outfit since coming over.

Two have already been commissioned over here, and practically all the sergeants of Co. C are old Newton men, one sergeant was nominated to go to the school for candidates but was badly wounded on the eve of his departure. The Colonel told me that he had recommended him for a commission on account of his courage and knowledge, without going to the school.

Lieutenant Edmunds was transferred to the other regiment of our brigade, and has made good. I am sure he is a very capable officer, and is making a fine record. Have not seen Lieutenant Barrows since last January before we went into the line; understood that he is on duty in the S.O.S. somewhere.

The situation in the old company did not suit me for a long time, but the arrival of a new captain fixed that. He has just one of the captains here and he tells me that at last they are over. Hope that I can see them before long.

In closing let me thank the members of the Association for their good wishes. I hope that by the time you have your next outing that I shall have the pleasure of sitting down with you again.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

H. D. COMERAI,

Captain U. S. Infantry.

ALDERMEN MEET

There was a brief meeting of the aldermen Monday evening, called to declare the result of the recent state election and the members were kept quite busy signing the numerous papers necessary to give official notice of the vote of Newton.

The appointments by Mayor Childs of C. A. Peck, Dana Libbey, T. P. Glynn, and C. J. McCarthy as public weighers were confirmed. The Mayor also requested $1000 for coal for the Fire Department that the ordinance requiring 12 assistant assessors be amended so that a lesser number could be appointed, if necessary, and asked for $500 for Street Department automobiles.

$225 was appropriated for completion of a sewer in Lexington street and Fredena road in Waban was accepted as a public street.

DEATH OF MR. BLAKEMORE

Mr. William B. Blakemore, a former resident of Newton, died Sunday at Natick, following a long illness. Mr. Blakemore was born in Boston. His father was William Blakemore and the family many years resided in the Mt. Hope section of the city. Mr. Blakemore was formerly postmaster of Roslindale, and later became assistant assessor for the West Roxbury section. He was seventy-two years of age and is survived by his wife, who died in 1914, and by two sons, Raymond A. Blakemore of Natick, with whom he had made his home during the later years of his life; and Arthur W. Blakemore of Newton.

NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The Newton Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Thursday, November 21, at the home of the president, Mrs. Alvin Henry Clifford. It will be a "birthday party" and all money received by it will be given to the Red Cross as a Thanksgiving offering.

HOW VICTORY WILL BE WON

National Determination to Put Every Ounce of Strength Into Righteous Cause Will Bring Triumph.

Suppose we send 10,000 bombing airplanes over Germany. They alone will not win the war. Ten thousand or fifty thousand tanks alone will not win the war. A thousand land battleships or a thousand other fearful land cruisers alone will not win the war. Raining death and destruction upon the civil population as a rule has only one result: It inflames the people to greater deeds, to greater sacrifices, to greater hate, to greater determination to win the war. France, England and Italy are shining examples of this. No, any one invention is not likely to win the war. Some day, perhaps, someone will invent an atomic ray which is capable of pulverizing whole regiments at a stroke. Nothing of this sort is impossible. But it is not very probable. Rather it is the whole-hearted devotion of the noncombatants to a great and just cause that will win the war. The nation that can throw into the scales the greatest amount of war implements, the heaviest weight of metal, the greatest amount of fighters, coupled with a prodigious use of all of the best war inventions, will win in the end—providing that every man and woman behind the lines constantly thinks and dreams of war and victory and is prepared to put every last ounce of strength as well as all worldly belongings into the righteous cause without stint or restraint. The greatest war invention is the fiery, undying will to win.—Electrical Experimenter.

FEW STATE LINES CHANGED

Sentiment Has Proved Too Strong, Even When Good Business Reasons Could Be Advanced.

From time to time proposals are made to change the boundaries of states. One is the scheme to transfer a part of western Florida, extending for 150 miles on the sea coast, to the state of Alabama, and another project is to annex the northern neck of Idaho to the state of Washington.

In support of the proposed change in each case the chief argument advanced is that it would place the region to be transferred in the state with which it is most closely allied in interests. Most of the business of Pensacola, the leading city of west Florida, is with Alabama, and if it were a part of that state its importance would doubtless be heightened. It is also considerably nearer Montgomery than Tallahassee and nearer Birmingham than Jacksonville.

Proposals for rectifying boundaries as well as for dividing states have been many, the changes actually made few. Where historic associations gather around a divisional line they are not easily effaced, whatever may be the commercial considerations working in that direction. In cases in which railway connections have made the business relations of a region closer with another state than with its own the remedy is found in the construction of new lines. Political geography enters somewhat into railway building.

More Than Paid the Debt.

Some of us will give a second thought to the extraordinary achievement of a congregation in Geneva, N. Y., which first built with reckless extravagance a massive graystone church and then adopted the titling system to get them out of their difficulty. The story is told in Outlook. When the church was dedicated—if that is the right word—the debt was $82,000, and the weekly budget $230. The weekly income was less than $100. In two years the debt has been reduced to $40,000 and the weekly income is $300. Of the 1,000 members 350 are titheers. A tithe sets aside one-tenth of his income for Christian activities. The blessings of happiness and prosperity which have attended the people are remarkable. Many thrilling stories are told. Some church leaders are deeply impressed by the success of the system and they are advocating it as a financial policy.—Christian Register.

All Fighting Men Brothers.

A young American army private came out of a gilded Broadway florist's the other afternoon carrying a very large and expensive bouquet tied up in waxed paper and walked toward one of those stumpy baby doll roadsters at the curb.

As he was crossing the sidewalk along came another American army private, undeniably of Italian descent, and known along Broadway for his ability to wield the polishing rag at a Herald square shoe shining parlor. The two stopped to exchange greetings.

"Lo, Fish Face!"

"Lo, Wop! Where you goin'?"

"To see me brudder!"

"Jump in and save carfare." Whereupon this strangely assorted pair, brothers by the greatest tie man can devise, traveled away together.—New York Sun.

Buying More Cutlery.

Siamese importers are purchasing more cutlery than they did formerly and there should be an opportunity for the sale of American supplies. Japan has profited by the increased demand. The value of cutlery imports from Japan advanced from $83 in 1914-15 to $12,734 in 1916-17. American machine tools are widely used in Siam and vigorous selling campaigns should be planned for the purpose of introducing other lines of cutlery after the war.—New York Journal of Commerce.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

An open meeting was held at the Hunnewell Club House on Saturday evening, November 9, at 8 P.M. Mrs. Elliott presided. Mrs. Henry read her report on food conservation, followed by Mrs. Moore's on the character and amount of work done during the summer. Mrs. Barrett Wendell spoke on a new local venture of the Special Aid—Wendell House on Mount Vernon street. This is for the use of enlisted men. Mr. W. W. Peck, Y. M. C. A. Secretary of the U.S.S. Agamemnon told of his work and experiences on board of the transport. Mrs. Elliott made a plea for glasses and jars of jellies, conserves, jams, pickles, etc., to go to the Major Willard House at Camp Devens. These articles may be left at the Special Aid rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building or at Miss Georgia Emery's, 70 Waverly avenue.

The Christmas bags are not being filled with as much avidity as could be decided. These bags must be in by December 1, and people are earnestly urged to take them and either fill them from outside sources or from the supply of articles which may be obtained from the Special Aid. Bags and the filling may be had on Tuesday mornings and all day Fridays.

DEATH OF MR. EDMANDS

Moses Grant Edmands of Chestnut Hill, whose death in Pasadena, Cal., on Saturday, November 9, is announced, was born in Charlestown on August 6, 1856, the son of George D. and Abby H. Edmands. He attended the city schools and was graduated from Harvard College in the class of 1879. After a summer in Europe, he entered the employ of Preston & Merrill, of which firm his father was a member. He remained with the firm until 1906, when he sold out the business and retired from active life.

Since that time he had spent most of the winters in a mild climate, on account of failing health, and more recently had lived most of the time at his winter home in Pasadena. He was a member of the Baptist church of Newton Centre, the Harvard Club, the Longwood Cricket Club, the Baptist Social Union, and was a vice-president of the New England Baptist Hospital.

In 1883 he married Lydia C. Benton of Brookline. Mr. Edmands is survived by his wife and two daughters, Miss Violet Edmands of New York city, and Mrs. George H. Holt of Corona, Cal.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY

The Newton Circuit Epworth League will have a rally at Newtonville M. E. church, Thursday, November 21, at 7:45 P.M. George W. Taylor will lead a song service. Dr. Charles E. Ross will offer prayer, the Newtonville Sunday School orchestra will furnish music, and Dr. James E. Wagner of Newton Centre will give an address on "How I served with carpenter tools at the Fore River shipyard."

CHRISTMAS BOXES FOR OVERSEAS

Christmas boxes may be sent to Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C., and other workers with the A. E. F., by the nearest relative.

The Newton Chapter, A. R. C., through its local distributing stations, have boxes and all necessary information for sending such Christmas boxes.

THE END

It is over, the war is ended.
O thank God! is the heart's glad cry.
Thoughts of joy and of pain will be blended,
At the reunions, by and by.
Some to happy homes soon returning,
Others have "crossed beyond the bar";
Beyond the sad heart's deepest yearning,
Up where the "many mansions" are.
Some here were rewarded by promotion,
Others by God's own hand on high.
Here they gave their best, firm devotion,
And can say, "It is gain to die."

Revolutionary and patriotic songs by Madame Hudson Alexander of the First Christian Science Church, Boston, cello solos by M. Miquello of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and an address by Mr. Henry Maxwell, Y. M. C. A. Secretary, who has been on year at the front, completed a most interesting program.

A well-attended meeting was held Sunday night at Elliot church, at which Mayor Childs presided. Rev. Dr. H. Grant Person, who is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Devens, gave an interesting account of his duties there and Mr. Lewis A. Crockett gave some personal experiences on the battle front in France. Mr. C. D. Kepner, Jr., also spoke. Members of the Newton Constabulary acted as ushers.

A largely attended meeting was held Sunday night at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, under the auspices of the local committee, at which Mr. John Faulkner of London was the principal speaker. Mr. Faulkner has had extensive experience as a Y. M. C. A. secretary at the front, and gave an account of the way the organization works under war conditions. He also spoke warmly of the work done by the Knights of Columbus and the Salvation Army.

Rev. Dr. Edward M. Noyes spoke of the great need, now that the reaction after victory will come, that provision be made for the moral welfare of the men. He felt that the seven organizations gain much added strength by uniting in this joint effort. Congressman-elect Robert Luce presided and spoke briefly. There was congregational singing by John Daniels.

Lasell Seminary exceeded its quota of $2000 for the war work drive in a one-day campaign. The amount was raised by pledges from the faculty, students, and employees. Dr. Winslow was chairman of the executive committee, and the faculty was represented by Miss Rand and Miss Packard.

The Misses Allen, Abrams, Rowe, and Wieder represented the students, and the Misses Genn, Fairbrother, Keyes, and Mr. Harper had charge of the employees. Booths were arranged in the hall where subscriptions were taken through the day. Early in the evening posters designed by the students and employees were auctioned off by Misses Rowe and Kuhn. In the final hour the girls responded with everything from pennies to Liberty Bonds, and at 8 o'clock Wednesday night the total was $2998.16.

DRAFT CALLS CANCELLED

All local draft calls were cancelled Monday, on orders from Washington, following the armistice news. The local board had been ordered to furnish 207 men. All but three of those called for Tuesday presented themselves, but they were excused, and those due to go today will be similarly allowed to return home.

The local board do not know whether there will be any more calls or not. The Navy and the Marine Corps are still taking in men.

The President asks all the registrants 37 and over to return their questionnaires, not filled out. All others are expected to go today with their questionnaires at once and send them in.

The draft board's work with the men under 37 is to go on just the same as before, so far as now known. Eight men ordered to appear at Newton hospital this week for examination have failed to appear. These will be dealt with as deserters by the police just as before.

FOOD CONFERENCE AT BIGELOW SCHOOL

Under the auspices of the Newton Food Conservation committee a conference was held yesterday afternoon in Bigelow School hall. Mrs. Sidney L. Peterson, who presided, gave notices concerning classes in the study of nutrition and kindred problems, to be arranged under the direction of the States University Extension work. Mrs. H. W. Dresser of the National Civic Federation gave a talk upon the What, Why and How of Food Conservation, in which she suggested many of the less expensive articles which give the same amount of nutriment as those we have been accustomed to eat and gave many helpful points in the planning of menus. An open conference followed conducted by Mr. F. H. Tucker of the Public Safety Committee. The necessity of saving all possible food the coming winter was emphasized; we must eat all along the line and can't forget our job for one minute. We must eat to live, not live to eat. Lantern slides showing scenes abroad relative to the food conditions were thrown on the screen and a collection of food posters painted by French school children which were given by the French government to the Children's Museum were on exhibition.

the great work that had been done, and called attention to the responsibilities of the future. E. J. Winslow, president of the Village Improvement Society, had charge of the affair.

In the afternoon at Upper Falls, a big parade was held with about 1500 in line. About everyone along the line of march joined in and the line proceeded to the Playground where Mayor Childs delivered an address. Alderman Harry L. Cook had charge, Louis Lupin, Robert Sawyer, and Miss Nina Porter assisted in arranging the affair. Miss Burrows took the part of the statue of Liberty. The Knights of St. George and the French Society sent large delegations to the line.

Impromptu celebrations were going on all day Monday and Tuesday, with plenty of noise and fun among the children. Automobiles, carriages, wagons and street cars carried flags. A favorite method of celebrating was to tie together big tin cans and drag them behind an automobile. Effigies of the Kaiser were dragged about the street and ignominiously hung. A number of false fire alarms were rung in, a form of celebrating that makes a lot of trouble and expense.

There was a hastily arranged celebration Tuesday night at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, that drew out 800 people, who rocked the hall with their enthusiasm. The Constabulary band furnished music, and the Newton Centre Constabulary turned out. Maj. De Mille acted as marshal, and the parade stopped at the Samuel Smith house and sang America in honor of the man who wrote it. Then the crowd adjourned to Bray Hall where Dr. George L. West presided.

Rev. Edward T. Sullivan gave an address on the need of success for the war work drive, how this kind of work would be more needed than ever now that the boys had ceased to have Berlin as their objective. Edward McGlynn of Newton Centre recited "In Flanders Fields." The audience sang war songs with tremendous enthusiasm.

The Village Improvement Society and War Work Drive Committee arranged the affair.

The Italian Aefugees Society of Newton Centre paraded the streets both Monday and Tuesday evenings. The Kaiser was hung, burned in effigy, and subjected to all kinds of execrations and indignities, to the general satisfaction of all.

All the schools took notice of these great events. On Monday the Classical High school assembled at 8.30, and sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." Then they saluted the flag and sang the Star Spangled Banner and the Marsellaise. The spirit anthem was sung with great spirit. Principal Enoch C. Adams gave a five minute talk on the great historic occasion. Cheers for the allied nations were led by several of the boys, and America was sung. The meeting was very enthusiastic.

The Vocational High School had an address by Mr. Henry I. Harriman, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, who spoke at the Monday morning assembly, emphasizing the idea that this is the greatest day in the history of the world, and he also spoke of industrial changes after the war. Several patriotic selections were sung. The pupils were called to the hall by a bugler from the soldiers at work on the barracks.

The Technical High School did its celebrating by holding a meeting Wednesday in the interest of the United War Work Drive. Rev. Rufus H. Dix of the Universalist Church explained the disposition of the fund, and urged the co-operation of the students in collecting it. Miss Louise Stuart a member of the junior class, read an account of an incident "over there," showing the contrast between the way the Germans treated the children in Belgium and France, and the way the Americans treated them. Miss Stuart read the story very sympathetically, and all were glad that in this country our children are safe from these terrible scenes and are tenderly cared for.

The Bigelow school began Monday by having war songs and the significance of the event was set forth. In the afternoon the school, joined by the Underwood school, marched to the library grounds, where the 500 children sang the war songs, making a most interesting scene. Then the line marched back to the school and were dismissed. The Bowen school pupils gathered in their hall, sang songs, had poems read, and talked on the meaning of the victory. National and popular songs were sung. At the Burr school Mrs. F. H. Stewart, who has charge of the Victory Girls in all Newton, spoke on their work. Mrs. Surbeck, in charge of the Auburndale group, told what they were doing. Two minute speeches were made by unifying in the war work drive. George R. Chapman of the British Y. M. C. A. gave an address or the work of the associations. The teachers went about to the various rooms and gave brief talks on the event and there were war songs. The Claffin school assembled in their hall, and had war songs and discussed the victory.

The Franklin school sang patriotic songs and then marched to the Common where the flag was saluted and all sang the "Star Spangled Banner." There were cheers for the President and the generals. In the afternoon there was an impromptu play called "Columbia and her Aides," in which several of the pupils took parts symbolical of the Y. M. C. A. Knights of Columbus, Hebrew Welfare Board, Salvation Army, etc. The Hamilton school has patriotic songs and talked over the day. The Hyde school paraded through Walnut, Forest, Lincoln, Woodward streets, Erie avenue, Carver road, and back to the school, where they listened to a talk on the war. The Horace Mann school sang patriotic songs and the principal, Mr. Frank Carr spoke on the war. The Mason school sang popular war songs and the principal, Mr. Samuel B. Paul, gave a talk on the war, "America the Beautiful" and "The Star Spangled Banner" were sung.

The Pierce school listened to an address by Rev. J. Edgar Park, and there were patriotic songs. They paraded to the Common, led by two drum corps formed by the school pupils.

ing. He gathered in about 200 feet of wire clothes line, and two galvanized iron ash barrels, and strung them with the wire as far behind the truck as possible. Then with whistle on his machine wide open, and the iron barrels clattering behind, the driver went at full speed, arousing a great many people.

There was a great celebration of the Italian victories held by the Italians of West Newton on Sunday night. After a parade with flags and bands, speeches were delivered by Dr. N. Emmons, Rev. Dr. Merlino S. Pesciollo, Rev. J. Edgar Park, and S. Francesco Argento.

The lid was thoroughly taken off at the Rice School, and for once the children were given a chance to make all the noise they wanted to, and they will not soon forget the day. The children got together all the noise producing instruments they could find and marched through Beacon street and Lake avenue. They sang patriotic airs, saluted the flag and cheered. They were entertained in the principal's room, where patriotic music was played on the victrola.

The Williams School children attended the Burr School exercises and later had informal celebrations in their own rooms.

The Williams School had an address by Rev. Charles Cutler, and there were exercises in the various rooms. The children sang and saluted the flag. Today they have a rally for the War Work Campaign.

An entertainment was arranged principally for the Emerson School pupils at the auditorium Monday evening, which many of the parents also attended. Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, chairman for all Newton of the Victory Girls' Work, told the story of what they were doing. Sergt. Arthur Mack gave his experiences. A moving picture reel with patriotic subjects was shown. The hall was crowded.

Miss Ethel Sabin and James Tully arranged the affair.

A special service of prayer and thanksgiving was held at Grace Episcopal Church Thursday afternoon, Rev. Laurens MacLure, the rector, was in charge.

Drums were sung at the Catholic Churches of the city. There was a public meeting at St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands.

The Italian colony at Nonantum are to have a celebration Sunday and there will be a flag raising at the Jewish synagogue on Adams street.

Among the schemes for making a noise was that of one milk truck man who ran through Newton and Watertown about 4.30 o'clock Monday morning.

BOY SCOUTS WIN MEDALS

Mayor Childs Decorates Boys for Work for Third Liberty Loan

The miserable weather last Sunday afternoon kept many persons away from what was a most interesting service at the Central Congregational church at Newtonville. Those who did attend witnessed an impressive sight in which over 100 Boy Scouts took part and heard interesting and inspiring addresses from Hon. S. L. Powers, Mayor Childs and Hon. Seward W. Jones.

The occasion was the presentation to the Scouts of medals won for securing ten subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan of last spring, and which for various good reasons had been postponed until this late day.

The Scouts marched to their seats in the church headed by the national colors, and which were guarded by different details at the chancel throughout the service.

Mr. John H. Eddy of Newtonville, president of the Norumbega District of Boy Scouts, presided, and the first speaker was Scout Commissioner J. C. Irwin, who congratulated the boys briefly for their good work and especially thanked those boys who were unable to obtain subscriptions enough to deserve a medal.

Hon. Seward W. Jones, chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee for Newton gave some impressive figures showing that the Boy Scouts in the four campaigns had secured a total of $532,400, with 3943 subscriptions in the Norumbega district of Newton, Wellesley and Needham, and of which 3097 subscriptions with $420,650 was in Newton itself. The United States had raised about $17,000,000,000 in Liberty loans. Mr. Jones said, with an average of $170 for every man, woman and child, Newton had raised $21,000,000 of this sum, or an average of about $500 for each man, woman and child in the city.

Mr. Powers said that it was an inspiration to look into the faces of the boys who were banded together for service. He reminded the boys that they were living in the greatest era of the world's history when great things were being done. Mr. Powers told how the whole country was united to win this war, how we had learned to respect all our fellow-citizens, and predicted that we would all be better men and women after such a service. The sacrifice has been great, but the fruits of this war will be enjoyed by centuries yet to come.

Mayor Childs was unusually eloquent, and said in part that we were just learning what true Americanism really means. He congratulated the boys that they had had a part in this great victory, and predicted that they would all be proud that they had rendered the country some service during the crisis in its history. He asked the boys to take the word GROW for an emblem, saying that its letters stand for Go Right on Working.

Announcement was made that Troop 11 of Newton had won the prize offered for the best average attendance at scout meetings.

Mayor Childs then presented medals and bars to the following Scouts.

MOTOR CORPS

Splendid Service Rendered During Influenza Epidemic

At this time when the good work performed at the Red Cross Hospital is being summed up and put on record for the citizens of Newton to read, it is fitting to make some mention of the faithful work done by the Motor Corps. The Captain of the Corps was present at the meeting at which the Hospital was decided upon, and offered the use of the Corps. From that moment until long after the Hospital closed its doors the Corps was hard at work. Errands of all kinds were done—beds and bedding, blankets, linen, etc., offered by people throughout Newton, hospital supplies from Boston, food, ice, etc., were collected. When the ambulance was not necessary patients were carried in cars to and from the hospital. Cars were on duty from before sunrise until into the night ready to perform any call which came, carrying nurses, bookkeepers, dishwashers, and all other workers back and forth. From ten to fourteen cars were used each day, the regular members of the Corps being aided by the generous service of many emergency drivers. Busy business men took the long evening hours, school teachers and students gave a large part of their enforced vacation, and many people gave the services of their chauffeurs, who were most kind and willing to help in every way.

To those who aided in this manner—regular, reserve and auxiliary cars—the Motor Corps extends its thanks and its appreciation of their earnest, patriotic efforts.

This emergency is over, but the daily work of the Corps goes on. Distribution and collection of Red Cross materials to the scattered workrooms of the city, home service, district nursing, clinic calls, must be filled. More than ever with the reorganization of the work on a peace basis, with the inevitable tendency to relax effort now that the strain is over, the Corps must continue its service to the community. The Motor Corps will welcome to its membership those who can give either their personal service or the use of their cars.

As testimonials to the work which it did at the Red Cross hospital the Newton Corps treasures these two letters, one from the chairman of the executive committee in charge of the hospital, and the other from the head of the medical staff.

Auburndale, Mass., November 7, 1918.

Mrs. G. H. Talbot.

Dear Captain (it ought to be General): The Emergency Hospital has completed its work and closed its doors. The record of its service is made and all the workers who contributed to its success (and everyone says it was a success) are to be congratulated.

In the efficient public service rendered by this Red Cross agency, the Executive Committee wishes to acknowledge the splendid assistance of the "Motor Corps."

Already organized, efficiently officered, and with a group of volunteers who were ready at all hours, and for all services, to act as draymen or escorts, to carry, if need be, the sick, or to bring in the staff of helpers, it was able to render a most valuable service and to be of the greatest possible use.

No record of our hospital would be complete without mention of its help, and the Executive Committee offers

THE CITY ELECTION

Few Changes Indicated in City Officers and But Little Interest Shown

There is the usual lack of interest being taken in the city election which will take place on Tuesday, December 10th, and is undoubtedly due to the fact that as Mayor Childs holds over another year, only members of the aldermen and school committee are to be chosen.

It is expected that only three members of the present board of aldermen will retire, Messrs. William Price of Newtonville, President Bernard Early of Lower Falls, who has been elected a representative, and Robert M. Clark of Newton Centre and Ernest G. Hapgood of Newton Highlands. In place of these gentlemen Messrs. C. Haviland Morse of Newtonville, Alfred Murray, and George M. Heathcote of Lower Falls, Sumner Clement of Newton Highlands, and Albert H. McCausland of Newton Centre, are mentioned. Alderman Reuben Fornkall and John C. Madden of Newton, Percy M. Blake of Newtonville, Stephen H. Whidden, and Justin A. McCarthy of West Newton, W. J. Spaulding of Auburndale, George M. Angier of Waban, Hermon Holt, Jr. of Newton Centre, William L. Allen of Chestnut Hill, and Philip Nichols and Bancroft L. Goodwin will be candidates for re-election.

The terms of Chairman Albert M. Lyon of Newtonville and Oscar E. Nutter of Upper Falls, as members of the school committee will also expire this year. Mr. Lyon honors the city with his acceptance of another nomination and Mr. Edward H. Ruby of Newton Highlands is mentioned as successor to Mr. Nutter in Ward 5.

SECOND EMERGENCY CALL

The Soldiers' Aid of West Newton is sending out an emergency call for a large attendance during the coming week when many workers will be needed to make the required number of vests asked for by headquarters to send to our American boys abroad who have been detailed to the Siberian front for guard duty this coming winter.

Owing to the fact that many workers are going away for the holiday and the rooms will be closed on Thursday evening, November 28, the time is very short and the call most urgent. In order to finish the quota, every member who can be present is earnestly requested to give a full day's work on both Wednesday and Friday if possible.

Only once before has the Society been forced to fly distress signals, when a sudden order for 15,000 surgical dressings was received. Not only its members rise to the occasion, but they were able to complete 4000 extra dressings to help out a sister auxiliary. Let us hope that this call may be similarly answered.

The new Lighting Fixtures in Italian, Rusty Iron and Polychrome and Colonial styles as shown by Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin street corner Congress, Boston, Mass., are really works of art. All interested in Lighting Fixtures for their homes are invited to this exhibition.

OVER $300,000

United War Work Campaign a Great Success in Newton

The United War Fund campaign in this city, as elsewhere, is officially closed, but it is impossible at the present time to give absolutely reliable figures, although it is known that the amount in the city is well over $300,000, and will probably reach $325,000. The delay is largely due to the credits to be given the various villages from subscriptions made in Boston and other places, and it not attributable to local conditions, although there are some stragglers, as usual, in making final reports.

One of the big features of the campaign, although not one that brought in as much money as it did enthusiasm, was the splendid work done by Mrs. Frank H. Stewart of Newton Centre with the Victory Girls, and Mayor Edwin O. Childs with the Victory boys. These girls and boys pledged themselves to earn and contribute at least $5 for the War Fund before March 1. There were 862 girls and boys estimated at the beginning of the drive, while the final figures show 1546 girls with $7286.20, and 1032 boys with $4820.75.

The following gentlemen served as village chairman and captains of the teams of canvassers:—

Newton: Oliver M. Fisher, chairman, Stephen W. Holmes, Frank M. Sheldon, Edward M. Hallett, Benjamin S. Hinckley, George Angier, Fred H. Tucker, Robert E. Mandell, captains.

Newtonville: W. Lloyd Allen, chairman; Albert D. Auryanssen, F. C. Bassett, Clarence G. McDavitt, J. Aug. Remington, Albert P. Carter, J. Everett Hicks, W. Hermon Allen, R. G. Brown, John W. Hickey, captains.

West Newton: Herbert M. Cole, chairman; Ellery Peabody, Robert W. Newell, Albert Mann, Arthur C. Dunmore, Ralph E. Hatch, Harry M. Stone, C. A. Laffie, Joseph J. Curran, Justin A. McCarthy, captains.

Auburndale: W. J. Spaulding, chairman; Thomas J. Lyons, W. H. Nash, J. Emory Clapp, Dr. C. D. Ansley, Charles Floyd, C. E. Valentine, W. Kirk Corey, J. W. Weinberg, Olin F. Herick, captains.

Lower Falls: George M. Heathcote, chairman; Alfred Murray, Miss Eva Clark, Miss Rose Lehan, Roy E. Early, Timothy Healy, William Allerton, captains.

Newton Highlands: Clarence H. Lingham, chairman; Edwin C. Johnson, Charles A. Clark, Albert H. Elder, Isaac Goddard, William M. Leonard, L. V. Banker, Edwin S. Drowne, Charles W. Hawkes, Harris P. Gray, Thomas L. Goodwin, captains.

Chestnut Hill: George S. West, chairman; Henry W. Bliss, Chas. B. Butterworth, Arthur N. Hood, Chandler Hovey, William A. Mossman, Endicott P. Saltonstall, Frank A. Schirmer, Randolph S. Tucker, captains.

Upper Falls: Herbert E. Locke, chairman; John A. Gould, A. D. Colby, F. N. Oldfield, P. Crowley, D. Osborne, W. Mason, S. Shuker, D. Lynch, G. W. Willis, H. E. Childs, captains.

Waban: Lawrence Allen, chairman; J. Earle Parker, E. P. Upham, Jr., A. C. Dennison, R. W. Moore, Jr., Rhodes Garrison, A. P. Newman, R. J. Cram, captains.

Newton Centre: E. Clifford Potter.

TO HELP STREET RAILWAYS

Aldermen Favor a Contribution Which Amounts to a Rebate of Excise Tax

The session of the aldermen on Monday night was enlivened by an active discussion of the street railway problem, with particular reference to the service between Newtonville and Newton Centre, which was recently discontinued by the local company. A majority of the finance committee reported in favor of making an appropriation, under the authority of a recent statute, equal to the amount of the excise tax assessed against this company in Newton, amounting to nearly $6000. This appropriation to be paid in monthly instalments when other municipalities in the territory served by this company had made similar contributions, making a total of $12,000 in all. The monthly instalments to continue so long as the company operated a half hourly service between Newton Centre and Newtonville.

Alderman Angier opposed the committee recommendation as it would not solve the problem and might not even help the company.

The Newton Centre line was not the most expensive line in the city, and if relief was granted for this line, what would prevent the company from discontinuing service on the more important line between Watertown and Upper Falls, where the loss in operation was much more. Mr. Angier believed that the state should grant relief first, and he did not favor dropping $500 a month and be no better off six months hence. He also suggested that if this precedent was established the Edison company might come in later and ask that its non-paying extensions be financed by the city.

Alderman Harriman said that many street railways had been built which ought not to have been constructed. But, having been built, people had established their homes and are dependent upon the service. We should consider this kind of service, therefore, similar to the rural delivery of the postoffice department. The question comes down to this—whether we shall allow the service to be discontinued or whether we should give some assistance. The whole car service in Newton shows a net loss of about $7000, with only one regular line a paying proposition. If company goes out of business the city will lose the excise tax anyway. Mr. Harriman argued also that the excise tax was a tax primarily based on the profits of the street car business, and as there were no profits in this case the tax ought not to be levied, or at least ought to be rebated as suggested. Alderman Cole said that all the street railways were in a desperate financial condition and higher fares will not solve the difficulty. They are "hamstrung" by the cost of wages and materials. The municipalities served must help if the service is to be continued. He believed it would be a good investment for the city, which would have ample control thru the plan of monthly contributions.

Alderman Angier did not believe the aldermen were competent to solve the difficulty, and Alderman Harriman replied that we could only learn by experimenting.

Alderman Allen thought it a bad precedent to establish, and he was reluctant to make up a deficit in any public utility out of the public treasury. The street railway ought not to sell its commodity at less than cost and expect the public to foot the bills. The report was finally accepted by a close viva voce vote. The matter now goes to the Mayor to make a definite recommendation for an appropriation to carry this action into effect.

All the members but Alderman Blake were present, and there were two unopposed permits for gasoline heard at the opening of the session.

Amos M. Leonard and Hugh E. Devine were granted auctioneer licenses. Masten & Wells Fireworks company were given another year to manufacture fireworks on Needham street; A. S. McPhee was licensed as a second-hand dealer at Newtonville; and the gas light company was granted permission to open Commonwealth avenue for a gas main. $1000 was voted for coal for the fire department; $200 for workmen's compensation; $1500 for state aid; $250 for forestry work; $500 for street department automobiles; and $625 for interest.

The buildings commissioner was authorized to have the old Ash street school house torn down; and gasoline permits were granted Carrie T. Schirmer, Wachusett road, and George S. West, Chestnut Hill road.

A resolution by Alderman McCarthy that all new streets shall hereafter be named for the men from Newton who had died in the German war, was unanimously adopted.

Alderman Nichols called attention to the adoption of the constitutional amendment authorizing the creation of building zones, and the legislative committee was requested to consider and report what action should be taken.

The board adjourned at 9.36.

COPLEY THEATRE—"The Importance of Being Earnest," which is to be given at the Copley Theatre by the Henry Jewett Players next week, is one of the lightest and merriest of Oscar Wilde's comedies. It was acted at the Copley during the first season of the Henry Jewett Players at that house, and its reception at that time is evidence of the interest that will be taken in its revival. This comedy of Oscar Wilde's is clever, amusing and brilliant. It is really one of the wisest of modern plays. It satirizes many modern follies good naturedly, and its dialogue is a continuous sparkle of perpetual humor. It will be staged at the Copley Theatre under Henry Jewett's personal direction.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

John C. Lathrop' C.S.B., Speaks to Large Audience on "Salvation Through Spiritual Sense"

The lecture announced for last Monday evening drew a large audience completely filling the hall and stage, and overflowing into the Sunday School room. Mr. Lathrop is one of the more newly appointed lecturers, and presented the subject of Christian Science from a point of view that was full of freshness and interest.

Mr. William F. Forrin, the First Reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, introduced the lecturer in these brief words:

Friends:—The great value of a Christian Science lecture is the correcting of misapprehensions about Christian Science, and false concepts of God, man, and the universe.

The Christ, Truth, spoken by the lecturer is to awaken human thought to a clearer sense of the omnipotence of good, and to show in some degree how God's law of Love operates in human affairs.

Mr. Lathrop's lecture in full is as follows:

Christian Science was discovered by Mary Baker Eddy fifty-two years ago. Thirteen years after the discovery the first "Church of Christ, Scientist," was organized in Boston, Massachusetts. Since then nearly eighteen hundred organized churches or societies have been established over the world, forty-one cities each containing two churches or societies, and twenty-four other cities each containing from three to eighteen churches or societies. At the Wednesday evening meetings held in these churches and societies over ten thousand people each week publicly and voluntarily bear grateful testimony to the healing and regenerative benefits they have received through Christian Science. Scores of additional carefully authenticated testimonies appear weekly and monthly in the Christian Science Sentinel and The Christian Science Journal. If these are some of the present fruits of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy asks in her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 349), "what will the harvest be, when this Science is more generally understood?"

Discoverer and Founder
I first met Mary Baker Eddy twenty-two years ago, when, on leaving the business world to embark in the practice of Christian Science, she invited me to visit her at her home in Concord, N. H. In those early days there were conflicting stories about Mrs. Eddy, and so I decided to keep on, as it were, my "business spectacles," look at her through them, and thus not be fooled by any possible personal influence. Great was my relief and satisfaction on meeting a person who did not at all accord with what I had heard. I found myself in the presence of a person of marked gentleness and refinement, whose manner was quiet, modest, and deeply sincere, who spoke with great earnestness, continually referring to God with such unusual trust and conviction that my thought soon left her personality and did not return to it. I discovered that instead of her human personality dominating me, as was my first impression, she was governing Mrs. Eddy, and thus strongly impressing me. I remember she answered some difficult questions, and her simple, unhesitating, strong, and certain manner convinced me that she was not depending upon her mortal self or human will for knowledge, but that her wisdom was the outcome of her implicit spiritual faith in God. Those who knew Mrs. Eddy best never had but one opinion about her absolute reliance upon the divine Mind for every daily move. I may add, merely in the way of confirmation, that in after years it was my privilege for a period of time to be a member of Mrs. Eddy's household, when I possessed the opportunity of watching her daily habits, which I found to be as honest and consistent in spiritual guidance and practice as were the fruits in abundant and beneficent results. What I then witnessed confirmed what had gradually been formulating in my consciousness, namely, that spiritual Truth has always been revealed to those who were most spiritually minded, and that Mrs. Eddy's natural love for God and His laws enabled her to understand and reveal both to this age. And so what I then saw answered conclusively to me an old question. Was Mrs. Eddy commissioned by God or by man? And if by God, can God make a mistake? Gratitude opens the door to spiritual understanding, whereas harsh judgment closes this door. Gratitude for the lives of great people, rather than opposition to their work and doctrine, constitutes the open door to spiritual understanding. History shows that those who profited most through spiritual faith and noble lives of men and women were those who were most deeply touched by a sense of gratitude for those lives. Noble motives will prepare one's thought for spiritual discovery, and thereafter the honesty and verity of Mrs. Eddy's great discovery will never be doubted.

Right Viewpoint
There are in the world today, as there always have been, many diversities of human opinions or points of view. Once succeed in changing a person's point of view and you give him a wholly different outlook, as when you change his point of view from west to south or from west to east. Suppose a person, who, from birth had been taught to wear blue glasses and to view the world through them, after twenty-five years of continual use of blue glasses, were told that everything is not blue, but white and gold and green and brown, it would be difficult for him at once to credit the truth and change his way of thinking. If he were told to take off those useless and disfiguring glasses and have a look at things as they really are, he would reply, "You are mistaken, I have always seen the world this way, and so has every one else I know. Of course the world is blue, and not green and brown and white and gold." That person's point of view would need to be changed. It is certain he saw everything wrongly, but was ignorant of it. Most persons today are wearing "blue glasses" and do not know it. These are mental glasses through which they see the world, not as it really is, and was created, but their educated point of view has made it to them, and according to prevailing opinion, they will insist on seeing it so until they take off their "blue glasses" and change their point of view. Changing their point of view will change everything for them, and if their new viewpoint be correct, the outcome will be an ever-increasing degree of harmony, health, and happiness. Only proof and demonstration, however, convince us which point of view is right and which is wrong. Words only serve to awaken us and show the way.

There is little difference of opinion about the fact that mortals need a clearer way and a truer point of view. All agree that the world seems to be about as full today as ever of sin and fear, hatred and jealousy, impurity and disease, vanity and selfishness, and that calamities, tumults, and wars have not substantially decreased up to the present hour. Surely it is too late now to believe that the causes of these evils can be traced to the great source of infinite purity and goodness, the one eternal and immutable Spirit, called God. Surely intelligent people do not any longer believe that God is the cause of human discord and suffering, any more than they believe that the principle of mathematics is the cause of the failure of mortals to understand and prove its unchanging rules. An ignorant sense of the rules prevents the principle of mathematics being correctly proved, and just so, it is today discovered by all fair-minded persons who have removed their "blue glasses" that it is an ignorant material sense of God and His spiritual rules, which results in fear, disease, selfishness, was calamity, and death. The way of health and harmony, the way of true prayer and salvation, lies along the path-way of a right understanding. This right understanding comes through the study and practice of Christian Science, and in the measure that it is attained, the chief purpose of this lecture is to consider and, so far as the time allotted and the speaker's ability permit, to reveal this true sense in contradistinction to the claims and evidence of the false material sense or the material point of view.

When, as a business man, I attended my first Christian Science meeting, and understood very little of the talks which went clear over my head, I determined that if ever in the future I spoke publicly upon the subject, I would couch my remarks, as it were, in the plain language of the street, so that the business man and other people could comprehend Christian Science. But as I was which inevitably changed from the material viewpoint to the spiritual, the latter becoming more and more natural and simple, one is inclined to forget those early resolutions. Besides, as the spiritual idea is so exactly opposite to the material belief, it is difficult always to express the higher idea in ordinary material terms, so as to make it as plain as the simple from the material point of view. Jesus once said, "No man putteth new wine into old bottles." He used parables and similitudes to help reveal the spiritual idea. We are therefore confronted with the happy task of attempting to change your thought about matter and evil by the employment of the spiritual reason, after which, matter upon divine revelation and demonstration awakening in your thought the true spiritual idea of God, man, and the universe.

Matter
A friend of mine once said, "I recognize the power of the human mind over the body, and I recognize matter also." Matter is actually the greatest hump in the world, as the world will sometime discover. Probably no other kind of ghost has fooled so many people, or deceived them so badly. Paraphrasing the saying of a famous American, matter may fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but it can no longer fool all of the people all of the time. To the five material senses, matter seems to be very real, but matter is not at all what it seems to be; material scientists will tell you. Its claim of possessing life, intelligence or substance is now found to be absolutely false. Under increasingly powerful magnifying glasses its nature as substance continuously changes, and its original form and character are reduced to the minute forms called ions and electrons, and the latter in turn are reduced to what is called the atomic energy of the mind. Here material science finds itself halted by a great gulf, which it never will be able to bridge and continue farther with material reasoning or material knowledge. Under a very strong magnifying glass the particles of matter are seen to be constantly changing and moving about, as though war with each other. This is actually the fact, and it has been taught in the schools that the material body undergoes a complete renewal once in seven years. This period of time has in recent years been gradually reduced, an eminent French scientist, Camille Flammarion, reducing the time by more than one-half, and quite recently a scientist has announced that this bodily change takes place once in two months. If this be a fact, it makes a total of just six distinct material bodies that you and I have exhibited during the past year. And we would ask, by the way, what has become of those so-called chronic diseases which you thought you had two, four, or six months ago? Surely they were not in matter.

And so matter is discovered through human reasoning to be quite a different substance from what it appears to the material senses to be, and to possess no life or no intelligence of its own. And as matter, energy or mind, is found to possess a very false sense of life and intelligence.

Then it must follow that if matter has no life or intelligence of its own, it can have no sensation. Matter, as flesh or blood, nerves or arteries, cannot ache, swell, harden, or be diseased; matter can form no opinion or report no message, for it is found to be a dream substance, which seems very real but which is not. Nonintelligent matter is not a lawbreaker nor a law breaker, for as it is without mind, it can impose no law whatever upon man. Matter is said to be largely impregnated with germs and microbes. Bad germs are said to cause disease and good germs to be necessary for health. As matter is found to be unintelligent and unreal, there can be no bad germs or good germs; then there is nothing to fear or honor in this direction.

Material Senses
As for the five material senses through which mortal mind substantiates matter, these five senses are correspondingly fallacious and ephemeral. Matter having no intelligence cannot of itself see, hear, taste, touch, or smell. Innumerable illustrations could be cited proving that material eyes do not see, nor the material organism of the ear hear, etc. Hundreds of times daily you do not see what the eyes are looking at, because the thought has been distracted by some other sense. Thus are splendid illustrations to prove this. Eyeglasses which are carefully placed outside before the eyes, should be fitted to the thought, and not to senseless matter. Just so with the hearing. A few minutes ago your ears did not hear that noise on the street, simply because your ears do not hear. Your thought or consciousness was on and hearing this lecture. Many times while eating a meal, sometimes of many courses, if your thought be distracted by absorbing conversation, you will taste little or nothing you have eaten. Does not all this prove that your consciousness of sight, your consciousness of hearing, taste, is the only sight and hearing and taste that you have, and until you realize the truth about sensation, this consciousness is mortal mind and not matter.

Mortal Mind
Mortal mind is nothing more or less than the false belief that there is life, intelligence, and substance in matter. What is left of mortal mind after all its false material beliefs have been exposed and reversed? It will not have a foot left to stand upon. Its fraudulent character will be laid bare to the world. Its finite, limited, self-centered beliefs, without Principle, therefore constitute selfishness, and from these selfish, wilful thoughts proceed all the discord, disease, and death which afflict mortals. Did not St. Paul call death "the wages of sin"? Jesus denounced the devil, or evil, as a liar and the father of lies. A lie was never the truth, and can never reverse the truth, but truth uncovers a lie and destroys it. Thus it is discovered that sin and evil, in other words mortal mind, never had a real origin or existence, is really not mind, but is simply error of belief. Now let it be understood that it is not the painful sensations of this false material sense which make it subtle or dangerous, but its pleasant sensations. But that kind of sensation, which inevitably results by reason of its falsity in mental discord and suffering, is not a permanent and satisfying pleasure. Therefore, it is not a pleasure to gratify the false deceiving senses, but it is a pleasure to master and overcome them.

The Reality
And so we turn from the falsity to the reality. Dreams in sleep, no matter how real or alluring they may seem, do not get us anywhere. We must awake and be quickened to make progress. The only way to reason away error is to demonstrate the truth. Human consciousness awakened to the truth, catches error to fall back upon and destroy itself. Jesus said, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." God is Spirit, as the Bible teaches, and Christian Science reveals that He is the only Spirit, or Mind. But how to be quickened by God, especially in the hour of trial, is the question. The Scriptures teach that God is too pure to behold iniquity, and that a falsity cannot be beheld by the divine Truth is now quite apparent. Then if God, Spirit, cannot be seen or approached through the material senses, through what human avenue can He be reached and His infinite blessings be bestowed? The answer to this preeminent question should not be more simple. If God, the divine Mind, is to be reached through thought only, as many believe, what other channel of thought exists after the material has been eliminated?

Spiritual Sense
There is scarcely a normally minded mortal who holds not daily some thoughts of truthfulness, sincerity, faith, hope, courage, affection, purity, honesty; in other words, some unselfish thoughts, which cannot be called material, but which point thought higher to a universal good. Every one knows that these and kindred thoughts bring satisfaction and happiness and lead to better things. Turning away from matter and self, moved by some motive for the universal good, is to touch the divine principle of being, and to gain some sense of Spirit, or God. This sense, which all normal mortals possess to some extent, even though they may be ignorant thereof, is known in Christian Science as spiritual sense, and it is the way through which man knows God and is known by Him. Christian Science serves to awaken these thoughts and motives, and by means of them to educate and encourage until the spiritual sense of things is discerned and begins to be demonstrated or proved by overcoming the false evidence of the material senses, especially when that evidence is in the nature of fear, sin, and disease. Spirituality, or spiritual sense, may be thus awakened and may become a very common or general sense. In fact, the true sense of Spirit is real common sense, even as the sense of matter is found to be nonsense, and Christian Science is but another name for this common sense law of life. Mrs. Eddy defines Christian Science in her "Fundamental Divine Science" (p. 1) as "the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the divine Principle and rule of universal harmony."

ple of Jesus made clearer the spiritual rules of life said: "God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." He that dwelleth in love, purity, honesty, unselfishness, knoweth God and is expressing God, whereas he whose thought is a channel for "the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father," as John declares, "but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever." This "will of God" is known in Christian Science also as the will of Principle, the will of the one Mind, Truth, Life and Love, for if the will of matter or the flesh is proved to be an erring sense forcing mortals into tormenting fears, incessant troubles, subtle sins, distressing disease, and direful death, then the will of divine Principle, when properly proved, produces the opposite results, and awakens mortals to moral courage, increasing purity, abounding health, unlimited harmony, and eternal life.

Its Practical Application

Granting, then, as all Christians do, that God is the one infinite Spirit, or Mind, the omnipotent All-in-all, the question arises, that all-absorbing practical question which vitally interests all mortals, How is this divine Principle of the allness of good to be applied in the lives of mortals? How is it to save us from the fears, wickedness, and suffering continually experienced in mortal life? Christian Science answers that as life means is plain, the method is equally so. To begin with, the reference already made to the pupil applying the principle and rules of mathematics to overcome error, is a fair illustration of how God and His spiritual laws should be applied in the minds of mortals to overcome there the errors of existence. The truth about the principle of mathematics, dawned upon the striving thought of the pupil, and in this ratio the error disappears; just so, the truth about the infinite Principle of Life, God, the truth that Spirit is infinite and omnipotent, dawned upon the receptive thought, and exactly in the same ratio do the discordant and false material beliefs of life in matter vanish. In mathematics this is called demonstration, and it is called the same in Christian Science. To demonstrate the allness, omnipotence, and perfection of divine Principle, therefore, becomes the whole duty of mankind, and in proportion as this is done, the lives of mortals are brought into harmony with God, and salvation and perfection are attained. No movement should be made, no work undertaken, no thought should be given to the body, no thought projected into consciousness, before it is first weighed by spiritual Truth and Love and not found wanting.

Prayer

This method of believing and affirming with absolute certainty that God is just what the Bible implies Him to be, namely All-in-all, and believing, as Jesus taught, that the things one rightly asks for shall come to pass, indicates something of the true nature of prayer according to Christian Science. Proving the divine Principle of his being in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death is a practical and certain illustration of true prayer which should appeal to every earnest Christian. Instead of being prayerless, as some have imagined, Christian Scientists, in so far as they practice their Science, live lives of continual prayer. They pray morning, noon, and night; they pray before they work, eat, or sleep. The Christian Scientist prays, not to beseech the infinite to grant some personal desire, or to inform the All-wisdom of something God does not already know, but he conscientiously affirms the truth of being, and denies the errors of belief, opens one door of his thought and shuts the other, until harmony, health, and peace are brought into and govern his consciousness and his prayer has been answered. This prayer is not, therefore, a blind belief in a personal deity, nor a wavering faith in a far-away, mysterious God, but it is a faith which has advanced to spiritual understanding, and become settled, certain, and always available.

The Bible declares, "He that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him." Salvation does not follow a blind personal belief in a personal God or a personal savior; if it did, we should not be admonished to work out our own salvation, or be told, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things." This work of overcoming can only effectively be done according to a divine Principle and rule, and this Principle and rule must sooner or later be understood by each individual in order to "put off the old man with his deeds" and inhabit the kingdom of harmony. Blind faith is ignorant of sin and how to handle it; it knows not how to uncover and rebuke error, therefore this fatal omission prevents the answer to its prayers. Blind faith accomplishes some measure of good; good motives could hardly fail to reap some reward, but mental blindness, Mrs. Eddy explains, "clings fast to iniquity" (Science and Health, p. 448), and naught else than enlightened spiritual understanding will uncover and destroy the manifold delusions of sin, sickness, and death.

Disease and Its Remedy

Gaining an understanding of Spirit and the omnipotent power of spiritual laws, and an understanding of the false nature of matter and of mortal mind and material laws, the seeker is armed successfully to cope with any human discord. Is it then surprising that he should presume to attempt to heal disease as well as sin? What is disease that it should elude the minister and be assigned to the physician, and what is sin that it should defy the physician and be allotted to the minister? From whence is the disease? From God? From the minister the more than the other, Jesus' identical handling of sin and disease should long ago have convinced the world that they have an identical source. Centuries ago David wrote: "Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted. . . . Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he . . . sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions." Christian Science has undeniably demonstrated that much of the so-called chronic and incurable disease is caused by hidden or wilful sin, and very few physicians today will contradict this. Then it is true that they both have their origin in thought; their cause cannot be in matter, since matter is nonintelligent. Their remedy is that power which will permanently heal "the thought-cause, and this remedy is the Word of God scientifically understood, which, in the words of the Bible, "is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

My friends, to one who has proved this truth for over a quarter of a century, as I have done, and witnessed the Principle of Christian Science heal nearly every known disease, and sin, this is not a theory but a fact. It no longer be said, as was stated in the "Medical Record," that it is doubtful whether the sum total of diseases is any less than it was before the medical profession reached its present high standing, and that "in the opinion of some medical men diseases are on the increase." Mrs. Eddy writes in Science and Health (p. 404), "Healing the sick and reforming the sinner are one and the same thing in Christian Science. Both cures require the same method and are inseparable in Truth." This cannot longer be doubted when spiritual sense versus material sense is clearly understood. Fear and sin, Christian Science teaches, are elements of all disease, and fear is the cause of the majority of human troubles. The understanding of Christian Science prevents fear and heals fear, and in this alone Christian Science is a priceless benefaction to the human race. Established on the rock of spiritual understanding, you will no longer fear "the fury of the oppressor," or what mortal man or mortal belief can do unto you, for possessing consciously the sense of divine reality and protection, "where is the fury of the oppressor?"

Fallacy of Human Will, Blind Faith

Christian Science teaches that the real power in the universe is necessarily Spirit, Mind, God, and that in the final analysis, whatever the temporary evidence may be to the contrary, there really cannot be any other power than God. If matter in its different forms cannot cure the sick, no more can its false and suppositional mental cause, mortal mind or human

The success of the United War Work Campaign in this city is largely due to the splendid work done by the individual solicitors under the direction of the captains and chairmen of the different villages. And this in turn is largely due to the careful organization which has been built up by the general committee, headed by Mr. Henry J. Nichols and assisted by Messrs. James A. Stafford and William D. Nugent. Special praise is also due to Mrs. Frank H. Stewart for the extraordinary success with the Victory Girls movement and to Mayor Childs for similar work with the Victory Boys. A total subscription of over $300,000 from this city is truly remarkable and emphasizes anew the fact that in the work of caring for our boys across the water there is neither Catholic nor Protestant, Jew nor Gentile, but all are true Americans. So be it.

Mr. William H. Zoller, the comptroller of the committee is entitled to more than a word of praise, for his task has been most difficult. With hundreds of subscriptions continually coming in from volunteer workers in all manner of shape many of them in small amounts, it is no small job to keep accurate accounts, cancel the money and see that each village is given proper credit. Mr. Zoller has performed excellent work under these trying conditions and fully deserves the gratitude of the community.

We do not believe the community as a whole realizes the serious condition of the street railways of the state in general and of the local companies in particular. The recent street railway strike here gave us some idea of the condition which would arise if street railway service was discontinued or abandoned, but much of that inconvenience was discounted on the ground of patriotism and would not be endured as an ordinary matter. The public ought not to expect the financial interests of the community to continue to furnish it with transportation and see that it is being done today. The solution is taxing the best minds of the country and will probably be reached only through a series of experiments, as Alderman Harriman so clearly states. It certainly will not be reached if nothing is attempted or nothing done, and certainly will not be reached if the foolish hubbub of "precedent" is made a stumbling block. We are up against a condition and not a theory, and we thoroughly believe that every possible expedient should be tried before we sink to the level of public ownership of our transportation facilities, with all its political possibilities and high cost of service.

Alderman McCarthy has struck a popular chord in suggesting that the new streets of the future should be named after the men who have laid down their lives for the country. And yet a resolution of that kind is of little real value, for it will only have effect during the life of the city government which acted upon it and future city governments cannot be bound by what the aldermen did last Monday night.

The continued publication of the casualty lists is a sad reminder that for some, the consummation of peace carries with it a personal sorrow which cannot be assuaged.

This will be a real Thanksgiving.

THANKSGIVING DAY INVITATIONS DESIRED

In our training camps around Boston there will be thousands of lonesome and weary homesick boys. Thanksgiving Day this year unless the citizens of Newton and other sections of greater Boston come forward and offer these soldier and sailor boys a taste of good old-fashioned New England hospitality. The War Camp Community Service has established desks at all the different training centers where boys in service who are distant from their home towns may register their names, if they desire home hospitality when off duty.

These desks report to us that there are an appalling number of names already on the waiting list for this Thanksgiving Day, and they tell us that it is rather to be the disappointment of the boys when they learn that as yet there are not enough invitations to go around.

Therefore, if any citizen of Newton would like to invite one or more boys to dine with them on November 28, will they kindly communicate with the Thanksgiving Desk at the main office, 844 Little Building, Boston (telephone Beach 3850), or notify their local chairman of the Home Hospitality Committee.

From the West Newton section of the committee, in order to facilitate the forwarding of these invitations, volunteer workers will be stationed in the vestries of the different churches on Sunday morning, directly after the service, who will take the names of would-be hosts and hostesses, or they may be mailed directly to Mrs. Herbert E. Pales, Highland street, in which case they should reach her by noon of Monday.

West Newton

Mrs. Alexander Bennett of Lincoln Park has returned from a visit at Vergennes, Vt.

Dr. F. M. Lowe of Washington street has returned from a hunting trip in Maine.

Mr. Samuel Hobbs of Temple street has closed his house for the winter season.

Mrs. Frederica Rindge has purchased and will occupy the new house 1777 Beacon street, Waban.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Duane of River street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Mr. Harry R. Crooker of Highland street has closed his house and is a guest at the Brae Burn Club.

The Tournament at Brae Burn on Thanksgiving morning closes the official golf season of the club.

The auxiliary choir was taken part in the service of Thanksgiving at the Second church next Sunday morning.

Mrs. Charles F. Howland of Chestnut street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Adolf Amend, at Highwood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey S. Stimens of Eden avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. Daniel F. Carley, the father of Messrs. C. G. J. Cheever, and Edward F. Carley of this village and of Mrs. J. J. Forsythe of Newton, died last week Thursday at the Soldiers' Home at Togus, Me. Mr. Carley served in the Civil War in Co. I of the 4th Maine Regiment.

Ernest H. Harvey of Adams street was struck by an automobile November 16 as he was crossing Cherry street, West Newton, opposite City Hall. He was badly bruised about both legs, and was taken to the Newton Hospital. The machine was driven by Mrs. Winifred McMahon of Pleasant street, West Newton, who says that she did not see Harvey in time to avoid running him down. Harvey is employed in the office of the city engineer.

The Home Hospitality Committee for men in service is planning to entertain a large party of boys from the Cambridge Radio School on Thanksgiving Day at the Brae Burn Club. After the usual Thanksgiving feast, informal dancing has been arranged for the afternoon. Miss Ethel Howland of Chestnut street has charge of the financial arrangements, and will be glad to receive further small contributions if sent before noon on Monday in order to extend the invitation to a larger number of boys.

In spite of the stormy night, an audience that filled the church assembled at the Second Church, West Newton, on Sunday evening last at the Victory Rally held under the auspices of the War Work Campaign. The procession headed by the united choirs of West Newton churches, consisted of representatives of Boy and Girl Scouts, standard bearers of the flags of the Allies, officers of the West Newton Soldiers' Aid, and members of the Newton Constabulary. The flags of the nations were then honored by the singing of their respective national hymns. Lieut. Boucher of the French army acting as bearer of the French flag, and Mr. Daniel Barbo of the West Newton Sons of Italy of the Italian flag. After devotional services by the ministers of West Newton churches addresses were given by Mr. E. J. Lake and Lieut. Donald Stewart. An offering for their war work of $237 was made at the service.

HOME SERVICE SECTION

Every once in a while the Home Service Section of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross gets letters from boys at the front which show that the work of the Home Section is appreciated by the men who are doing the fighting.

From now on the Home Section's work will grow and it must have the support of all Newton.

One of the recent letters received is this from Sergeant Ahern:

France, October 14, 1918.
My dear Friend:—I have just received a letter from my Mother telling me of the wonderful work our Red Cross is doing at home, and I myself have seen the wonderful work it is doing over here. I want to thank you for what you have done for my Mother, for whatever you do for her you do for me. My regiment has been in the trenches for the last eight months, and we have seen some pretty hard fighting. We have had the honor of helping to start this big German retreat, in fact, my battalion was one of the first over the top, and we are all from Boston. I remain SERGT. JOHN F. AHERN.
Co. L, 101st U.S. Infantry.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRINGTON

Mrs. Angie V. Harrington, the wife of Mr. I. Boutwell Harrington, died last Friday at her home on Church street, Newton, after a long and lingering illness. Mrs. Harrington was born at Litchfield, Me., March 31, 1850, and has been a resident of this city since her marriage in 1872. Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Walter Moore, of this city. Funeral services were held from her late home on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Dr. George S. Butters of Auburndale officiating, and the interment was at Weston cemetery.

FATAL TROLLEY ACCIDENT

Mrs. Achsah H. Kendall of Institution avenue, Newton Centre, was killed and Mrs. Emma S. Preston of Chester street, Newton Highlands and Mrs. Lavinia Sahlin of Newbury terrace, Newton Centre, were injured in a serious street railway accident which took place Wednesday evening at the Lake Street car station on Commonwealth avenue.

The police say that failure of the car's airbrakes was the cause of the accident. The car, in charge of Motorman Fred Patient, 301 Washington street, Brookline, had been shifted on the switch tracks 100 feet from the waiting room. Motorman Patient was changing the trolley for the intown run when the car unexpectedly started. It quickly gathered headway on the steep incline above the station and smashed into the light building, toppling two trolley poles on its way.

The three women were seated in the waiting room. Two escaped the oncoming car, but Mrs. Kendall was pinned between the car and the wreck of the building. A physician among the waiting passengers tried to revive her, but, failing, had her placed in a passing automobile and taken to the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. There she was pronounced dead, and the body was taken to the North morgue. Mrs. Preston suffered a fracture of the left leg and scalp wounds and Mrs. Sahlin was lacerated on the cheek and head.

Henry Centre was standing on the platform when the car struck the waiting room. His injuries were not serious.

No passengers were aboard the car when it started, and as the motorman was outside working with the trolley, it was empty when it struck the waiting room. Elevated officials gave no explanation of the cause of the accident. For an hour after the accident traffic was tied up on the lines near the Lake street station.

When you want a plumber call B. M. Thomas, 272 Newton North. Ad.

There was a social at the Immanuel Baptist Church on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Simpson have returned to Newton and are occupying the house 278 Waverley avenue.

President William Arnold Shanklin of Wesleyan University will preach Sunday morning at the M. E. church.

Second Lieut. Robert J. Holmes has been promoted to First Lieutenant, and has been for some time commanding officer of Students Army Training Corps, Shurtleff College, Alton, Ill.

The first supper and social of the season was held at the Elliot Church on Wednesday evening. There was music by the Church Quartet and the master, Rev. H. Grant Person told of the work of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Devens.

The eight o'clock club met with Mr. B. S. Hinckley on Park street Wednesday evening, November 20. There were about twenty members present and most interesting vacation reports were related. Refreshments were served.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church on Wednesday evening Dean Laurens J. Birney gave a most interesting talk on his experiences in France. Dean Birney was with our boys in the immortal St. Mihiel drive. Before the lecture a supper was served by the members of the Ladies' Aid.

NEWTON CENTRE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Dramatics committee, of which Miss Priscilla Ordway is the chairman, entertained the club on Thursday afternoon, November 21, with three short plays. In "Lonesome Like," Mrs. Allen Hubbard as the patient, poverty-stricken old woman, and Miss Dorothy Taylor as a lonely, successful country lad, who adopted her as his mother, were especially good. In "Ashes of Roses," Mrs. William C. Appleton portrayed well the part of an actress who gave up true love for fame and too late realized the hollowness of such a life.

"Three Pills in a Bottle" gave us a realistic picture of a small boy, Mrs. William J. Hodges, who had discovered strange souls underlying the outward appearance of his friends.

The club has voted $100 for the use of the War Service Committee of which Mrs. Frank Stewart is the chairman. At the "Living Poster" exhibit on November 9, which was in charge of Mrs. Carl P. Waldinger, $450 was realized for relief work.

The next meeting of the club on December 12 will be in the hands of Mrs. Roy T. Wells and the Educational committee, with Mrs. W. C. Crawford on Current Events.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

In Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners

Boston November 18, 1918.
On the petition of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to revise the agreed price expressed in a certain contract, dated February 25, 1918, between the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the Newton & Waterbury Gas Light Company for the sale of gas by the former to the latter company and to fix a price of sixty-five cents per thousand cubic feet for all gas sold and delivered under the provisions of said contract, the Board will give a hearing to the parties interested at its office, 603 Ford Building at 15 Ashburton place, Boston, on Monday, the second day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

And the petitioner is required to give notice of said hearing by publication hereof in the "Newton Graphic," the "Newton Times," and the "Newton Circuit" in each of said papers once at least before said time of hearing, and in the "Waltham Evening News" and the "Waltham Free-Press Tribune," in each of said papers once each week for two successive weeks prior to said time of hearing.

POSTPONED

The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross's collection of clothing for the destitute in Belgium and the devastated sections of France has been postponed for at least another week at the request of the Newton Board of Health. The Board made the request because of the appearance in the city in the last few days of a number of cases of grip. To prevent the disease spreading and to prevent sending infected clothing to Europe it was thought wise to postpone the proposed collection of clothing.

It is hoped that people will still hold their clothing for this purpose, as it is expected that the drive will come in another week.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage of real estate given by Charles A. Dooley of Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts to David A. Yull of Somerville, Middlesex County, dated March 28, 1917 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4124, Page 487, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on Monday, December 16, 1918 at three o'clock in the afternoon, the real estate described in said mortgage, to wit:

"The land in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, with the buildings thereon, shown as Lot No. 51 on a Plan of Brentwood Park in Newton Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4124, Page 487, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on Monday, December 16, 1918 at three o'clock in the afternoon, the real estate described in said mortgage, to wit:

"Southeasterly by Pleasant Street eighty (80) feet;
Southwesterly by Lot No. 50 on said plan one hundred and ten (110) feet;

Northwesterly in part by Lot No. 44 and in part by Lot No. 45 on said plan one hundred (100) feet;

Northeasterly by land of owners unknown one hundred and ten (110) feet.

Containing nine thousand two hundred and fifty (9,250) square feet of land."

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments, if any. Three hundred dollars ($300) required at sale.

Are Your PICTURES Suffering?

How many years since an expert has examined them?

It is the rule for owners of pictures to neglect them until their condition is so bad that the expense of their restoration is many times as great as if they had received proper care.

We give especial attention to restoration, framing and re-glazing and the quality of our work is unsurpassed.

Our Carrig-Rohane Shop, headed by Mr. Hermann Dudley Murphy, unquestionably America's most original and artistic designer of frames, has been the leading influence in the development of taste in framing for the last dozen years.

DEATH OF MR. WALES

Mr. George E. Wales, a native and lifelong resident of this city, died quite suddenly last Friday night at his home on Cedar street, Newton Centre, following a short illness. Mr. Wales was born at Newton Lower Falls 73 years ago. He removed to Oak Hill in boyhood and in 1884 built his present home on Cedar street. Since 1869 he has been engaged in the business of manufacturing preserves and jellies and has a widespread reputation for his product. He was one of the oldest members in the First Church of Newton, was one of its deacons, and took an active part in its affairs. In 1879 and 1880 he represented Newton Centre in the Common Council. He is survived by two sons and two daughters. Mr. Wallace Wales, whose home is in the west, and Mr. George F. Wales, and the Misses Etta and Amy Wales of Newton Centre. Funeral services were held from his late home on Monday afternoon, Rev. Dr. E. M. Noyes officiating, and the interment was at the Newton cemetery.

POLICE NOTES

Ill feeling engendered by continued bickering about the war, between Christ Williams, a Greek, and Julius Fischer, an interned German sailor, ended in the Newton Court Thursday, where Williams was fined $20 for an assault with a razor on Fischer. Both are orderlies at the Newton Hospital. A few days ago Fischer criticized Williams for not carrying his dishes from the table and the Greek drew a razor and cut the other man's arm.

—Mr. Herbert Sawyer of Napa, Cal., formerly of Auburndale, visited his sister, Mrs. Franklin T. Miller, last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Fisher of Grove street returned on Friday from an automobile trip through the White Mountains.

—Mrs. Franklin T. Miller and son Richard of Grove street left on Wednesday for New York, where they will spend the winter.

—Mr. William Wagner has returned from Camp Humphreys where he has been visiting his son, Capt. Charles Wagner of the engineering corps.

—Mrs. Wm. Devereux Langhorne (Myrtle Davidson) is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Davidson at their home on Woodland road.

—Auburndale Co-operative Bank. Assets over $200,000. Last dividend at rate of 5 1/2%. Begin now to save a regular amount each month—adv.

—The Foreign Missionary Society of the Congregational church held its annual meeting at the Methodist parish house Wednesday. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. N. L. Grant; vice-president, Miss Annie Strong; treasurer, Miss Susan Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew.

—Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. H. Nason of Woodland road that their son, Sgt. Leonard H. Nason of the 76th Field Artillery was wounded in action October 5, and is at a base hospital in France recovering. Sergeant Nason was gassed and shell-shocked in July, and returned to the firing line only a short time before he was again wounded.

—The Roll of Honor presented to Castle Stirling, Knights of King Arthur, was unveiled with an appropriate ceremony Sunday afternoon. Dr. George S. Butters had charge of the service, and Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding sang. The roll contains the names of about 75 of the Knights who have been doing some form of war work. It was given by Mrs. Frederick J. Day in honor of her son, Frederick D. Day, who died in France. It is in the form of an oak tablet.

MEMORIAL FOR SOLDIERS

A memorial service will be held next Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal church in memory of those on the honor roll of the church who have made the supreme sacrifice—Corporal Wesley Everett Rich and Private Norman W. Hyson. Rev. Dr. William A. Shanklin, president of Wesleyan University, will be present and speak of Corporal Rich, who was a professor in Wesleyan when called to the colors. Dr. Ross, the pastor, will be in charge of the service. Friends of our honored soldiers and their families are invited. Honor to whom honor is due.

DEFEATED CAMBRIDGE LATIN

Newton High School football team won the preparatory league championship over Cambridge Latin school 39 to 0, on Clifton field, Thursday. The visitors played well, though the score did not indicate it, and the Newton boys were kept busy. Newton showed up better than on any of its previous games this year. It opened up big holes in the Cambridge line, and used many plays that baffled the visitors. Gullian, Newton's left tackle, played a great offensive and defensive game. Henry Pinkham, Captain Nutting, and Owen also did fine work for the home boys.

—An interesting lecture was enjoyed last Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church when Dr. L. J. Birney, who has been with the Y. M. C. A. in France related his experiences with the boys "over there." After the lecture the audience all waited, and renewed old-time friendships with Dr. Birney, who will be remembered as a former pastor of the Church.

—The Current Topics Club of Dorchester met Tuesday with Mrs. H. A. Dodge of Ardmore road. Luncheon was served, and in the social hour that followed Mrs. George M. Morris sang, and there were piano selections by Mrs. H. C. Beaumont. Mrs. W. G. Hersey of Dorchester was speaker, and discussed the part women have played in the history of the world.

—The work of the Women's Committee in West Newton's United War Work Campaign was a distinct feature of the drive. Their solicitations yielded over $12,000, or 20 per cent. of the village total of $62,000. The efficiency, the energy, the willingness displayed stimulated the whole campaign. When it is borne in mind that they solicited solely from the women and servants of the household the results achieved take on added importance. The work was carried on under the able leadership of Mrs. F. S. Blodgett.

—At Trinity church Sunday evening there will be a celebration of the "Glory that is France," commemorating the fact that on the five little rivers of France the Kaiser met his doom.

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Thanksgiving this year will be fraught with a deep, new meaning. And it is well that it is so, for the original significance has gradually been lost sight of by many people, until Thanksgiving has come to be merely another holiday among an increasing number, with a good dinner and some attending pleasure. Even the good old New England custom of family reunions was becoming a thing of the past, while more and more the theatre party and dinner at a hotel had been taking their place. But what a poor substitute for going to Grandma's for Thanksgiving, with all the aunts and the uncles and the cousins! Can't you see the table fairly loaded with good things? And what a long table it was, and the chairs, to be sure, were pretty close, and they didn't all match, but who minded that, for there was the high chair for the littlest, and the cushion on the dictionary in the ordinary one, when you got a little bigger, and then how proud you were when you found a really tiny grown-up one at your place! The real joy was to all be there together at the one big table. Did anything ever taste so good! How the turkey fairly fell to pieces at the first touch of the carver! Was there ever a hotel chef who could match the flavor of Grandma's or Aunt Mary's cooking?

But the dinner wasn't all, for there was the walk in the gray afternoon to settle the dinner while the aunts "did the dishes." Then when it was dark enough to light up—we didn't "turn on" the lights in those days—there were the games, Spin the Platter, Going to Jerusalem, but none quite equal to Dumb Crambo. Every body joined in, from the tiniest baby to Grandma! Do you remember how Aunt Mary gasped as her best bonnet fell under the heels of some fiery, youthful steed? Somehow it wasn't much hurt after all and you didn't get scolded for taking it. But the climax was reached when Grandma sat down to the piano and played "Money Musk" for all to dance. Rich indeed are those with such memories! Are we giving them to our children? We may not here in this country be able to have the glad home-coming so soon, but think what it means to those families on the other side.

Newton Federation

Wednesday, December 11, 2:30 P.M.
Fall meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at Temple Hall, Newtonville. Subject, "The Child in Our Midst." Fine program has been arranged. Save the day.

Local Announcements

The Auburndale Review Club will meet on Tuesday, November 26, at the home of Mrs. F. F. Davidson, 59 Woodland road.

At 10:15 on Tuesday morning the Newton Parliamentary Law Club meets at the Newton Library.

Morris Gershon Hindus will speak before the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands at Lincoln Hall Tuesday afternoon on "Russia of Today."

November 30, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. William E. Moore.

Local Happenings

At the meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday afternoon Miss Edith McCann, vice-president, was in the chair. The last two acts of Macbeth were read and discussed. Mrs. W. E. Moore being in charge of the quiz, and making an interesting and thoughtful characterization of both Macbeth and Lady Macbeth. Mrs. F. H. Stratton was hostess.

November 18 at 3 o'clock the Christian Era Study Club met with Mrs. N. L. Grant, 206 Melrose street. Mrs. Edward T. Edmonds presented a paper on James V of Scotland, father of the beautiful and unfortunate Mary Stuart—better known as "Mary, Queen of Scots." Miss Elizabeth Wells, in another paper, gave the story of this heroine's life—so eventful and romantic as to attract the attention of all students of history from her day on to the present time. Mrs. N. W. Dennett told of the Scotch Covenanters, who began to be known about the middle of the 16th century, and from whom Presbyterianism sprang. After a very enjoyable and profitable afternoon, the meeting adjourned to meet on December 9, with Mrs. William B. MacLane.

Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Harriet Ward the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. began the study of the life of John Hay. Miss Adelaide R. Webster was in charge of the work.

At the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands held with Mrs. D. W. Eagles on November 18 a review of Coningsby Dawson's "Carry On" was given by Mrs. Charlton Miller. The rest of the time was given to a discussion of current events.

Prof. Julia F. Orvis of Wellesley College gave the first of a series of current events lectures before the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Tuesday afternoon. Under the topic, "How I V. Sg. EGR. SHR. DDWOUL. SHRD. Poch Won the War." Miss Orvis gave a careful delineation of the stirring events which led up to the signing of the armistice, holding the close attention of her audience every moment.

The annual exhibition of the work of the Needlework Guild was held at this time. The garments will later be distributed among the local philanthropies. Tea was served at the close.

The program for the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club held in the Methodist parish house on November 19 was in charge of the Conservation and Home Economics committees, Mrs. Henry S. Dawson and Mrs. F.

A. O'Brien, chairman. At the business meeting which preceded the program, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, the president, was in the chair, and reports were submitted from various committees.

The Glee Club sang several selections, after which Miss Annie L. Weeks spoke briefly on Home Demonstration. Mr. Philip Allen of the Fuel Administration told how to keep warm on the two-thirds coal allotment.

The last speaker was Mrs. Charles E. Morgan of the State Federation, whose subject was Food and Textiles. Her facts regarding the world's food supply in relation to the demand were especially illuminating, and drove home the necessity for continuing conservation. An informal reception ended the program for the afternoon.

A full attendance of members and guests welcomed the speaker of the evening at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, Mrs. George T. Rice of the Department of Women in Industry of the Council of National Defense, who discussed problems arising out of the war and the entering of a large number of women into industry to take the places of men. Mrs. Rice followed similar lines to those which she brought forward at the meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs the previous week, but with a smaller audience dealt with some phases more intimately. In conferences which she has had with women who have come from the other side, she stated that in the opinion of Miss Helen Fraser, Mrs. Pankhurst and others, the United States has a problem to face in this country quite different from that in any other.

The problems ahead of us must be solved by the community working together and cannot be by any one group. She told of the new board which is looking to keep tabs on all employees and thereby ultimately do away with what is called the "turnover" of labor. Records are to be kept so that it will be impossible for great bodies of workers to leave one town and go to another because higher wages have been offered there.

Her department secured the passage of a bill last year providing that the women in elevator service may receive compensation in case of accidents. An investigation of the conditions of Day Nurseries in Boston has been made, and in consequence a bill providing for the registering and licensing of them will be presented to the legislature this year, for which she bespoke the support of the club.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

About fifty librarians and teachers were present at the meeting of the New England Association of School Librarians held last Saturday. Miss Bigelow's talk on "A Typical Day in Our School Library" was very interesting. Miss Alice Jordan of the Boston Public Library introduced many recent good books for boys and girls. Luncheon was served in the Soldiers' Mess Hall behind the building.

May Sheridan is back in school after three weeks' work at the local draft board in West Newton. Helen Maxin and Anna Clinton 1916, were working there with her.

Last Wednesday the school was stirred to still greater enthusiasm for the United War Work Campaign by a splendid talk given by the Rev. R. H. Dix, a Y. M. C. A. worker and army chaplain.

$2,461 was pledged by the Victory Boys and Girls. Of this sum $1,405 has been pledged through the school by 297 different students. The Committee hoped that there would be one pledge for each star on our Service Flag, or $1,500. As it is there were nearly two pledges for every star.

Last Friday all the classes were entertained with inspiring talks by Mayor Childs and Mrs. Frank Stewart of the United War Fund, who explained its work at the High School students in the War Work drive. At the close of this talk Miss Bragg read a stirring poem entitled "Such an Age."

Albert Kiley, 1920, has left school to take up the sheet-metal business with his brother, Joseph Kiley of 1908. From private citizen to lieutenant in the United States Army within sixty days is the proud achievement of John D. Farnan, of the Class of 1917. He is ranked as one of the youngest lieutenants in the army, for he is only eighteen years of age. He was one of the first to sign up for the Students' Army Training Corps at Plattsburg. After five weeks he was recommended for appointment to the Small Arms Finishing School at Camp Perry, Ohio. He there earned the title of Sharp Shooter, and two medals from the National Rifle Association.

CITED FOR BRAVERY

Private Alexander Tedesco, who was recently cited for bravery in France, lived at 145 Pine street, Auburndale, and was a chauffeur for Mr. Brown of Aspen avenue before going into the service. He was one of the motorcycle couriers attached to Division Headquarters and mention is made of the excellence of their service, their absolute lack of any thought of personal safety or comfort. They were particularly commended for riding through hot shell fire beyond Trugny and Malson Blanche farm during the second battle of the Marne.

CHARLES WISWALL DEAD

The name of Private Charles H. Wiswall of Wiswall road, Newton Centre, appears on the official list of soldiers dead from disease. His family have some reason to feel that the report was a mistake. The War Department's notice states that he died of pneumonia October 12. But the family received a letter from him dated on the night of October 12, and a week ago had a postcard from him. Mr. Wiswall, who is a member of Battery A, 35th Field Artillery, was born in Newton Centre 28 years ago.

THE WINNER

By Winifred Virginia Jordan

The man who aims to win Success
In this stern world below,
Is often helped by using "Yes,"
But often by "No!"
Success puts forth her hardest task,
To test the soul of man,
And leaves for him, beneath life's mask,
To judge the worth of "Can!"

'Tis not the feeble man that wins;
He quits the first defeat;
'Tis one by one the great crowd thins
From out life's furnace heat,
Until there's left the man with grit,
And though he's harried sore,
He has the fortitude and wit
To fight on one day more!

He sings a cherry, simple song;
He sees the sun-blue sky;
He girds his heart with honor strong;
His clean life clears his eye;
He smiles when losing in the game
That he has set to play;
He greets Disaster just the same
As Gain at end of day!

And ever on he keeps the pace
Till he achieves Success;
And in her hand finds golden mace
Of Greed or Happiness!
And then he proves his soul's true worth
In search for gracious deed;
His greatest effort he puts forth
To help a world in need!

CHRISTMAS BOXES

Relatives who have not received Christmas labels from abroad by Thursday, November 21, may send a standard Christmas box by signing and delivering to the nearest Red Cross Christmas Station a statement which can be obtained there.

The War Department has authorized this to prevent disappointment to those who have not previously received labels, and they intend to assure that one parcel will be sent to each man.

November 30 is the last day boxes can be received and inspected by the Red Cross, but it earnestly advises each one to obtain box and mail it immediately, so as to insure delivery by Christmas day.

It is suggested that each one applying for a box bring their Christmas gifts with them and have them inspected and packed at once. The limit is three pounds; size of box 9"x3"x4", and the postage is 10 cents. The Red Cross will furnish wrapping paper and string.

BIBLE SCHOOL PLATTSBURG

The meetings of the Bible School Plattsburg at Newtonville November 4 to 9, were well attended in spite of the accumulation of meetings of all kinds due to numerous postponements.

About 250 different people were present, with an average attendance on the department conference nights of 150. In proportion to the size of the locality, the largest delegations were from Belmont coming each night in automobile loads. The idea that such a series of meetings calling for attendance on four or six consecutive nights would really be attended by many who had never had a chance to attend anything of the kind were fully found out by the results. The request for a repetition of the plan next year with a pledge almost unanimous to attend, shows that those who came felt very well repaid for their efforts to attend this unusual series of meetings.

TRENTON THEATRE.—The present theatrical season in Boston has been rich in the best of dramatic fare, but in all the list the play to take precedence in point of popularity is David Belasco's superlative production, "Tiger Rose." "Tiger Rose" is frankly a melodrama, but it is of a sublimated species of this most honorable and ever enjoyable brand of dramaturgy. It is a story of the great Canadian Northwest where the characters represented are shorn of that veneer with which social conditions of the more populated regions invest men and women. Vigorous as is the drama, the light and shade of feeling are there in sharp contrast, and humor has its place in bounteous measure. Above all stands the charm of the production with its realism accredited to Mr. Belasco, a realism that carries the auditor with sure leading and impressment of veracity.

THANKS

To the Editor of the Graphic:
May I, through your columns, thank all of the workers in the recent United War Work Campaign in West Newton. The captains of the various teams—both men and women—together with the solicitors themselves, lived up to the best traditions of our city in the results achieved—$62,000.
This is the largest sum ever collected in our village in any similar campaign.
The response from our citizens was most inspiring, and I shall be greatly interested, when the final figures are tabulated, to ascertain the number of subscriptions taken. This will measure the amount of work performed, as well as the scope of the giving.

When it is realized that the peace celebrations on Monday and Tuesday, November 11 and 12, gave us only six working days in which to raise our minimum quota of $40,000 and our maximum of $60,000—the results are all the more gratifying.

I wish to thank all who have contributed of their time and effort to make the campaign a success, as well as those who, by their generosity, put West Newton—as usual—well over the top.

H. M. Cole,
Chairman West Newton Committee.

MORE INFLUENZA

November 20, 1918

To the Editor:
The records of the Board of Health show that there is a slight recurrence of influenza in the City, and while it has not yet assumed alarming proportions, the Board considers it wise to urge the public not to relax its precautions against infection.

All persons with colds should consult a physician at once and be guided absolutely by his advice. They should also be very careful to cover the nose and mouth with a handkerchief when sneezing or coughing, as the spray caused by these acts transmits infection to others.

Well persons should be careful about coming in close contact with persons who have colds and in general avoid travelling in crowded vehicles and should consult a physician on the first signs of illness.

In conclusion, the Board would ask the cooperation of the public in reporting any cases which seem to need assistance.

AUBURNDALE BROTHERHOOD

The Auburndale Brotherhood held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening. Supper was served, and a large gathering was present, with many women friends. The speaker was Lieut. Vittorio Orlandini, of the Italian army, who is a brother-in-law of the late Geo. Curtis Guild. Lieut.
Orlandini gave a vivid picture of affairs in Italy before and during the war. He spoke of how Italy was compelled to be neutral for a time, and of the circumstances that drew her into the war. He told how the country was handicapped by lack of a fuel supply, and how this interfered with the work of operating the munition plants. The women of Italy had made wonderful sacrifices, as they not merely gave up their sons and husbands, but they gave themselves by going into the factories to do the work. Italy had suffered grievously from hunger and is still only scantily supplied. Shoes cost anywhere from $30 to $50 a pair, he said, and he gave other instances of hardships and high prices.

CONSTABULARY NIGHT

Monday night, December 2nd, is Constabulary night at Players Hall, West Newton. The Newtonville Women's Guild will give a clever threeact comedy entitled, "The Thirteenth Star."

All proceeds over and above extunity to see a good play and help the boys!

The Guild will have as guests, Monday night, sailors from Commonwealth Pier, and the officers and boys from the Technical High School. The play will be repeated Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Wakefield is coaching the play, and the cast well suited to their parts.

Help the boys! Carry on!!

DEATH OF SERGEANT PEABODY

Sergt. Ellery Peabody, Jr., of Battery A, 101st Field Artillery, died in France October 23 of wounds received in action. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Peabody of Temple street, West Newton, and attended the schools in this city. After being graduated from the high school, he attended the Haverford school in Haverford, Pa., and the Pratt Institute at Brooklyn, N. Y. He was employed by the American Hide and Leather Company when he enlisted as a private at the beginning of the war. He was 22 years old.

A few months ago he was awarded the distinguished service medal for unusual bravery under fire, while repairing broken telephone wires during a heavy bombardment by the enemy.

SADLER-PHELPS

Miss Agnes M. Phelps, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Arthur A. Phelps of New Bedford, and Roy A. Sadler, of the medical corps of the United States army, were married November 16 at noon at Trinity church, Newton Centre. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, the rector, performed the ceremony. Only immediate relatives were present. The wedding was hastened, Lieut. Sadler having been ordered to report immediately to the medical training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.
He is a native of Milford, and a graduate of Exeter, Harvard, and Harvard Medical school, class of 1907, and has since practiced in Boston. Mrs. Sadler was educated at the Arundel school, Annapolis, where her father was stationed, and later at Cambridge.

MAYOR'S ACTIVE SUNDAY

Mayor Childs took part in three meetings Sunday. He spoke at exercises held by the Jewish synagogue at Adams street, Nonantum, where a service flag with nine stars, the flag of Zion and an American flag were unfurled. Morris Fried had charge.
Other speakers included Alderman
Reuben Borkman, Wm. Murphy, and William J. Doherty. Next came a celebration by the Italians of Nonantum at Nonantum hall, of which William H. Thomas was toastmaster.
Later Mayor Childs spoke at the meeting at Central Congregational church, Newtonville, when medals were awarded the Boy Scouts for work on Liberty bonds and war stamps.

CHILDREN SET FIRES

The fire department was called to Boylston street, Newton Centre, Monday night for a fire in a hay barn owned by D. W. Eagles. He had about 10 tons of hay stored there, and his loss is called about $400. Mr.
Eagles has had hard luck, as he lost another hay barn Halloween night.
He had no insurance. Both fires are supposed to have been set by children.
The department was called to the Allen school Saturday for a blaze in a small outbuilding used as a storeroom and formerly a billiard room.
Damage was about $100.

WORKERS NEEDED NOW

The Sewing Workroom at the Congregational Church on Tuesday and Thursday, will devote itself for a week to making warm vests to be sent to Siberia, a very pressing emergency call; and the Surgical Dressings Workroom at the Methodist Parish House open Mondays, all day, and in the evening, will give the coming work day to the same need. There is still a very real necessity for Surgical Dressings in relief of our wounded soldiers, and the Red Cross, and for this work now is the only time.
As with the garments needed for the approaching winter, delay means that our help will come too late.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL

Although there will be no interscholastic league this year, Newton will have a hockey team, and it should be a good one. George Owen is captain. About 25 candidates have reported for practice, and are practicing in two squads in the gym. The players from last year are Owen, Holmes, Pinkham, and Crosby. Dr. Martin, who will coach the team, has been elected secretary of the Interscholastic Hockey League.

Ted Leonard has been elected manager of the 1919 baseball team. Now that the school is in the suburban league, Newton team will have a better chance to show what they can do.

The girls' hockey team is composed of the following: A. Bruner, w.g.; H.
Schultz, i.f.; L. Hughes, c.f.; E. Lyon, i.f.; K. Daniels, w.g.; D. Stebbins, c.b.f.; F. Owen, h.b.; E. Pedley, h.b.;
O. Elster, f.b.; M. Kellar, f.b.; E.
Stubbs, g. The substitutes are: E.
Harriman, H. Lawrence, M. Olmstead, and K. Carlson.

This afternoon the English club will be addressed by one of the Jewett Players.

The first meeting of the boys' debating club was held Monday. The largest number ever known to come to a meeting of the club was present.
Bene Lane was elected vice-president.

Coach Dickinson inaugurated the new plan this year of having those who expected to come out for the football team next year report to get a little light practice, learn the signals, and see the first team when it is fairly well developed. About 25 candidates reported.

Saturday the team received some unexpected opposition from Allen School, principally in the persons of Kenyon and Hickman. Kenyon especially played a good game, made most of the tackles and carried the ball a large part of the time. The Newton team was much slower than in its previous games. Captain Nutting, however, is beginning to show some real speed. Newton would have put the ball over for the third time, but for a fumble on Allen's three yard line.

Wednesday morning the school was addressed by the Rev. T. S. Roy of West Newton, who spoke about some of the problems of reconstruction. He said that the Germans must be fed, but care should be taken that we let our sympathy for "poor Germany" be governed by our common sense. The Allies have no desire for mere revenge, but plain justice should be done to the people who sunk the Lusitania and committed other unthinkable crimes and who at this very moment might have been following the char-lot of their victorious war lord.

JUNIOR LEAGUE MEETING

On Tuesday evening, November 12, a splendid meeting was held in the auditorium of the New Church on High-land avenue, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Junior League for the Newton Hospital Social Service. An organ recital, consisting of patriotic airs, was given before the opening of the meeting by Mr. Albert T. Walker, and after a word of greeting by the president of the League, Miss Dorothy Taylor, and the singing of "America," Miss Marion Miller, the Newton Hospi-tal Social Service worker, gave a little talk about her work and the opportunities it afforded to improve the social conditions in Newton.

After a beautiful organ and 'cello selection by Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Marjorie Crocker of Boston, who was in France for a year and a half doing refugee work in Paris under the Red Cross, gave a most interesting talk about her work, and told of the great problem that confronted France during the days of the German drives, and what it meant to look after the thousands of refugees that came pouring into Paris every week; and now what it is going to mean to send these French peasants, who have suffered such hardships, back to their villages, and give them the encouragement they will need to rebuild their homes and villages.

The Junior League was most fortunate to be able to have Miss Crocker speak to them.

PROBATE COURT

To the devisees under the Will, and all other persons interested in the estate of Harriet B. Keith, late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS Joseph E. Burke, executor of the will of said deceased, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the order named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the twenty-fifth day of November A.D. 1918, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days, at least, before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this sixth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and eighteen.

MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Club of the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, held an interesting meeting last night, the report of which is crowded out of this issue, but will be printed next week.

WOMAN'S CLUBS

The all-day service meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, held on Monday last, was largely attended, and many sets of pajamas were made. An attractive luncheon was served, after which there was a short business meeting.

Mrs. George M. Angier made a plea for more Red Cross workers and emphasized the necessity for keeping on with war relief work.

The chief message brought to the club by the delegate to the recent State Federation meeting is the need of helping to get legislation through on two important bills—one for the licensing of day nurseries and the other for a psychopathic hospital at Sherborn.

Following the business meeting Mr. Hector M. Holmes of Waban gave a very interesting talk on "European Impressions during the Summer of 1918." Mr. Holmes went to France in May when the French were passing through their greatest period of anxiety due to the big guns and the air raids. These two things had a bad effect on the morale of the French people. Probably people in this country did not realize that hundreds of thousands were leaving Paris at that time, and that even the embassy was making preparations to leave the city. The danger of civil trouble, due to the socialistic tendencies of the working man in Paris, passed when the Germans were stopped at Chateau Thierry. The danger from the German shells was tremendous, but the air raids were a little less troublesome.

The chief objection to the latter being continued loss of sleep. Though the life of Paris seemed to go on about as usual and there was the customary smile in greetings, underneath it all the French people were very sad not only for their sorrow for the past, but anxiety for the future, for to keep on was a horror, but to stop was also a horror, as they knew not what peace would bring to them.

In June Mr. Holmes went to Italy, where he found the situation no more encouraging than in France, as the Austrians were then driving down upon Venice. The government was having a hard time to keep up the morale because the feelings of the Italians, even though anti-Austrian, were not so strongly anti-German, and the working class was a great concern. The speaker touched upon the favorable impression made by the American army in Europe; the fine work of the various units, hospitals and organizations; and also of the great men who are held in such high esteem—General Foch, General Pershing and President Wilson. He wished that every American could have been in Europe this past summer to have seen the spirit "over there" and to realize how much our help is appreciated.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Monday, December 2, when Mrs. Mabel A. Crawford will give current events.

WEST NEWTON MEN'S CLUB

Village's Part in War Drives—Reconstruction Problems

The Men's Club of West Newton held its annual meeting and dinner Tuesday evening in the Parish House of the Congregational Church.

Henry Whitmore, president of the Club, presided. About 100 were present. Mr. Whitmore presented the following figures of sums raised in West Newton for the various War funds: Women's War Work, $20,000; the quota expected being only $14,400; third Liberty Loan, $975,000; Red Cross, $52,000; Fourth Liberty Loan, $1,750,000; War Work Drive, over $61,000.

Mr. Whitmore expressed appreciation of the work of the women in these campaigns.

He then asked all present to stand while he read the names of the soldiers from West Newton who had died in the service during the year. These were Richard Blodgett, Philip W. Davis, John Reilly, Robert Downing, Ellery Peabody, Jr.

The president read a selection from Lowell's "Commemoration Ode."

The secretary-treasurer's report showed a membership of 184, and $250 in the treasury. These officers were chosen: James A. Hutchinson, president; Leon B. Rogers, vice president; Edward G. Perry, secretary-treasurer.

An address was then given by Henry I. Harriman, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce on Reconstruction problems. He expected that the restrictions on trade in this country would soon be removed. He thought if there was no control of export trade, the demands for foods and certain materials might create a runaway market, so that the export business would have to be controlled to keep prices reasonable. He spoke of the pros and cons of government ownership, the necessity of education to promote efficiency. He took up foreign trade problems, and felt our manufacturers must learn to please the people of foreign lands and suit them in styles and packing.

Ex-Mayor George Hutchinson of the McElwain Co., spoke as a shoe manufacturer regarding future conditions. Herbert Fales of the Hollinsworth-Whitney Co. spoke of conditions in the paper trade, and A. Stuart Pratt of Stone and Webster, dealt with the outline for construction work.

WOODLAND GOLF CLUB

The Woodland Golf Club held its annual meeting at the Club House last week and elected these officers: Robert S. Wasson, president; D. L. Whitmore, vice president; N. W. Emerson, secretary; W. E. Haseltine, treasurer; I. E. Moulthrop, and E. T. Forte, members of board of directors. Owing to the government order the annual dinner was omitted.

PROBLEMS OF PEACE

Congressman-Elect Luce Makes Interesting Address Before Newton Board of Trade

The Newton Board of Trade resumed its activities for the season with a banquet and meeting on Tuesday evening at its rooms in Clafin Block, Newtonville. The chief feature of the evening was the splendid address on the Problems of Peace by Congressman-elect Robert Luce of this district. Senator-elect Thomas Weston, Jr., of this city was also a guest and speaker.

About fifty members sat down to the banquet at seven o'clock and enjoyed a social meeting for about an hour.

At the business meeting at which President Sidney R. Porter was in the chair the resignation of Secretary Harold Moore as a delegate to the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce was accepted and Mr. J. Weston Allen elected in his stead. The following nominating committee was appointed: F. H. Franklin, H. W. Orr, T. W. Travis, W. O. Harris, W. B. McMullin, Walter Winn, and F. L. Crawford.

Senator-elect Thomas Weston, Jr., was the first speaker and spoke briefly of the work of the Legislature with special reference to two measures of last year. The Boston Elevated situation he said, had occupied the time of two important committees for several weeks.

The 8-cent fare to be paid beginning next Monday was due he believed to the greatly increased cost of men and materials. Cars bought 5 years ago for $10,500 now cost $27,000. The company pays subway rentals of $1,400,000. He believed that the car rider ought not to pay the full amount but that the public and the city ought to contribute.

The second matter related to the payment of $10 bounty to Massachusetts men in the service. When the United States entered the war it paid its men $15 a month. Massachusetts was then paying its state militia $25 per month when on active duty and the $10 payment was designed to make up this difference.

Now the Federal government pays its men $30 a month and the need for this $10 payment had entirely ceased. We have about 100,000 men in the service and $10 each would mean $1,000,000 a month or $12,000,000 a year and would increase the property tax in Newton about $6.75 per $1000. In addition the War Department urged the Legislature not to pass the bill because it would give Massachusetts men working right alongside men from other states larger pay and disturb the morale of the army. The bill was defeated by Republican votes but will surely come up again at the coming session.

It is difficult to give a resume of Mr. Luce's remarks. He discussed with sound logic the reasons for the present high prices and discontent, and presented the problems, as he said, with the hope that he could receive some assistance in their solution, for he was still groping for an answer. He said that the present high prices were predicted in the report of the Commission of the Cost of Living in 1910. He believed that there would be a sharp drop in the near future in such articles as cotton, wool, and other materials used in war goods, but by and large there would not be any material drop in present prices on other things. Conditions are worse in Russia than here.

A pound of bread, which formerly cost a cent now costs $1.23, due to the frequent use of the printing press in inflating the currency of the country. In this country the billions have been bonded by inflating the credit, have to that extent inflated the volume of money, and it would be years before the world could catch up with the inflation. Incomes have not kept pace with prices and the salaries of clergymen, teachers and professional men have been virtually cut in half. These educated persons believe that something is wrong. The lower classes also think something is wrong, and Bolshevism in Russia is no accident. Human nature is the same. The Germans have started a revolution and here in this country we have the I. W. W. and the Non-Partisan Farmers' League.

We shall soon have 2,000,000 soldiers returning to this country, 18,000,000 others released from war work, all of whom must seek new occupations. What shall we do with them?

The Pilgrims, he said, looked on human suffering with indifference, but the wonderful work of the Red Cross indicated the great growth of mercy and pity in the world in the last two generations. He told of the treatment of the poor and insane a century ago, and contrasted it with the present unprecedented sympathy with those who cannot make or save money. It was hard for us to understand the real facts. Statistics show that 7 out of 10 do not leave at death sufficient estate to warrant probate proceedings.

About one in four leaves more than $1000 at death, and 1 in 10 dies a pauper. The average wage just prior to the war was $523 a year, and probably is not more than $700 at the present time. He called attention to the various servile revolutions in the past, growing more frequent in recent years and recalled Macaulay's prediction for this country. All our large cities have the elements of Bolshevism and the French Commune, and he thought it probable that these people would sometime listen to the demagogue, and that we should see the red flag on this side of the Atlantic. The British Labor party which he believed would soon control Parliament, has already stated its attitude, which embraces abolition of the taxation on consumption, and of which the income tax was a step.

Mr. Luce declared that socialism was already here, that we were 10 per cent. socialist through our public schools, our public streets, sewers and water systems. Socialism was only a matter of degree, and it was for us to say how far it should go. He predicted that the country would never return to the old competitive system of railroading, and we should find something between that and complete government control. Taxation should be based on the ability to pay. A 10 per cent. tax on an income of $100,000 left the owner $90,000 for himself, while a 10 per cent. tax on $500 was a serious matter to the poor man.

British Labor also demanded that the war debt be paid at once, and not left to future generations. In this country it would amount to 8 per cent. on the property of the nation. This was one of the important questions to be solved by Congress.

In conclusion, Mr. Luce pointed out some of the compensations for the war. The inventions in wireless telegraphy, in the application of gasoline, the conquering of the air, the passage under the seas, the better training of millions of men, will all lead to a better and a higher civilization. And while we have great problems to solve, there is already a broader fraternity and a greater recognition of the brotherhood of man.

PROTEST CONSOLIDATION
Waban People Object to Loss of Post Office

Residents of Waban are protesting vigorously against the proposition to consolidate the Waban post office with the office at Newton Highlands, leaving only a contract station to supply stamps, money orders, registered letters, etc. Several meetings have been held and a delegation of 25 citizens of the village went into Boston to protest to Acting Postmaster Hurley against the change.

The case against the proposal was presented by Alderman Angier, Lawrence Allen, and George Reinhardt, president of the Improvement Society. The sentiment of the village seems to be unanimous against the idea. While most of the actual needs of the village might be supplied by a station located as proposed at Rhodes drug store, yet it is felt that it detracts from the importance of the village to have its post office removed. Waban is a very vigorous and rapidly growing community and it resents anything that seems like a step backward.

This is the fourth time this proposal has been made. Acting Postmaster Hurley was the inspector who recommended the change some time ago, so he is said to be much in favor of the consolidation. But he has promised to come out and see the situation for himself.

the ability to pay. A 10 per cent. tax on an income of $100,000 left the owner $90,000 for himself, while a 10 per cent. tax on $500 was a serious matter to the poor man.

British Labor also demanded that the war debt be paid at once, and not left to future generations. In this country it would amount to 8 per cent. on the property of the nation. This was one of the important questions to be solved by Congress.

In conclusion, Mr. Luce pointed out some of the compensations for the war. The inventions in wireless telegraphy, in the application of gasoline, the conquering of the air, the passage under the seas, the better training of millions of men, will all lead to a better and a higher civilization. And while we have great problems to solve, there is already a broader fraternity and a greater recognition of the brotherhood of man.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
On Thursday, November 21, the Newton Woman's Club held a "birthday party" at the home of the president, Mrs. Alvin Henry Clifford, on Centro street.

A guest celebrated her own birthday and, incidentally, the birthday of peace and world liberty, by bringing in a little bag provided for the purpose, as many pennies as she was years old, and as many more as she chose, the money to be given to the Red Cross society. A goodly sum for this great cause was thus realized.

The president made an address of welcome and introduced Rev. Grant Person, who was in his soldier's uniform, and offered a beautiful prayer.

A fine musical program was rendered by the following artists: Mr. Bertram Currier, cellist, Mr. Henry Levine, pianist, Mrs. Bertram Currier, soprano, Mrs. Isaac B. Mills, soprano.

One of the most enjoyable instrumental numbers on the program was a "Romance," composed by Mrs. Edward Wheeler, a member of the Club.

ANNUAL MEETING
The Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at headquarters, Talbot House, 306 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Monday evening, December 2nd, at 7:45 o'clock, for the purpose of hearing reports, electing Directors, and transacting such other business as may lawfully come before the meeting.

(Signed) Maria E. Morton, Secretary.

OVER $321,000 TO DATE

Only Partial Figures Available in United War Work Drive

Final figures as to the result of the late Campaign in this city are not yet available the chief difficulty coming over the credits to which this city is entitled. Up to date Comptroller William H. Zoller is sure of about $321,058.84, but unofficial figures give the total at over $325,000.

The Victory Boys' and Girls' movement under the energetic leadership of Mrs. Frank H. Stewart and Mayor Edwin O. Childs was a great success. There were 1638 girls pledged with a total of $7636 and 1018 boys with a total of $4731. In addition Mr. Zoller reports individual subscriptions of 9218 making a grand total of subscribers of 11,874, a truly remarkable showing.

Although the returns from the United War Work Campaign in the City of Newton have not yet been fully completed, it is now known that people of Newton have subscribed $330,000, or 165 per cent. of the minimum quota to this fund.

Great credit is due the women for their hearty cooperation with the workers to make this result possible. Especially is great credit due the women of Grace Church who raised over $1600 among themselves as the contribution of the women of Grace Church, setting a pace for other groups to follow.

Such team work at home like the team work of our boys over there makes success assured, and we extend hearty thanks to all who have thus cooperated to achieve this wonderful result.

Yours very truly,
O. M. Fisher,
Vice Chairman.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NEWTON SOUTH ALLIES' RELIEF ASSOCIATION
Friday, December 6, in Trinity Church Parish House, Newton Centre, the Newton South Allies' Relief Association will celebrate its third birthday.

The regular work of the morning will continue till 12 o'clock and at 12:30 a Victory Luncheon will be served by the very efficient committee who served the delicious luncheons during the week of the rummage sale, at 50 cents a plate.

At 2 P. M. the annual reports will be read, following which the Rev. E. T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church, has very kindly consented to address the members and friends of the Association.

FOOD CONSERVATION WEEK
The first week in December has been appointed by the United States Food Administration as Food Conservation Week—Sunday, December 1, to be "Conservation Sunday"; Wednesday, December 4, "Woman's Day"; and Friday, December 6, "School Day."

Not merely nation wide but world wide is the call for food. "The food supplies of the world have been steadily lessening," says Mr. Hoover, "we of the United States hold it in our power and ours alone, to keep the wolf from the door. This duty is wider than war—it is as wide as humanity."

The challenge at this time is to save, save, save, not in any brief, spectacular way, but a steady, unvarying saving of all foods and the giving up of everything beyond our definite needs. Noble work has been done by the women during the past year, and it must not be relaxed in the least if order is to be brought out of chaos and the world become a fit place in which to live.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Annual Appeal for Funds to Support this Most Worthy Institution

The following record of the work of the Newton Hospital should cause a strenuous effort to exceed the record made last year on Hospital Sunday when over $40,000 was contributed for its support. Now that our thoughts are not so burdened with apprehension for "over there" we can better appreciate what is being done for our home folks "over here."

When Hospital Sunday was inaugurated in 1885 there was no thought of service outside the boundary lines of our own city. It was a local call for a local charity, the Newton Hospital was an untried experiment.

Years passed; the "experiment" became one of Newton's institutions; the "charity" one of its protectors. The value of trained service was recognized and the Training School for Nurses was added—a wider service was made possible and boundary lines began to fade.

And then came the shadow of a great war. The Nation called; preparations for a wider service had not been in vain; all boundary lines were swept away and Hospital Sunday will have a new significance. Even in this "year of appeals" let us not forget what we owe to the Newton Hospital.

The superintendent of the Hospital, Miss Mary M. Riddle, was called to Camp Devens by the Surgeon General to establish one of the first Army Training School units.

Twelve members of the Hospital Staff have received commissions in the Army and Navy and three have been members of the Exemption or Medical Advisory Board.

Seventy-five graduate nurses are in active service; forty-one "overseas," thirty-three in army or navy hospitals, and one at the head of the Red Cross Nursing Service in Massachusetts.

One hundred and five pupil nurses are now in training—about thirty more than the usual number. Extra classes were admitted in answer to the Country's call for a larger nursing force, twelve from the Vassar College Camp chose Newton for their hospital training.

Three portable buildings have been erected and equipped during the year with special reference to war work. The first—54 ft. by 22 ft.—was completed in February and immediately occupied by twenty patients from the U. S. Navy. One hundred and eleven sailors from thirty-five different states have been admitted. The second—84 ft. by 22 ft.—was completed in May and was first used as a dormitory for pupil nurses and then at a most critical time was transformed into a ward for nurses, forty of whom were stricken with influenza while in the performance of duty. The third—114 ft. by 22 ft.—was completed in September and is used as a dormitory.

On the first steamer which sailed for Halifax after the terrible catastrophe in December, the Hospital sent twenty mattresses with a full equipment of pillows, linen and blankets. A member of the Staff was one of the first doctors, from a distance, to reach the stricken city.

When the Newton Branch of the American Red Cross did such splendid work in establishing an emergency hospital for influenza it was the Newton Hospital Staff which was requested to take charge of the medical service. Of the sixteen graduate nurses in attendance, thirteen, including the superintendent and assistant superintendent, were Newton graduates.

Much has been said in praise of the work—far too little in recognition of the heroic service of the trained workers in both Hospitals, who at the risk of their lives toiled on day after day in the shadows which were never reached by the light of public approval—

A Personal Experience!

"I once lived wholly on milk for fifteen months. During that time my chest measurement actually increased three inches. My teeth became whiter; I gained over 20 pounds in weight. When I began the experiment I weighed only eight pounds."

THE STRUGGLES OF LIFE

By Winifred Virginia Jordan

When this world seems full of trouble,
And your hopes turn sober gray;
When the dreams that claimed your longings
Turn up sudden toes of clay;
When your struggles all turn hardships,
And the sobs your body rack;
Then 'tis time to stop, for mongrels Must have sneaked in life's glad pack!

Take the potent whip of Reason,
Ply it with a vigorous end;
Never mind the bitter stinging—
It will prove a wholesome friend!
Drive out Trouble, never caring
How it snarls of heat or frost;
Nor its tales of bitter hunger;
Nor the swale that must be crossed!

Love, a-wing, will bear assistance
From the shining, sunny skies;
Freedom, too, with bold heart singing,
Leaves no space for mocking sighs!
Soon you'll find your Hopes still golden;

That your Dreams have wings of blue;
And, though life may have its struggles,
They will hold much joy for you!

TREMONT THEATRE—Coming with the united acclaim of New York theatregoers who, during a long engagement, delighted in its charms and humors, John Cort's musical comedy success, "Fiddlers Three," will begin a limited engagement at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, next Monday, December 2. In fact, so general was the pleasure afforded and so keen was it that it became quite the custom for a majority of the lovers of good music and comedy to pay more than one visit. So there is to be the pleasantest of anticipations for its visit to New England. "Fiddlers Three," the book and lyrics of which were written by William Cary Duncan and the score by Alexander Johnstone, is splendidly staged and cast. Mr. Cort has made a "find" in Tavia Belge, the Belgian prima donna, who is making her debut in America in this play. Mlle. Belge is the possessor of a voice that has brought her to the notice of all musical America and her native Belgian charm adds to her attractions on the stage.

HELPFUL HINTS.

Make the housework as light as possible, getting every member of the family to do his share. Thus all may enjoy the lovely summer and have recreation and pleasure instead of burdening the house-mother with tasks others should do. Mothers often remark: "It is easier to do a thing myself than to see that others do it," but it is not right to herself nor good training for others to be allowed to shirk.

Iron only the hems of the sheets when they are to be placed on the beds. No one will know that a half hour has been saved from such ironing, a half hour for rest, reading or a walk—how much more important than a perfectly ironed sheet. Gloves which need cleaning may be quickly cleaned by moistening flour with gasoline and washing the gloves on the hands until clean.

Stains on linen should be moistened with peroxide then placed in the sun. If the stain is obstinate a second application may be necessary with the addition of a little soap.

Scald a dish or utensil in which fish has been cooked with vinegar and water.

Wood skewers with a bit of cloth wrapped around them make fine cleaners. They will remove dust from corners in windowpanes as well as in dishes.

If windows stick, grease the rope with a little fat and put a little around the casing. This is good treatment for a stubborn drawer.

Fresh blood stains will be quickly removed by rubbing well with dry starch which absorbs it, and then when brushed no stain will be left.

Pour a glass of warmed jelly over the mutton roast or chops just before serving.

Glossy clothing may be rubbed with a piece of emery paper, using a light touch.

Scorched places on linen will be taken out if moistened and put into strong sunshine. On woolen cloth rub with a piece of bread.

Hot milk with a teaspoonful of sulphur used as a gargle will relieve a sore throat.

Nellie Maxwell

With permission of the board of health the Newton Chapter will hold its drive for Belgian garments during the week commencing December 2. Clothing should be brought to Red Cross headquarters in each village, where it will be weighed, packed and taken to Boston by the motor corps.

MUST WILLING TO GIVE UP

Mr. Gap Johnson is Beginning to Fear
He Never Will Really Understand Women.

"Women is funny folks, 'most any way you take 'em," philosophically admitted Mr. Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "The oldest man in America can't tell what a lady will do next, and if he could, she wouldn't do it. Day before yesterday while we was setting around the dinner table wife slapped a few of the children into shape and then sorter casually asked me if I knew what day it was."

"Why, Wednesday or Thursday, I reckon," says I. "I hadn't paid much attention lately, but it's some's along there."

"It is Tuesday, the 10th," says she, kind o' sternly. "Do you know what happened 15 years ago today?"

"Hun, now! Laz see," says I. Oh, yes—that was the day a tree fell on me and busted me up considerable. I forgot—

"No, it wasn't!" she snapped. "We were married 15 years ago today."

"Is that so?" says I. "Well, I knowed something happened to me, but I sorter disremembered that. Aw-hum!"

"And then I'll be switched if wife didn't rise up like a queen and sling mighty high every dish on the place at my head—dishes that cost me good money, too! The longer I live with women, the less I know about 'em!" Judge.

ICELAND PROUD OF CULTURE

Little Nation, Long Isolated From the Rest of the World, Has Maintained Its Spiritual Life.

There are few nations that can point to a brighter record of culture than this little nation of one hundred thousand people (Iceland), practically isolated on their arctic island for nearly one thousand years. Why did they not revert to barbarism, as has been the fate of many white groups out of touch with outside civilization? There is but one answer: The Promethean flame which kindled the genius of the old, now nameless, monks—the saga authors—has never died in Iceland. It could not die so long as the sagas lived, firing the spiritual life of the nation.

Each period of national prosperity since the saga age has seen a revival of literary activity. Now Iceland is more prosperous in a material way than ever in its history, and behold there is a pen scratching in every cottage; there is a poet apostrophizing every waterfall, dedicating the summer crop of poppies and daffodils, and charming, or at least trying to charm, the innumerable host of fays and light elves, trolls and water sprites and "landvaettir" which have endowed the bleak hills and mountains of Iceland with an immortal soul.—From the Dial.

Fewer Works of Art Imported.

According to a compilation by the National City bank, the value of art works imported in 1918 is about $11,000,000, as against $23,000,000 in 1917 and $35,000,000 in 1914.

In automobiles the value in 1918 was about $50,000, against nearly $2,000,000 in 1913 and more than $2,000,000 in 1912, while the average value per machine imported in 1918 was less than one-half that before the war. Decorated chinaware imported in 1918 was about $3,500,000 in value, against $8,000,000 in 1914. Almost the same ratio was shown in decreases of precious stones and jewel importations.

Americans Should Eat Fish.

Americans are deficient as fish eaters, compared with inhabitants of foreign countries. Less than two pounds per head is the yearly consumption of salt and smoked fish in this country. For the winter's supply, salt fish can be laid in and, pound for pound, furnish much more nutriment than fresh fish. This is because curing extracts a large part of the water, and what is left is nearly all solid food.—People's Home Journal.

Had No Occasion to Say It.

A little girl was invited to a friend's house for dinner and before leaving her mother warned her to say "please," "thank you," and "no, thank you." When the little girl returned she was asked if she said please and thank you and she said yes. Then her mother asked: "Did you say no, thank you, when they passed something you didn't want?"

Avenues of Honor.

The city of Cleveland has adopted a novel plan for honoring its soldier dead. For each Cleveland soldier that loses his life in this war a victory oak will be planted along one of the boulevards, and each of the oaks will be named for a soldier. This will constitute a beautiful and enduring memorial, with a practical as well as a sentimental value. Other cities may find it desirable to follow Cleveland's example.—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

The Attraction.

Slacker—What is there about a uniform that attracts a girl?
Girl—Nothing. It's what the uniform is about that attracts her. A real man, you know.

Loose Soil Dries Rapidly.

Soil heaped up around plants has a higher average temperature than the level ground, but it becomes colder in the night, as it dries more rapidly.

TRUTH STRANGE AS FICTION

Novel by William De Morgan Has Counterpart in Real Life-Story of Englishman.

A little more than ten years ago an Englishman, deep in the sixties, won great renown by going to a hospital. His illness, though severe, was ordinary enough. The use he made of his convalescence distinguished him. Propped up in bed, William De Morgan wrote his first novel. When he was entirely recovered, he wrote another, which was destined to carry on his fame around the reading world.

The book told the story of an engineer returned to London after many adventures. There a mishap in the tube caused him to lose his memory. In the dazed state he lived a new life. By chance he met his former wife, fell in love with her and married her again.

Strange as was De Morgan's tale—critics said only he could make it convincing—London itself has duplicated it from life.

John Arthur Lewis, a returned soldier, was lately hailed into court for absconding with money he had collected for his employers.

His innocence was easily proved. On the collecting trip he had been struck by a van and injured. Bereft of his memory he wandered over England, arrived at his old home, and was introduced by his mother to a young woman, said to be his wife.

He refused to accept his past until one night the German airman dropped bombs, and the shock of the explosion restored his memory. Then all came back, even the uncompleted day's work of last August.

History here modifies the ancient observation as to truth and fiction. Truth is not stranger than good writing. Rather the artist senses probably ahead of the facts and later reality corroborates him. Who knows not at least one Enoch Arden? Tennyson guessed them all.

EASY MONEY FOR YOUNGSTER

And Incidentally Druggist Knows More About United States Currency, So It's Even Break.

The druggist at the corner was passing some copper money in change for a broken dime, the big part of which had been spent in chocolate candy, to an eleven-year-old lad.

"There's your three pennies change," said the druggist.

"Wotcher givin' us?" said the small boy.

"Your change, three pennies."

"No, y'r not. Them's not pennies. You ain't got no pennies in the house."

"I've more than a hundred of 'em in the cash register."

"I'll bet you ain't got one, let alone a hundred," said the boy. "I'll bet you five soda waters."

"I'll take you," said the druggist. "I'll prove it right now. Read what it says on that money. Don't it say 'One Cent'? You don't find any pennies in our coins. Our teacher told us."

The druggist acknowledged his error.

"Now," said the boy, "come on with your soda water. Glimme two glasses chocolate to begin with."

Just What to Do.

Commander Capsicum, who looked after the submarine defenses at Little Winkleville, had spent the morning instructing the mine-sweeper's crew in their duties.

"Now, you see," he said, fingering his models, "you ram a sub like this. Do you want to ask me any questions?"

"Please, sir," piped some son of a sea cook, "what shall I do if I see a submarine?"

The instructor gazed at the man with sparks coming out of his eyes, and the rest of the class thought out all the horrible stories of the punishments Nero inflicted on those who crossed him.

"Do!" roared Capsicum, when he found his voice, "do, man, do! Why follow the — thing home and take its name and address!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Efficiency Can Be Overdone.

It may be that the new and much-vaunted religion of efficiency can be carried too far. A little less of it, at times, might work no great harm. Not that we would deery efficiency, mind you. Doubtless it is a fine thing. But look what it has done to the Germans.

The idea we are trying to get at is that if a man follow always and eternally the cast iron rules of efficiency, it is apt to make him stale as any other steady diet would do, or to weary him as it would weary him to be always prim and sedate and always to wear stiff collars and tight shoes.—Los Angeles Times.

Use Wireless Lamp.

A wireless signal lamp has been devised for various kinds of war work which enables the users to keep up communication under conditions where it would be difficult or impossible to stretch telephone or telegraph wires. A barrage fire, for example, would be no hindrance to signaling by this new apparatus. It can be used between a ground station at the battle front and an airplane a considerable distance away, flying over enemy territory.

Independent.

"Suppose all the doctors have to go to war?"

"I don't care. Mr. Hoover doesn't let me eat anything that disagrees with me."

Griffin's Holiday Sale

Of Furs and Fur Coats for Men and Women

Never before have we sold as many furs, and particularly fur coats, at this season of the year as we have this year. People are anticipating the severity of New England winters and the coming high prices on all furs. We cannot too strongly urge our customers and the general public who are interested in furs and fur coats to purchase NOW, before the advance in price, which is sure to come.

The time is getting shorter to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. At this season of the year our stock is the largest that it ever is throughout the year. We have now on display several hundred Fur Coats, all new styles. Griffin Furs are as reliable in quality and workmanship and as reasonable in price as any that are offered in Boston.

The fact that fares on the Boston Elevated system will increase to eight cents next Monday will undoubtedly be received with hostility by many people who do not or who cannot understand the facts. Street car service is a commodity—the same as sugar or meat, iron or steel. It costs something to produce, and if capital is to stay in the business the return must be large enough to pay the cost and interest on the money invested. The present conditions which result in higher fares cannot wholly be solved by legislation and are largely due to economic conditions, which in other directions has, by this time, been generally accepted by the community. If motormen and conductors are paid a vastly higher wage than before, if coal and equipment jump 100 per cent, in price, it is inevitable that the charge for the service rendered must also increase.

In one direction, however, we believe it is possible for the legislature to relieve some of the financial burdens now pressing on the Elevated. The company is paying about $1,400,000 in subway rentals. A sum which now comes wholly from the pockets of the car rider. As the building of those subways relieved intolerable congestion on the public streets, gave the distant suburbs quicker and better transportation, it would seem to be only fair that some if not all of the subway rentals should be placed on the public in general—for the public as well as the car rider has been greatly benefited by the subway. The relief thus granted the Elevated Company would go far towards putting it upon its financial feet, so to speak, and, distributed throughout the Metropolitan district and on the city of Boston, would not be a serious burden for the taxpayers.

The declination of Chairman Albert M. Lyon of the School committee to serve another term is a matter of deep regret to every one interested in the Newton schools. In the long list of able men who have filled that responsible position, Mr. Lyon has been equal to the best, and has set a standard for the future which will be hard to maintain. The city is indeed honored by the service of such men as Mr. Lyon.

It was a great pity that the splendid address given Tuesday night before the Newton Board of Trade could not have been heard by 500 men instead of but 50. Whether or not we agreed with Mr. Luce as to the proper remedy for the great problems of the day, it must be conceded that our next Congressman has given them careful study, and his conclusions are well worth our utmost consideration.

Newton has gone "over the top" on every drive which has been made during the war, and we should not allow our own local institution, the Newton Hospital, to be the only philanthropy to spoil that splendid record. Let us not forget the far-reaching work it has always done under peace conditions, and make our Thanksgiving offering accordingly.

Are Your Children Bored?
The children of the house should not be allowed to monopolize a guest's attention. Mothers are usually blind to their children's faults, as less loving eyes see them, and they fail to understand that a guest's apparent delight in playing with the youngsters is often no more than politeness, and in reality he is bored and very tired of "playing bear," telling fairy stories and examining favorite toys and books.

Don't Live Up to Appellation.
"The trouble with lots of 'regular fellows,'" observed the almost philosopher, "is that they are oftentimes irregular in their habits."

THANKSGIVING REJOICINGS

Spirit of Gratitude at Church Services—The Home Holiday

Unusual interest was taken in the church services this year for Thanksgiving. The spirit of rejoicing and gratitude for the great victory were still in the air. The preachers dealt largely with suggestions which the triumph gave, and emphasized the religious aspects of the war as a vindication of God's justice.

The pleasant weather facilitated visiting, and there were a great many home comings, and many visited elsewhere. Many students came home from school. The football at Clavin Field had a large attendance.

Turkey roasted very high at the markets this year, good birds bringing anywhere from 55 cents a pound up. Many families feasted happily on less costly substitutes for the traditional bird.

The Congregational, Unitarian, Methodist, and Baptist churches of Newton united in a service at the Baptist church Thanksgiving morning at 10.30. The church was well filled. Rev. Henry H. Crane of the Methodist church preached. He enlarged upon the result of the war as a vindication of truth and righteousness, and dwelt upon the significance of being alive today at this crucial hour, when we have the chance to put the imprint of our personality upon the world in its many changes. Rev. Harry Lutz of Channing church, Rev. Mr. Merritt of the Methodist church, and Rev. Robert L. Rae of the North Congregational church, assisted in the service.

Grace Episcopal church held communion at 8.30, and service at 10. Dr. Laurens MacLure preached, and the regular choir furnished music. The congregation was the largest seen at a Thanksgiving service for many years.

There was a largely attended union service at the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, Wednesday evening. Rev. Dr. Weeden had charge, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Charles R. Ross of the Methodist church. He dwelt upon some of the common and ordinary reasons for thankfulness which we neglect. We do not always stop to think what food, clothing and shelter mean, but the people of Belgium and France know what it is to be deprived of them, and they understand how grateful people should be that have them. The preacher then went on to discuss national blessings, and the aid given us by God in bringing the war to a conclusion based on truth and justice. He felt that serious problems lie ahead, that great social unrest exists, and must be dealt with, and can only be dealt with in accordance with Christian principles and the church arouses itself to the faithful performance of its mission.

Newton Centre held its union Thanksgiving service Thursday morning at the Congregational church, according to the usual rotation, and Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity church delivered the sermon. The church was filled. The other ministers of the village took part, including Rev. Edward B. Noyes, Rev. E. W. Hunt of the Baptist church, Rev. J. E. Wagner of the Methodist church, and Rev. Oscar B. Hawes of the Unitarian church, who has recently returned from France.

The churches of Newton Highlands united in a service at the Methodist church, at which Rev. Louis N. Parsons of St. Paul's church was the preacher. He spoke of the gratitude due for the blessings of the year, principally for the manifestation of God's eternal justice and righteousness as seen in the result of the war, giving assurance of God's faithfulness in the fulfillment of his promises. Rev. George T. Smart offered prayer, and Rev. G. W. Jones had charge of the service.

The West Newton churches celebrated the occasion in their own services. The Auburndale churches had a union service Thanksgiving morning with Rev. Dr. George S. Butters as the preacher.

At Waban the Union church held a victory sing Thanksgiving morning.

FOOTBALL

The Wanderers of Auburndale went down to defeat for the first time in three seasons through the hands of Imperials of Waltham at Forest Park, Auburndale.

In the line-up of Auburndale Wanderers were some of the following men, Garvey, Riggs, Nagle, Sullivan, and Ryan, the latter formerly a Wellesley and Newton High athlete.

The spectators were brought to their feet many times through spectacular plays by Sullivan, Goldrick and Ryan. Ryan has not lost any of his speed as this was shown when he went into the air and intercepted a forward pass and ran forty yards through a broken field before being tackled.

Riggs, Sullivan, Goldrick, Garvey and Cunningham excelled for the losers, while Gibson, Lally and Bjorkman excelled for the winners.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service in honor of Corporal Wesley Everett Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thayer Rich, of Newton, and Private Norman W. Hyslop, son of Mrs. Christine Hyslop of Newtonville, was held at the Newtonville Methodist church Sunday evening. The church was filled. The pastor of the church, Rev. Charles R. Ross, gave a eulogy of both of the deceased soldiers, speaking in high terms of their character and heroism. Rev. Dr. Edgar E. Davidson, the evangelist, spoke of Private Hyslop, whom he had known from early boyhood. Rev. Dr. William Shanklin, president of Wesleyan University, spoke of Corporal Rich, who was a professor of economics at Wesleyan when he enlisted.

A delegation of professors from Wesleyan were present, also members of the faculty of Harvard, where Corporal Rich did post graduate work. Also many alumni of Wesleyan were present. Many men who were associated with Private Hyslop in the service of the city of Newton, were present, he having formerly been in the paymaster's department, including Mayor Childs. Music was appropriate to the occasion. The pastor at the close of the service attached two gold stars to the church honor roll in recognition of the two men. Private Hyslop had been secretary of the Sunday school.

NEWTON MEN WOUNDED

Private Sarekis Margosian, reported last week as severely wounded, is an Armenian who, at the age of 38, emigrated from Newton to fight for his adopted country.

He was first detailed to a machine gun battalion, but afterwards was transferred to the infantry and has served in several units.

He boarded on Jefferson street, Newton, and was employed by M. S. Nakashian of 275 Washington street, who recently received a postcard from Margosian, in which he told of having been over the top and of being in excellent health. This was followed by official notice of his having been wounded.

Word has been received by Mrs. Ellen A. Boughan of 414 Watertown street, Nonantum, that her son, Private Joseph F. Boughan, a member of Company C, 101st Infantry, has been wounded. He is 26 years old.

A telegram was received by Mrs. C. H. Watson of Prospect avenue, Newtonville, Sunday, to the effect that her son, Brigham K. Watson, had been wounded July 9. He had been suffering from shell shock occurring in May. He was offered the chance to go to a rest camp, but he preferred active service, and went back to the front. Later, as shown by letters dated as late as November 5, he has been at a classification camp, working in the supply department of the ordinance. The report just received indicates that something happened to him in July, but what it was no one here knows, though it is evident that he is all right and well at the present time.

Going Ahead Too Fast.

The young detective was enthusiastic but inexperienced. Rushing into his chief's office in great excitement he cried: "I've found the assassin! I've got him cornered so that he can't escape!" The chief regarded him with withering scorn. "Allow me," he said, "to draw your attention to the fact that at present we are looking—not for the assassin, but for clues."—Judge.

Compliment for Kathleen.

Kathleen told some stories to a little niece and nephew. At a family dinner party grandpa referred to these same nursery tales, but not following the exact lines, when Margaret piped up: "No, no, grandpa, that is not the way Kathleen tells the stories and Kathleen is a good knower."

The chairman of the United War Work Campaign for Boys and Girls will receive first payments December 2 at the Technical High School from 1.30 until 3.

THE THIRTEENTH STAR

Have you seen a poster in Needham's window on Washington street made by Miss Helen Strong, and the poster in Mr. George Edmund's window on Walnut street made by Gladys Keesler Vaughn? Notice them! A Colonial Dame, and a Y. M. C. A. Winter Hut for the boys.

"The Thirteenth Star" is a play written around the Betsey Ross flag. Carolina Mason is named the 13th star by her grandmother.

This play will be given under the auspices of the Newtonville Women's Guild at Players Hall, West Newton, the proceeds being given to the Y. M. C. A. War Relief fund.

Mr. Clarke, who sets all the scenery for this play, is doing that work for the boys.

Mrs. Warner Marshall is stage manager assisted by Mrs. Wakefield. Mr. Wakefield is coaching the play.

Monday night, December 2nd, is a special performance for the boys in uniform. The Constabulary will be in attendance at this performance as well as sailors from Commonwealth Pier, and the officers and men in training at the Technical High School.

The Hostesses of the Hostess House under the direction of Mrs. W. O. Hunt will hold an informal reception for the boys, after the play. The Constabulary Band will give a concert during the reception.

Mr. F. E. Mann will be at the piano, and community war songs will be sung between the acts led by a leader of camp songs.

Tickets for this performance are $1.00. Tickets for Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 3rd, are 50 cents. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. H. J. Nichols. Help the Y. M. C. A. in the good work for our boys. All details are in the hands of Mrs. F. E. Mann.

BOSTON ELEVATED RY. CO. 8-CENT FARE

Pursuant to Chapter 159 of the Special Acts of 1918 the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company has determined that the revenue of the company, operating with a seven-cent fare, is insufficient to meet the cost of service as defined by said Act and will put into effect the next grade of fare above seven cents as provided by said Act. Announcement is therefore made that beginning Sunday, Dec. 1, 1918, the rate of fare for a single ride upon the company's lines will be eight cents and the present seven-cent fare discontinued. Tickets will be issued and sold in the same manner as today except for the change in price. The seven-cent tickets may be redeemed at the Treasurer's office or by any ticket seller, or may be tendered as fare with one cent additional for each fare to be paid.

Notice is also given that beginning January 1, 1919, the fare for school children attending schools of a grade not more advanced than high schools will be five cents for a single fare. School tickets will be issued by the company upon conditions to be announced hereafter.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Monday morning the entire school had the rare privilege of hearing Lieutenant Wierzbicki address them. Lieutenant Wierzbicki is a member of the French High Commission sent by France to this country to lecture under the management of the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee. As he is over fifty years old, he was not in the fighting lines during the war, but was attached to one of the English armies as an interpreter.

While not belittling the part America has played in the war, his purpose was to show us how little we have borne in comparison to the other Allies, and to plead that, in view of this, our future share of responsibility and work should be as great and as intelligently sympathetic as possible.

Lieutenant Wierzbicki spoke eloquently and with a gracious charm that won and held his audience.

The Senior class election was held last Wednesday, with Mr. Kidger as inspector and Irving Wiswall as warden. Fred Manter was elected president by a wide margin; Kathryn Gibbons vice-president; Eleanor Barry, secretary; and Edwin Sullivan, treasurer. The most unusual feature of the election was the increased civic consciousness displayed by the class.

Very efficient campaign methods were employed, with the result, at least, of the election of Sullivan on stickers.

This intelligence about election methods and the awakened sense of responsibility of voters to weigh their candidates before casting the ballot, is a step forward.

The Sophomore number of the Dynamite was published Monday. The class may well be proud of it, from every point of view. It shows a marked growth since their Freshman number last year, which was very good. They went to work with so much energy that enough acceptable material was contributed for three issues. From editorials to jokes, the articles were excellent. One poem by Frank Meyers deserves especial mention for its originality and sincerity of feeling. 1921 is to be congratulated upon its personnel.

At the close of the teachers' convention Saturday, Mr. Thurber and Miss Bigelow selected thirty new books, from the two hundred on exhibition, which they thought readable and particularly suited for the library. They are paid for out of funds raised by the Stunt Show and Declamation of last year.

Wood of the Episcopal church will be the speaker and he has chosen for his subject "Adolescent Boyhood." He has made a special study of this subject and comes very gladly to speak to the mothers about it. We hope all our Mothers will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him on Wednesday afternoon.

—Rev. Edward Payson Drew, who has just returned from an eight weeks' pastorate at Ipswich, England, and who was for twelve years pastor of the Pilgrim Church in Worcester, has accepted a call to the Congregational church in Auburndale. Mr. Drew's work in England was very successful, and Auburndale is fortunate indeed in securing the services of so able a man as pastor of one of her churches. Rev. and Mrs. Edward Payson Drew are occupying the parsonage at 89 Grove street.

NOW FISH IN INLAND WATERS

German Submarines Have Driven Hardy Dutch Sailors From Their Occupation in the North Sea.

In this day of the lurking submarine the waters of the North sea are a marked danger zone for the fisherman of the Netherlands, and consequently the rivers and inner seas of Holland are thronged with brown-sailed fishing smacks, all eagerly pursuing the elusive herring, salmon, pike and carp. Until the boat's tanks or barrels are filled the determined fisherman sticks at his job. If a good haul is soon made he may steer the craft up some canal to an inland town to market his catch. He gets out the sign, "Fish for Sale," and fastens it to the mast, draws the boat up to the canal's edge, and is soon besieged by housewives anxious to inspect his wares. The fish, as if conscious of their pending fate, swim uneasily about in the tank, while thrifty Dutch matrons follow certain ones excitedly with a forefinger, and the seller endeavors to locate the desired fish in the swarming tub.

On a summer evening when a fleet of the good ships has made port after a hard day's work, a fishing village is one of the most picturesque sights in Holland. Sails patched or torn and flapping rise and fall in the harbor with the motion of the waves. The brawny Dutch fisherman, revived by supper and the evening pipe, is curing fish and exchanging stories with neighbors on the dock, while his wife sits before her cottage mending nets, or perhaps adorning a torn sail with a vivid red patch.

There is little rest for these hard-working seamen and their wives. Fish have long been to Holland what rice is to China or the potato to America. With its food supply ebbing dangerously low, Holland looks more than ever to her fisher folk to feed the people.

NEWSBOYS ON BATTLE FRONT

Belgian and French Youngsters Take Great Risks While Distributing Papers to the Soldiers.

During the first days of the war British soldiers going up to Mons from Boulogne were hailed by an ancient French maid with her only British phrase, "Da-ly Ma-i-l." She did her best. Since those far-off days "Da-ly Ma-i-l" has been called by the little Belgian and French boys and girls all along the line from Dunkirk to Belfort. Many a risk has been run to buy and sell the news of yesterday. One great load of copies of the London Daily Mail arrived at a distributing center by train just as the advancing wave of Germans threatened to pour over the line.

Prompt to the occasion the parcels were seized by the soldiers and thrown into the gap. Surely no newspaper parcels ever had a stranger fate than to be used, fresh from the press and unread, as sandbags for trenches and a shelter against a whining scurry of machine-gun bullets. Back in Paris an anxious publisher and thoughtful cashier wondered in what category of "unsold copies" the wagon load should be put.

Three times the Daily Mail has heard through advanced line distributing agents of paper sellers shot by snipers' bullets while making their way along the trenches.

Two Brave Seamen Commended.
Two men of the United States navy have recently been commended for risking their lives to save shipmates. Turner S. Lux, boatswain's mate, national naval volunteers, saved a painter who fell overboard from the United States Steamer Houston. A life belt had been thrown to the man, but he failed to grasp it and was going down for the second time when Lux came to his rescue. Lux gave as his nearest kin G. H. Lux, 1827 Valencia street, Birmingham, Ala. A similar service was performed by Chief Boatswain John M. Penix, whose mother, Mrs. Mary Stout, lives in Kingston, Ala.

First Drink Merely a Sample.
It was a hot day, and two sailors had just been released from a long spell of duty on a mine-sweeper. They made a bee-line for the first public-house they saw, and one of them ordered two quarts of ale. The men emptied their mugs in one draught while the barmaid looked on in undisguised admiration. The man who had paid stood for a second or two wiping his lips meditatively, and then turned to his comrade with a grin.

"Tain't so bad, Bill, is it?" he remarked. "Shall we 'ave some?"—London Tit-Bits.

He Ordered Pie.
My brother was telling me of a number of humorous incidents which took place at camp. This one cost the victim, a young rookie, a week end's visit to the guardhouse. He had been made believe by a few fellows who were in for some sport that if he wanted pie all he had to do was order it. When meal time came around the rookie ordered pie. Of course he didn't get it, so he raised a rumpus. After a few moments his commanding officer was heard to say, "You're in the army now. Perhaps you had better show you the guardhouse first."—Chicago Tribune.

Inconsistent.
Doctor—Well, now remember what I said. Just take your wife and start on a vacation.
Patient—But, doctor, you spoke of rest.—Boston Transcript.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Next week has been appointed by the United States Food Administration as "Conservation Week." Women's organizations are asked to observe Wednesday, December 4, as "Woman's Day," while Sunday is to be observed by the churches, and Friday by the schools. A definite program has been suggested for the use of organizations, opening with "America," followed by the reading of extracts from President Wilson's Peace Address to Congress, and Mr. Hoover's last message to America before sailing for Europe, and closing with the adoption of a pledge to use only such food as is absolutely necessary and to do it in the same spirit as the boys sacrificed themselves "over there."

Copies of Mr. Hoover's message and of the new Home Card will be distributed to all who attend the Monthly Conference of the Women's Committee, Council of National Defense, in the East Wing Auditorium of the State House on Monday, December 2, at 2.30. The latest word from Washington will be given, as well as reports of various activities, including a survey of the day nursery situation in Boston as revealed by an investigation made by the department of Women in Industry of the Council. These meetings are open to all who may be interested.

With the announcement that there is plenty of wheat available and that sugar is gradually becoming more abundant some people consider that we need save no longer. But this is not the fact, for while some 12,000,000 tons of food were saved last year, it is going to be necessary to save 20,000,000 tons this coming year in order to feed the starving millions across the sea. It is easy to see that the program means saving all along the line, not of now this and now that, but of everything. The price of meat will deter most people from using that lavishly, but fats including pork products, animal and vegetable oils, butter and other dairy products, must be saved rigorously. All cereal products, meaning flour and breakfast foods, must also be used just as sparingly as possible. Potatoes cannot be shipped, and as they contain requisite starch, it is possible to substitute them for bread and other cereals. The point is, save to the limit.

Local Announcements

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. William E. Moore of 55 Hillside road, will entertain the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands meets with Mrs. F. E. Foster, 1058 Walnut street on December 2.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. William T. Logan is hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The monthly meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club will be held on Monday afternoon.

At the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon next Mrs. Mabel A. Crawford will give a talk on Current Events.

Mrs. Isabella Taylor, dramatic interpreter, and Miss Kathryn Perkins, harpist, will furnish the program for the meeting of the Brightelmstone Club next Monday.

The annual dramatic performance of the Newtonville Woman's Guild will be given at Players' Hall, West Newton, on Monday evening, Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday evening, the play chosen being, "The Thirtieth Star." The proceeds will be used for the Y. M. C. A. War Relief Work. Monday night is known as "Constabulary Night" and boys in uniform will be the guests of the Guild, including some 50 sailors from Commonwealth Pier, as well as the officers and boys in the training camp at the Technical High School. On Tuesday afternoon the performance takes the place of the regular meeting of the Guild. Tickets may be purchased by all club women of Newton. Those familiar with the dramatic ability of the Guild know that a treat is in store for all who attend.

On Tuesday, December 3, at 2.30, the Auburndale Woman's Club will meet in the Congregational chapel. Mrs. J. Harry Poole, fourth vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak upon "Current Events." The Glee Club will sing "Victory Songs."

Tickets for the club's Guest Night on January 1 may now be obtained from Mrs. C. A. J. Smith, corner Central street and Woodland road or at Miss Donovan's store. Club membership tickets do not admit to the Guest Night, but must be presented when obtaining other tickets. Each club member is limited to one guest ticket until December 21, after which there will be no limit. The program will consist of interpretative songs and dances of the six Allied Nations, under the direction of Mrs. C. A. J. Smith. Mrs. W. J. Spaulding and Miss Ruth Allen. After the entertainment there will be refreshments and dancing from ten to twelve.

The meeting of the Social Science Club will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building next Wednesday morning.

Local Happenings

At the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club held at the home of Mrs. F. P. Davidson on Tuesday morning, "Poland" was the subject of study. Mrs. C. E. Valentine gave a historical sketch of the country, speaking also of some of the customs. A resume of "Thaddeus of Warsaw," prepared by Mrs. J. Scott Ryder, was read by Miss Elizabeth Ryder. Mrs. Nelson Freeman and Mrs. Leland rendered as a piano duet, "The Polish Dance." Mrs. W. D. MacLane presented a paper on the "Art, Literature and Music of Poland," and read a short story by the author of "Quo Vadis," entitled "Life and Death."

"Russia of Today" was the timely topic of the lecture given by Mr. Morris Gershon Hindus at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands on November 26. The lecturer was born in Russia and came to this country at the age of fourteen and received his subsequent education in the public schools of New York, at Colgate University and at Harvard.

Russia, he said, is a much misunderstood country. The population includes 120,000,000 peasants. While they are ignorant, they are not stupid. His description of the peasant village, so different from thrifty New England, threw a flood of light on the problems yet to be solved in that country. The mode of life as illustrated by the description of the peasant homes, containing three rooms, one of which is devoted to the treasures of the family, a second for holding the agricultural implements, and the third, the living room, where together with the family the hens, the sheep, and often in cold weather, the stock from the farm seek shelter. We are paralyzed by an epidemic once or twice in a generation. In Russia it is not uncommon to have them five or six times in a single winter, so unsanitary are the living conditions.

Hunger for land has been the characteristic of the peasants for generations, and this fact has had much to do with the present conditions growing out of the revolution. Kerensky failed to bring order in that he tried to do it through a thoroughly organized plan. The Bolsheviks, on the other hand, have attempted to conciliate the peasants by giving them the land and murdering the landowners when necessary. They have used similar methods with labor and with the military. The Russians abhor war and simply won't fight. From this fact the Bolsheviks were able to quell the people by making the ignominious peace with Germany. We of this country, he said, should recognize that the Bolsheviks, whatever we may think of them and their methods, have the only stable government in Russia today. We must have patience with the Russian people, and let them work out their difficulties themselves. They will do it, if only they are given a chance. The present conditions are only the result of three hundred years of autocratic misrule.

Before the lecture Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee gave a report of the State Federation meeting, and Mrs. J. Weston Allen made a plea for the support of the Jewett Players.

In view of the fact that some slight difficulties have been experienced in returning to rightful owners, articles so kindly loaned, it is imperative that anyone not having received their articles should notify the committee at once.

The hospital is now closed, and the committee must know immediately in order to make final adjustments.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Cookery consists of the knowledge of the mutual influences of ingredients and the judicious management of heat.

WAR DISHES.

A most appetizing way to use left-over fish is to carefully remove the skin and bones, keeping the fish as unbroken as possible and arrange it in a baking dish. Cover with a sprinkling of bread crumbs, and if the fish is not rich, a little sweet fat in bits. Pour over sufficient cream or rich milk to moisten well and bake until the buttered crumbs on top are well browned. Serve from the baking dish.

French Baked Fish.—Stuff the fish with plain bread dressing, seasoned well with salt and pepper. If there is any left arrange it around the fish. Pour over the fish a can of tomatoes, add a finely minced clove of garlic, add butter, salt and pepper, with a dash of cayenne. Bake until tender.

Holland Rabbit.—Prepare the rabbit for roasting and put an onion inside; place it in a baking pan and pour over it a cupful of boiling water. Cover with another pan and steam one hour. Remove the cover and baste with the following mixture: A cupful of jelly (currant is best), a half cupful of mild vinegar and a tablespoonful of fat, mixed with a teaspoonful of prepared mustard. Serve with baked onions and brown gravy.

Minced Chicken With Green Peppers.—Cover green peppers with boiling water and cook ten minutes; drain, remove the seeds and cut in narrow strips, using a pair of scissors. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one and a half tablespoonfuls of flour, stir until well blended, then pour on two-thirds of a cupful of liquor in which the chicken was cooked. Bring to a boiling point, add a cupful of diced chicken and the peppers; again boil and serve on pieces of toast.

Chicken Victoria.—Cream two tablespoonfuls of chicken fat with three hard-cooked egg yolks, add a fourth of a cupful of cracker or bread crumbs soaked in a fourth of a cupful of milk fifteen minutes. Pour on gradually one cupful of hot chicken stock and when boiling add a cupful of chicken cut in small bits.

BOTTLED HEALTH

Nobscot Spring Water is so pure and soft that to drink it is like drinking bottled health.

Analysis shows residue on evaporation only 3.8 parts per 100,000, and rating for hardness only 1.7 parts per 100,000.

That's why Nobscot means better digestion, less rheumatism, for those who drink it.

Some Eminent Prosaic Proposals of Marriage.

Hardly as Picturesque as the Stilted Forms So Popular With Lovers in the Pages of Fiction, but Meant the Same Thing.

Perhaps the romantic proposals of fiction are more picturesque than the usual proposals of real life; the fact that lovers are reluctant witnesses make it hard to tell. But certainly the queer or comic proposals and attempted proposals of fiction cannot be any queerer than some of those recorded in actual chronicle of countryside tradition.

Mr. Howells in his reminiscences gives an amusing middle West example of a country bachelor who belatedly made up his mind to marry, and in his default of female acquaintance took his place on the top rail of a roadside fence and called to the first woman who passed: "Say! You a married woman?"

"And then at the frightened answer indignantly gasped out, 'Yes, sir!' he offered a mere 'Oh!' for an apology and explanation, and let himself vanish by falling into the cornfield behind him."

Almost equally contemptuous of finesse was a New England bachelor in middle life who had lived contentedly on his farm under the able administration of an aunt only a year or two older than himself. His next-door neighbor, and the owner of a small but cozy farmstead, was a competent and contented spinster, in whom Enos had displayed less than the ordinary neighborly interest. But one day he halted her over the dividing fence: "Hi, Selma!"

Selma did not immediately understand that she was being addressed, and so Enos leaned across the fence and continued shouting: "Hi! Hi! Hi!" until he attracted her attention.

"Well, Enos, what is it?" she inquired, turning.

Enos allowed her to walk close to the fence before he replied.

"Aunt Jane's going to get married, so I guess I better, too. What d'ye think about it, Selma?"

"I think ye better, Enos."

"Then if ye'll have me, guess I better marry you, Selma."

"Ef I will, Enos, I guess ye better."

"Will ye, Selma?"

"I won't Enos."

"Shucks, Selma, ye better."

"That's your say-so, Enos. My idee is, I bettern't."

Certainly, whether she would have bettered herself or otherwise, she did not marry Enos, and he remained a bachelor.

Even less of grace and glamor attended the courtship of a prosaic youth by the name of Joseph and his sweetheart—if that term is not too poetic—the excellent and practical Susannah. Coming up her father's farm lane, Joseph perceived her crossing it at the far end with a bucket of pig wash, and called to her to wait for him.

"Can't stop, Joe, the pigs are waiting!" she shouted back.

"Test a minute, Sue! I got something to say to ye!" yelled Joe.

"Ye can say it after I've fed the pigs!" shrieked Susannah.

Joe broke into a run. As he approached her, where she had paused reluctantly to await him, he panted indignantly, "Ye got to let the darn critters wait for once, Sue! Hang it, I want to propose!"

"Come along and propose, then," responded Susannah with sweet encouragement. "Ye kin do it while we feed the pigs, can't ye, Joe?"

Joe could and did; Susannah accepted him; the pigs were fed. Whether or no the match was made in heaven, it proved as happy as if its atmosphere of early bliss on earth had not been mingled with the aroma of the piggery.—Years of My Youth.

A Sidelight.

I've talked with some of the infantry coming down here and they have wonderful tales to tell. The French are wildly enthusiastic over the Americans—one French regiment passed me going into action waving the American flag.

Some time when I have time I'll sit down and analyze the sensations; they're indelible—it's a sort of high excitement that makes anything possible. It's taken at least three hits to stop any of our men. Generally they keep on going, nevertheless, until they can't go any farther—then shoot from where they are until they're picked off or the advance goes too far ahead, and the litter bearers get them and bring them in.—From Letter of an American Artillery Lieutenant, printed in Collier's Weekly.

So He Passed.

From France comes the following little story of the irrepressible spirits of the Australian fighting men:

Among the wounded brought into the ward was a young Biljium whom we knew at once was soon going west. He was quite conscious, and an Australian sister set herself to make his last few hours on this planet as comfortable as possible. He wanted to be wrapped up with pillows, and to do this the nurse said: "Put your arms around my shoulders so that I can raise you gently." "You bet your life, sister," whispered the irrepressible lad with a smile; "it's a long, long time since I had my arms around a dinkum Aussie girl." And then he ended his great crusade.

ECONOMICS AND WAR

Men's Club of Central Church Hear Interesting Addresses

The Men's Club of the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, listened to interesting addresses Thursday night by Robert Lincoln O'Brien, managing editor of the Boston Herald, and Maj. Louis E. Moore of Newtonville, of the Engineers' Corps, who has just returned from France.

Mr. O'Brien spoke of the great contrast between this war and previous wars in that this is the first in which the resources of modern science and mechanical development had been used to any large extent, comparing it with the American Civil War, though that was a struggle of the most vital historic importance, yet any such force as was manifested by the Southern Confederacy would today be an insignificant power in modern warfare.

Mr. O'Brien spoke of the small size of our losses as compared with those of England and France, and went on to discuss reconstruction problems. He felt that the high level of wages constitutes a very serious situation, as in many lines they had reached a point where they must check the consumption of the product.

He was a good deal puzzled as to how the thing would work out. When the manufacturer asks the workman to accept less wages, the latter can very justly reply that the price of the things he has to buy has not gone down.

He felt that the level of wages must to some extent be governed by the rates prevailing in Europe, as the level could not be maintained artificially very far above that prevailing elsewhere.

He also took up the questions of debt and taxation, and answered a number of questions from the audience, which passed a rising vote of thanks in recognition of his lecture. Major Moore gave many incidents illustrative of French ways of life, and particularly the lack of modern conveniences in their homes. He believed that Newtonville alone would contain more bathrooms than all the towns in France the size of Newtonville or less. He had been over a considerable part of the battle front along the Marne and he believed that much of the success of the American soldier was due to his skill in using the rifle. The French and English did not aim their rifles much, and might shoot with them resting against their hips. It was a tremendous surprise to the Boches when they came out a good many hundreds of yards away, and were picked off by our riflemen. Major Moore spoke of the achievement of the United States Marines in capturing Belleau wood. He could not have supposed it possible for them to cross the long and fairly steep slope in the face of many nests of machine guns, and come out with enough men alive to rush the gunners in their shelters. He described the experiences of the French and Americans in dodging the bombs dropped by aircraft, and gave many other interesting incidents.

Rev. D. Brewer Eddy led the meeting in singing a number of war songs. The president, H. P. Patey, was in the chair.

MILITARY TRAINING

An interesting feature of the situation involved under the present conditions of armistice is the presence of our State troops which have been organized and trained during the war. Massachusetts as usual showed herself one of the leading military states in her promptness in organizing a military force to replace the last of her volunteer militia induced into the Federal service. Some other states not so fortunate in their preparation suffered seriously in the absence of armed troops, not realizing that the presence of vast numbers of Federal troops in the country did not mean safety within the state in case of disorder.

While the United States happily is threatened with no such dread outbreak of anarchistic factions as European countries have been, nevertheless it is with some satisfaction that we can look to the State Guard, with its nearly two years of conscientious training, in case we should suffer locally from some sporadic outbreak which might threaten our peace.

The return of our Massachusetts soldiers from the Federal service may be slow and interrupted. Many of the men who have done duty over seas can not be expected to give further service. Those who have not done their part or their full part should cheerfully assume this duty, not only as a patriotic measure of present practical need but as a subscription to a principle. The advantages of military training for both the older men and those whom we once called boys have been too conspicuously proved to need any argument. The history of the present epoch has been distinctly military. Its traditions, modes and customs are military and will so continue for some time.

We do not believe that every man should attempt military service but we do believe that every man who, without sacrificing his economic value to the community, can render this service, should maintain our newly adopted tradition of universal military training by buying any military equipment to identify himself with it as closely as possible.

We have made inquiry as to the opportunities open in the Massachusetts State Guard for the continuance of military training. In many cities in our State there is immediate opportunity for enlistment in the State Guard. Locally we have only one authorized company and its ranks have always been substantially filled with frequent waiting lists. The enthusiasm and willingness of our Newton Company however has never been confined to the sole training of its own ranks. An opportunity is and will be offered for the training of those who desire to serve.

NINETY YEARS YOUNG

Charles Hubbard Johnson, whose home is at 84 Grove street, Auburn-dale, was ninety years old last Saturday, and his anniversary found Mr. Johnson in excellent health and unusually active for one of this advanced age. He has been in the employ of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company for more than sixty-five consecutive years, an exceptional record of business service, and he is still with the company, for which he is cashier. He is relieved of the more arduous duties of that office by younger men, but still remains at the helm in that position.

He entered the company's employ on January 17, 1853, when the offices were in Washington street on the site of the present building of the Boston Globe. In honor of his anniversary a reception was held at his home from four until five o'clock, and again from seven until eight in the evening, and he welcomed informally numerous friends and also associates in the business with which he has been so long connected. Mr. Johnson's one regret, at the age of four-score-years-and-ten, is that he is not able to take the long walks he formerly enjoyed. He has been in the past a great pedestrian and also a mountain climber. For years he has visited the White Mountains, and spent the past month of September there, but unlike previous visits, he did no mountain climbing. A year ago, when he was eighty-nine, he climbed Mt. Kearsarge, while on his annual visit to New Hampshire.

SHUBERT-PLYMOUTH THEATRE—Those who read Peter B. Kyne's popular series of "Cappy Ricks" stories that were appearing recently in the Saturday Evening Post will well understand what wonderful fun-making opportunities they offered Edward E. Rose in his dramatization of "Cappy Ricks," which Oliver Morosco will offer for a limited engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, beginning next Monday night (December 2). To those who did not read "Cappy Ricks" there is in store a genuine laughing treat, for no more amusing set of characters, incidents and situations have found their way to the pages of fiction and been brought to life on the stage than those created by Mr. Kyne.

"Cappy Ricks" is the story of the San Francisco waterfront, and has to do principally with the business and domestic difficulties of Alden P. Ricks, called "Cappy" by his friends. The engagement of "Cappy Ricks" at the Plymouth will be for three weeks only, owing to a previous contract signed for the opening of "Lombardi, Ltd.," at this house on Monday, December 23.

COPLEY THEATRE—The popularity of "Hindle Wakes," as acted by the Henry Jewett Players at the Copley Theatre, is so great that it will be continued for a third week beginning next Monday. It is a three-act drama of stirring events that take place among the people of an English factory town. Its author is Stanley Houghton, one of the famous Manchester school of English dramatists who in recent years have made some valuable contributions to the English drama, and whose work has become widely known in this country. "Hindle Wakes" has been acclaimed from every standpoint as a wholly sterling and sincere drama of actual and unusual conditions. As the Copley Theatre, "Hindle Wakes" is staged under Henry Jewett's personal direction.

N. H. S.

Mr. Dickinson has challenged both Medford and Commerce and been refused by both. Both of these teams also declined to play Newton at the beginning of the season saying their prospects were too uncertain. Newton was admittedly very bad in the first game but has improved greatly and without doubt would give either team a good battle. It is very probable that a game will be arranged with either Somerville or Marblehead High for Saturday, December 7.

Newton High is unusually fortunate in obtaining such fine speakers for the morning assemblies. Monday morning Lieut. Vincent Wierzbicki who has spent four years in the French army gave a very inspiring address to the students. He said in brief that the Allies should wait until they have some definite assurance of repatriation from Germany before they respect to any degree the nation which is not yet sorry for the destruction she has caused but only sorry she couldn't have done it more efficiently. The lieutenant then told an interesting fact about the Marseillaise saying that it received its name because it was first sung by a group of soldiers from Marseilles during the war of 1870. This it was written in Strasbourg and truly should have been named from that city. In closing he said he would rather live a few hours in these times than whole centuries at any other time in the world's history.

We heard that Cambridge was to have a large crowd on hand for last Thursday's game but the few who actually showed up looked very cold and were very huddled in the center of the grandstand, watching Newton making touchdowns. The final score was 39 to 0. Pinkham showed that he is one of the best school backs of this year, by his hard tackling, line plunging, and especially by his long accurate punts. Gullion blocked two punts and fell on one for a touchdown.

Interclass basketball will begin on Monday and practice will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday. It is probable that Newton will have a team which will play Allen School and Watertown High.

All those who subscribed to the United War Charities Fund should make payments to the chairman of the village in which they live.

Wednesday morning the Rev. A. T. Smart of Newton Highlands addressed the school. His subject was the results of victory. He thought the three most prominent results were: the disappearance from the earth of the last trace of autocracy; the disappearance of the sword as a means of forming nations; and the emergence of universal ideals and desire to form a league of nations to preserve universal peace.

Last year's seniors who are at M. I. T. are Edwin Allen, James Munro, Henry Brewer, John Plimpton, Bruce Stewart, Flint Taylor, Edwin Ferkles, Harold Secord, Fred Ranlett, Leonard Thomas, and Austin Cooper. Two recent visitors at school were Sidney Andrews and Allen Davidson, both of whom are at Amherst College.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Welfare Bureau, Inc., will be held on Friday, December 6, 1918, at 8 P. M. in the Newton Club, Walnut Street, Newtonville. Mr. Robert J. Fuller, Supervisor of Advise and Training of the Federal Board of Vocational Education, will speak on The Work of Rehabilitation of Disabled Soldiers. After the address there will be an opportunity to meet Miss Sara E. Coates, the new General Secretary of the Newton welfare Bureau.

DEFEATED BOSTON COLLEGE HIGH

Newton High school defeated Boston College High at Claffen Field on Thanksgiving morning, 20 to 0. A big crowd gathered, and automobiles lined both sides of the street for a long distance. The field was very heavy, causing the teams to slow up a good deal.

THE SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

Since April the Special Aid has received $6500 from the Newton Corner War Work Fund, and it is due those who have so generously contributed to know how it has been spent.

The Work Committee has spent about $5000 for wool and materials for sewing. A large part of the knitted articles has been sent to the U. S. Transport Agency, the list of articles needed having been given the committee in May. 68 long-sleeved, high-necked sweaters, 450 pairs gauntlet gloves, and 1000 pairs of socks have been sent. The average cost of gloves and socks is 75 cents, and the sweaters between $3 and $4, making the outfit cost about $1400.

Work for the aviators has gone steadily on, outfits having been sent to headquarters to be distributed to men going overseas each week. Between 60 or 70 of these outfits costing about $6 each have been made. A coast patrol boat with a crew of 11 has been outfitted with such sweaters, socks, helmets and kits as they needed. A U. S. transport barge with crew of eight also was provided with warm clothing. An order for 50 pairs of socks from overseas was filled. In various other directions have gone 900 pairs of socks, 200 sleeveless sweaters which cost about $2 each, and 500 miscellaneous pieces of knitting, 500 socks for coast patrol boats, and men leaving hospitals, and 30 long-sleeved sweaters for sailors' and aviators. With 300 pounds of wool and knitters ever ready to serve, the work must go steadily on that we may be ready to answer the calls that come.

The sewing room has also done a large amount of work. The navy ward of the Newton Hospital was supplied with pajamas and night shirts, six dozen each. Emergency calls during the epidemic were answered. Altogether over 300 pairs of pajamas at $1.50 each have been distributed, part of them going to the Navy Hospital of the First District and Italian relief. 472 refugee garments, costing $400 were made for the Red Cross. Over 200 night shirts and 1000 other articles, such as bandages, kits and bags have been sent where needed. 50 aviators' kits have been sent to Lieut. Estey for the 5th aero squadron, at $2.50 each, and 50 Christmas bags at $1 each to Italy.

100 bathrobes are about ready for Wendell House, the Special Aid Service House for enlisted men. During the summer the Canteen and Conservation committees gave much help in Nonantum.

A canning class for Bigelow school children was carried on at the Stearns school. Window exhibits to show the use of milk, sugar substitutes, dairy products, cold pack method of packing in Nonantum Square. A skimming station was established at Nonantum, and assistance was given wherever needed.

The call from Nonantum, when the epidemic was raging, was answered, and an emergency canteen to feed the sick and their families was organized at once. The kitchen at the Stearns school was again used. Soup, gruel, bread and butter, and cocoa were carried to the homes of the sick by means of a Red Cross truck. Under the direction of the Board of Health a general cleaning up campaign was carried on, many of the women of the Special Aid as volunteers. Over 104 families were visited and 153 calls made. 59 families, with a daily average of 25 families, were served with food.

The society is very grateful to all those who have so generously given their time or money that every call might be answered, for the Special Aid aims to give quick help wherever it is most needed.

Stick to Your Post!

The New England Division of the American Red Cross and its Chapters, since the official announcement on November 11, that Germany had signed the terms of armistice presented by the Allies, and hostilities had ceased, have received hundreds of inquiries asking whether the Red Cross will now end its vast activities, and ask its thousands of faithful workers, men and women, to disperse. The war has left problems as great and as important as the emergency problems created by the war. No one government, no single organization alone can solve them. The sudden dawn of peace brings the need of immediate action to relieve the unimaginable suffering born of the war. Having met the emergencies of world-conflict in a way of which it may justly be proud, the American Red Cross will not abandon the greater opportunities of rehabilitation and permanent world-peace, and the New England Division, through its members and workers, expects to assume its share of the tasks at hand.

Every form of Red Cross activity, with one exception, must be continued indefinitely, and much of the work must be increased. The exception is the surgical dressings work. This must cease at once as supplies adequate to meet any demand are available. But the surgical dressings organization is not to be abandoned. The women who have so splendidly met every demand of our medical service for dressings of all kinds are needed immediately in other departments.

Let it be clearly understood by every member and every worker in the New England Division that their support and their services are needed now more than ever before. Let every worker remain at his post of duty. The tasks of rehabilitation and peace may lack the drama and excitement of war emergency, but they are as vital to the well-being of the world and carry with them the satisfying thought that they are constructive and of lasting value.

At this time, the words with which Abraham Lincoln closed his Second Inaugural come to us with the sound of prophecy: "With malice toward none, with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the Nation's wounds; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

I cannot help feeling that the tremendous responsibility of binding up the wounds of our nation and our allied nations after this war will fall largely on the American Red Cross, which must dedicate itself to the great task with the same high spirit and energy that has characterized all of its work in this war.

We have attained our objects by unity of spirit—by a splendid cooperation—and in just that spirit of cooperation we must face the problems of the future.

Monuments and Memorial Tablets OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

WITHIN recent years the general public has given more attention to the merits of Memorial Art. Those appreciative of designs carefully executed with a view to simplicity and dignity will find that we have achieved these standards of excellence with a staff of craftsmen trained by ourselves.

PATRONS desiring pieces for delivery in the Spring will find it a distinct advantage to confer with us at once as to designs and necessary arrangements.
